CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire. The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every perfo mance. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome plea ure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,
Industrial Commissioner,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The third week of August is quite as likely to prove a dull week as any in the year. This week has been no exception to the rule, and no surprise need be manifested when it is stated that the bank clearings have shown a sharp decline as compared with last week and that other indications point to a considerable falling-off in the volume of business. No doubt the long continued Homestead strike and the labor difficulties in Tennessee and at Buffalo have had much to do with depressing activity on the exchanges, but considering the time of year and the unfavorable condition referred to, the general situation is, on the whole, encouraging. At New York and Philadelphia there is an apparent improvement. At Boston, Chicago and St. Louis the contrary is seen.

An evident feature of the present situation is the strong tendency everywhere manifested to retrench in the face of apparent prosperity. Industrial companies are curtailing their expenses as much as possible, and in some instances are going to the extent of reducing the wages of their employes. They give as a reason for such retrenchment that their earnings have fallen off. In some instances this is due to a lack of business; but in most cases it is the result of a heavy decline in prices. A reduction of dividends has of late been announced in some of the many industrial stocks with which the exchanges are flooded.

Speaking of stocks, the heavy selling of Americans in London still continues, and appears to be a movement from the top down. That is, the European holders of our securities are selling their best stocks and keeping the poor ones. The reason for this is that they can readily obtain good prices for the better securities but find it more difficult to realize on the poorer. We have already pointed out that with the balance of trade so largely in our favor this movement cannot last long, and that if our own investors can hold out long enough the American stocks now so freely sold in European exchanges sooner or later will be bought back by foreign holders at higher prices. It is probable that news of the strikes and similar discouraging information from this country has a much more potent influence on prices in Europe than here. In course of time it will be seen there as here that these disturbances are only temporary and that the general course of our industrial movements is upward. Such an experience can have no other effect than to strengthen our securities abroad.

Present prospects point to increased activity and high prices in railroad securities in the near future. The large crops will benefit the railroads quite as much as the farmer, and the result will be a handsome advance in earnings all along the line. Indeed the indications are of a bull movement in every kind of railroad stocks from street railways to trunk lines. It is becoming more and more evident that as the business of the country increases the railroad industry becomes more profitable. The needs of the country in the way of transportation are rapidly outgrowing the over-supply which the disastrous policy of paralleling furnished a few years ago, and unless this folly is again indulged in the railroad business of the country can be maintained on the upturn from this time on.

With another year of immense crops the continuance of a great export trade is assured. Heretofore the demand for our wheat has been confined mainly to European countries, but now comes a call for wheat from South America. The hindrance to trade in that direction heretofore has been lack of cheap transportation facilities. That these will come in time is certain, and the entire continent of South America will then be an open market for our wheat. Our export trade is thus certainly not to the wane. Viewed in the light of trade balance large exports mean national prosperity, which seems to be assured for the present at least.

A continuance of prosperous conditions is likely to lead to a strong temptation to float undesirable securities especially of the industrial class. An error of this kind is sure to be proved costly in the long run, as is now apparent by the example of English financiers, who by floating all kinds of securities, good, bad and indifferent, have so lost the confidence of the general investing public that stock investment in London is practically at a standstill.

Chicago is made conspicuous among the list of cities this week by an increase of 18.8 per cent in the volume of her bank clearings over those of the corresponding week last year. This is nearly three points better than the increase last week, though the total volume of clearings is less. The encouraging feature about the Chicago clearings is that whatever may be the course of other cities Chicago's increase keeps right on. Other financial centres may or may not give spasmodic returns, but Chicago invariably comes to the front with a handsome increase each week. Eastern critics who are amazed at the way in which the volume of clearings has grown, explain the phenomenon by referring to the city's wonderful advance and the natural increase in building operations and business of all kinds. The fact is that the increase in bank clearing's totals is constant and is as rapid now as at any previous time in the history of the city.

The largest city to show a decrease is San Francisco, which has fallen off 11 per cent. Note that Salt Lake City and Los Angeles likewise decrease and that both these cities as well as San Francisco are in the Far-western group. Duluth continues to send in decreasing returns, as do New Orleans, Nashville, Norfolk and Galveston of the Southern and Southwestern groups. The other decreases are scattering and unimportant. It is gratifying to note that of the Sixty-five cities reporting in the United States only ten show decreasing returns. The total, excluding New York, shows an increase of 11.4 per cent. The Canadian returns continue to show the marked contrast between the seaboard and interior movements of trade. A decrease of 3.1 per cent is indicated at Halifax, while Montreal and Toronto return increases of 28.7 and 34.8 per cent respectively.

The large increase outside of New York City has a significance which is not readily seen on the surface. It means that the financial activity throughout the country is largely commercial instead of speculative. Ordinarily the bank clearings are increased or decreased according as stock speculation is active or otherwise. At the present time and for months past stock transactions have been almost at a standstill, yet in spite of this stagnation of speculative interest we see the clearing-house returns constantly increasing at a rate which would indicate a remarkable activity somewhere. Surely this activity is not in Wall street or any other investment centre. Reports from all the exchanges of the world indicate that speculation, except in local securities, is about as dead as it well can be. But in general trade and manufacturing the activity is so great as to more than counterbalance the loss by lack of speculative interest. This is seen from the fact that the increase in the clearings totals outside of New York City averages about ten per cent each week. The banking centres outside of New York are not speculative points but are distinctively commmercial and manufacturing centres This increase in their clearings, therefore, represents a corresponding increase in manufacturing and commercial activity. This is a more remarkable feature of the business situation than the mere increase itself.

Another indication of the same relative advance in commercial activity is the weekly statement of business failures. For months the reports have shown a falling-off in the total number of failures as compared with the total for the corresponding weeks last year. Last week is a good example. The total number of failures for the United States and Canada was 189 as compared with 227 in the corresponding week last year. This is a very definite indication of improved conditions of trade and commerce throughout the country.

Continuing our analysis for the same weeks, but by groups of states, we have.

EVIDENCES OF OUR PROSPERITY.

The demand of the hour is not so much for money as for men. The banks are said to be overflowing with money, and the harvest fields are ripe with grain, but there is a serious scarcity of hands to gather the harvest. One thousand farm hands are needed in Dakota at once. The same is true of several other western states. Crowds of workmen walk the city streets in idleness while the country is deserted. The banks stand ready to furnish all the money needed for gathering and storing the crops at the lowest rates of interest ever known. Meanwhile it is evident that for the lack of men and not money a portion at least of the immense crops now standing will be allowed to go to waste. Yet we continue to hear complaints from professional calamity-howlers about the deplorable condition of the working man.

The evidences of general financial prosperity in the United States were never more numerous than they are now. The money market continues to be easy. Interest rates are low and are tending lower. The New York banks report $233.6 millions of country bank deposits against $167.3 millions in July, 1891, and $152.8 millions in December, 1890. They hold $75 8 millions of specie against $55.5 millions a year ago, and their total cash reserves are $125 millions against $99 millions. Their circulation has increased from $3,824,880 in July, 1891, to $5,651,130 at present. The general aspect of the whole situation indicates that the West is stronger and its resources greater, so that its dependence on New York is less than formerly for the marketing of the crops. At the same time the accumulation of the eash reserves and of lending power is increasing in New York and other central cities, so that the safeguards against monetary stringency are greater than ever before, and the prospects of ease in the mercantile aspects of the loan market are growing more encouraging and favorable to the business outlook.

True, there has been some stringency in the South and Farwest caused by temporary stagnation in certain staple lines of trade, but the events of the past few weeks show that the worst in these localities is past and that with the successful harvesting of the present crop there will be such a volume of currency in circulation as to give an added impetus to trade in every village and hamlet in the country. Even now the bank clearings show that the business of the country is increasing at the rate of over ten per cent per annum—an astonishing increase viewed in the light of contrast with other countries.

If any confirmation of the general prosperity were needed it is to be found in the reports of railroad earnings for the past year. The gross earnings increased $47,381,899 for 167,969 miles of road reporting in this fiscal year. For the whole of the United States the construction increased 4,471 miles, and complete a total network of 170,601 miles for January 1, 1892. The aggregate capital, includiug stocks, bonds, and floating debt for that date was $10,389,834,228, and records an increase of $267,198,328 during the twelve months. The net earnings were $356,209,880, or 3.1 per cent on the immense capital invested in our railroad system. The actual payments for interest averaged 4 25 per cent on the bonds against 4.27 per cent in the previous year and 4.40 in 1889. The dividends on the share capital averaged 1.85 per cent in 1891, 1.80 in 1890 and 1.81 for the preceding year.

Cable advices state that the movement in favor of a gold standard in India is spreading. Petitions are received daily from officials in all parts of India in favor of a gold standard. Nearly all the officials in India are paid in silver, and the decline in the value of that metal has caused a corresponding decrease in the purchasing power of silver money.

TRUE FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Much has been written and said about the free coinage of silver, and it is probable that the present agitation in that direction will result in some definite measures by the next congress. It may not be amiss then to discuss the subject from the practical business standpoint of policy rather than politics. In its present status our currency rests on a gold basis with the addition of a large volume of silver and greenbacks, the former being represented by paper currency known as silver certificates. These silver certificates have been for years and are now being issued by the Government at the rate of about $60,000,000 a year. In other words the Government is buying from the people at about 63 cents on the dollar silver bullion and is giving in exchange silver certificates at the above rate. The result is that the banks are full of money which is unable to find investments except at low rates of interest. Yet a class of our citizens are calling for more money, and declaring that the free coinage of silver is what is most needed to insure the prosperity of the country.

If by free coinage is meant bi-metalism, we may coincide with this view. But it is doubtful if bi-metalism in an international sense can ever be brought about by this country alone. So far as the United States is concerned both silver and gold can be put upon a common basis by immediately recoining all the silver at present in circulation into coins of full value with gold. It has been suggested that the silver dollars be recoined into half dollars, increasing the amount of silver so as to make the new coins equal in value to gold. This would be practicable, and would result in an immediate strengthening of the prices of silver. A thorough recoinage system would call for such an increased supply of silver as to use up within a few years all the surplus silver in the country. But it would be necessary to take the precaution to confine the recoinage strictly to silver of home production. Otherwise the effect would be that of the United States attempting to remonetize the silver of the entire world—a task as hopeless as vast. If the course suggested were pursued—i. e., the recoinage of our own silver by raising it to full gold value—we would have practical bi-metalism in this country. This would also be practical free coinage, because owners of silver bullion could then bring their silver to the mint and receive value for value for it in gold or coin certificates or in the recoined silver itself. So far as free coinage could go as a proposed panacea for the imaginary financial ills of the country we should then have the panacea. But as for free coinage in the other sense, in these days when leases and other contracts are specified payable in gold, it is difficult to see what benefit could be derived from a further increase in depreciated currency.

International bi-metalism is the ideal goal to which the financial leaders of the country are tending though slowly. When both silver and gold are so coined as to be of equal value dollar for dollar the world over the fullest freedom of silver will have been realized, and there will then be no occasion for any further discussion as to the possible advantages of free silver or a bi-metallic standard. Those advantages will then have been realized. But it is not at all probable that the efforts now being made to that end will be realized in the near future nor for many years, unless brought about by the successful example of some great nation like our own.

WHERE GOLD IS AT A PREMIUM.

Gold is at a premium of 5¼ per cent in Vancouver, B. C., over "silver standard dollars of the United States of America." The discount at bank on our silver dollar out there is equal to that. Why that figure is chosen is not clear as they are only worth 66 to make exchange at Singapore. It may be a penal tax to prevent circulation or offer at bank for deposit.

THE DYNAMICS OF SILVER.

Speaking of the objectionable weight of large quantities of silver, the Bankers' Monthly says: Our banking establishments (and the vast United States Treasury) are on such a great, almost innumerable, and ever-growing scale that silver, as the Treasury and bank reserve, and for shipment and import for foreign exchange and coinage and local use, is bulky beyond practical solution. There is a dynamic question associated, and it is seen at the Treasury in all its inconveniences as by a late further demand for more vault building, and reference by a high official to tonnage.

The banks avoid the dollar for that very reason. Vaults and safes cost big money nowadays, when expert burglary is prevalent, and defense for gold and greenbacks is all that the majority of our American banks can afford. To provide burglar proof safes for silver reserves and currency would be to stop the organizing of any more banks! Some of our large banks would require 500 cubic feet for a sole silver reserve. There is reason in everything, and this dynamic question attaching to silver is overlooked.

FACTS ABOUT THE MINT.

In the last report of Director of the Mint E. O. Leech to Congress some interesting figures are found. He estimates the product of fine silver for 1891 at $124,229,000 and of gold at $139,175,000. The increase in gold is valued at $5,000,000 roundly. Africa is coming in as a promising source of supply of gold, increasingly, and so soon as the mountain regions can be reached quickly and safely, that country can be relied on as a source of abundant silver also.

The silver product of the world for 1891 increased 8,000,000 ounces, fine, the increase being largely in the Western Hemisphere. The United States' output of fine ounces was 58,330,000. Colorado and Idaho furnished most of the increase. New and superior and less expensive ways of extracting silver save millions of ounces that were thrown away previously in ordinary silver-bearing ores and in lead and copper ores.

Director Leech estimates the currency in use in this country, outside the treasury at $1,592,393,629. He puts the increase for the year at nearly $64,000,000. The redundaney of currency is seen in the vast amounts lying idle in the banks. If we were forced over to a silver basis, the purchasing power of this currency after the flight of gold, would be reduced several hundreds of millions.

THE DRAINAGE CHANNEL.

Every engineering work that has ever been undertaken in Chicago has afterward been proven to be on too small a scale for the needs of the city in its rapid growth. The proposed policy of the drainage board in constructing a 300,000 cubic feet in place of a 600,000 cubic feet channel for the drainage canal will be but a repetition of history in this respect. The needs of the drainage district will soon be so great as to demand the larger channel. The board has concluded to advertise for bids for both sizes of channel before finally determining which size it will adopt. The reason set forth for the adoption of the 600,000 feet channel by the committee of the board are very cogently given as follows:

The same constructive and financial reasons as obtain for the fourteen miles between Willow Springs and Lockport dictate a large channel through this six miles—viz.: that the work can now be done cheaper and better and the cost of future enlargement will always be greater than the amount of the present extra cost and accrued interest and that another and a sufficient reason presents itself in the marvelous growth of the city. The extra cost, considering the larger amount of material to be excavated and the element of fixed charge which pertains to every contract, will probably be less than $1,000,000. The total cost of this reach, including river correction, right of way, structures and contingencies will probably be inside of $4,500,000, so the saving on the basis of a channel of half the capacity will be less than 25 per cent. Again, the entire cost including the fourteen miles for which contracts are let and right of way nearly secured, a total of twenty miles and covering the valley from Summit to Lockport, is estimated inside of $16,000,000, so the proposed saving will scarcely exceed 6 per cent of the aggregate.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The record of the week in the stock market is one of a series of unparalleled advances. The activity has extended into all lines, and the market is broader and more general than it has been for some time. The phenomenal advances in street railway securities absorb most of the interest. The demand for bonds which was so remarkable a few weeks ago seems to have temporarily lost its edge. The sales at the exchange of bonds have been ridiculously light as compared with the transfers of stocks. At the offices of bankers and bond dealers the same condition of affairs exists, and counter sales are not extensive. The explanation given of the existing conditions at the office of Lobdell, Farwell & Co. is that the public is coming into the stock market, and that investors who ordinarily limit their purchases to the bond list are tempted by the profits being determined daily in other securities. There is nothing new to be said regarding the street railway movement. The conditions are unprecedented. Records are made and broken daily and there seems to be nothing to prevent a continuation of the advance. Beneath the flood of enthusiasm which appears on the surface, however, there is an undercurrent of feeling that the advance has been carried forward too rapidly. Unless the market is well protected there is apt to be a reaction and it is a fact well understood that prices can be marked down as rapidly as up. The high prices must be a great temptation to holders of stock. They will feel like realizing at least on a portion of their holdings and as soon as this movement becomes general and stock begins to come out liberally, prices must go down. The only excuse for the phenomenal advances of late has been the operation of the law of supply and demand. There has arisen a sharp demand in the face of a limited supply and prices have been advancing in consequence. Just what this demand was occasioned by is not clearly understood. The securities seem to be going into strong hands, as bankers deny that they are being asked for accommodation by purchasers. The fact is that the average banker does not look with favor on collateral in the form of railway stocks which have within a month advanced from 60 to 80 percent in price. On Monday the stock of the Chicago City Railway went up to 425. This was an advance of fifteen points over the high point of last week. Tuesday it went to 440 with a rush, with another fifteen point jump. On Wednesday another 15 point advance was scored when a thirty-one share lot was sold at 455. On Thursday all advances of preceding days were discounted by one to 20 points to 475. That this was the market price and not an exceptional figure for a small block is evidenced by the fact that 265 shares were sold at the high point. It is these constant advances which in the case of the city railway stock have made each share worth $65 more than it was last week, which will tempt holders to realize. They may confidently believe that it will be good for the 500 mark but they will also think that a division of forces by sales at the various stages, will be advisable.

The week has produced a new rumor of a beer war settlement, and although these rumors have been of such general circulation that they are of no especial value, it occasioned quite a flurry in Brewing and Malting common. During the last two months this stock has been dull and in disfavor, although it seems to be a foregone conclusion that the war among the brewers will be ultimately settled. There was a large contingent in the market which professed to believe that the details of a settlement had at last been agreed upon and the stock went up ten points with a rush. Further reports failed to confirm the rumor and the market sold off to 40.

Early in the week it looked as if the supporters of Street's Stable Car stock would have all the stock they wanted thrown at them. Unfavorable reports regarding the prospects of the company have been published and the market threatened to weaken. The supporters of the stock rallied under the attempt to load them down and there was some of the quickest action on Tuesday ever seen on the floor of the Exchange. There are evidences, however, that the short sellers are to be squeezed by the formation of a strong pool for the purchase of the stock. As predicted some days ago in the JOURNAL the stock of the International Packing and Provision Company has been listed by the Governing Committee and the first sales appeared at a fraction better than 47. Arc Light and Power has been in good demand and a better range of prices has been established on a prospect of resumption of dividends. For the first time since the fire the company has got its affairs to a satisfactory basis.

IMPORTANT DEALS IN LYONS.

THREE ENTERPRISES OF MAGNITUDE LOOKING FOR A LOCATION ALONG THE LINES OF THE ALTON, CALUMET TERMINAL, AND SANTA FE.

Another new manufacturing town is about to spring up at the intersection of the Calumet Terminal railway with the Santa Fe and Alton railroads. The property is situated in the Town of Lyons and lies almost due south of Riverside. It is intersected by the Des Plaines river and the new drainage canal. The land lies just northwest of the Stickney tract and is less than ten miles from the center of the city. It is in a district which has long been neglected and where acre prices at present are much lower than at other points equally distant from the city but less advantageously located. Consequently shrewd capitalists have seen great opportunities in this locality, and propose to establish an industrial centre there on a large scale.

No less than three distinct enterprises are now negotiating for acre property in this locality. One of these is backed by Boston capitalists who have held options on property in the Town of Lyons for several months. This deal includes nearly 1,000 acres. The land embraces the Prescott tract of 500 acres, a part of the Holton property and several other smaller holdings. Mention was made of the fact in the JOURNAL at the time the options were obtained some months ago. At that time it was ascertained that the Prescott land is in two pieces—one of about two hundred acres in the north half of section 12 and the entire north half of section 11. The Holton land on which an option was secured about the same time, comprises 240 acres in the east half of section 9. Besides these tracts J. S. Meckling secured options on about 113 acres that will also form part of the deal. The tract extends from the Des Plaines river on the east to the right of way of the Calumet Terminal on the west and is about two miles south of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. The plans of the purchasers are kept secret for the present and the only positive information that can be obtained is that the different tracts mentioned and possibly some others have been put under contract and that a decision with respect to closing the deal is expected from Boston in a few days. It has been intimated that this transaction really means the entrance of a new railroad to the city and General Joseph T. Torrence partially confirmed this report by admitting that he was negotiating with a new railroad to enter the city from this direction over his elevated terminal system. If such is a fact the road will necessarily have to pass through this tract in order to make connections with the elevated terminal or the Santa Fe tracks. A. M. Holton, who represents part of the land on which options have been secured, said that he had recently extended options on his property and that he expected a decision from Boston soon. He professes ignorance as to who the real buyers are, or the purposes for which the land is to be used. Other property-owners in that section say they have been approached for options but were unable to learn what the land was to be used for. This section of country has been comparatively neglected in the past and the absence of any boom prices makes it de irable property for speculators who desire to establish a new suburb or to secure a right of way for a new railroad enterprise.

Another deal for property in the same locality is in process of negotiation with local capitalists of high standing. The enterprise proposed involves the expenditure of a large amount of money and the establishment of a town site on a large scale. It is backed by some of the most substantial men in Chicago and is expected to take definite shape within a week. We hope to present to our readers next week a full account of this enterprise

Other capitalists from the east have been in the city this week negotiating with one of the largest banking and real estate houses in Chicago for the purchase of acres in Lyons, with the avowed purpose of establishing a manufacturing centre there. The head of the aforesaid real estate firm made a visit of inspection to the property with his clients this week for the purpose of buying, but as no purchases have yet been made it is impossible to present any definite facts in regard to this deal. It is certain, however, that the promoters are men of wealth and financial standing and that they mean business.

The territory in the Town of Lyons referred to has long been overlooked in the quest for manufacturing sites, though presenting the most marked advantages in the way of rail and water transportation and in proximity to the city. All the enterprises outlined above are in the hands of capitalists who are abundantly able to carry out any plans they may make and who will doubtless be quick to appreciate the advantages offered in the property.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

DOWN TOWN CORNERS SUPPLEMENTED AND FRONTAGES COMBINED.

The tendency to aggregate down town holdings is becoming more and more a feature in the market. It has taken the form of effecting combinations of frontage and more notably of supplementing corner holdings. A large majority of the recent transfers of property in the down town district have illustrated this tendency toward combination of interest. A series of interesting examples of this movement toward supplementing corners is to be found at the intersection of Dearborn and Randolph streets. About a year ago L. J. McCormick owning the southeast corner of these two streets made a supplemental purchase of the frontage on Randolph street adjoining the McCormick block on the east. The property is now occupied by Elison, Flersheim & Co. Within a month the northeast corner occupied by the Real Estate Board building was supplemented by a long term lease of the Lathrop property. This property with a frontage of forty feet on Randolph street is situated in relation to the Real Estate Board building as the Elison, Flersheim & Co. property is to the McCormick block. On the northwest corner stands the Borden block. Within a year an effort was made to supplement this corner, not with Randolph street frontage but with frontgae on Dearborn street. It is now claimed that the existence of a lease was all that prevented a transfer of the property to Mr. Borden. It is also claimed that as soon as arrangements regarding this lease are satisfactorily completed the entire corner from the Schiller theater back to the east and west alley will be placed under one ownership. It now appears that a combinatition of interests has been effected at the southwest corner of Randolph and Dearborn street. The sale of the Quinlan block on this corner to E A. Lyon for $190,000 was recorded only a few days ago. The lot has a frontage on Randolph of but twenty feet and a depth along Dearborn street of 100 feet. The lot adjoining it on the west of equal size is controlled by R W. Hyman, Jr., under a ninety-nine year lease. When the sale of the corner was made it was announced that it was taken for investment purposes only, but conservative brokers could not understand how an income could be realized from 2,000 square feet of land situated as the Quinlan block is. It appears, however, that the E. A. Lyon who poses as an investor with the most perfect faith in Randolph street corners, represents Mr. Hyman, and in fact is Mr. Hyman's confidential office man. This being the case the high price paid is more easily explained. A combination of interest supplementing a corner which is too small for practical improvement has been made, and the similar lot was consequently worth more to the owner of the adjoining property than to anyone else.

Any number of other purchases made for the purpose of supplementing corners might be cited. The McCormick estate purchase of the Sear's property adjoining the Reaper block on the east is one. The purchase by L. J. McCormick of the Farwell Hall property to the east of the Major block is another, and a third is the purchase of the leaseholds of the Ogden building at the southwest corner of Clark and Lake streets and of the frontage just west, by Hulburd Dunlevy. The purchases and leases by the Congress Hotel company at the corner of Congress street and Michigan avenue, and by Marshall Field at the corner of Wabash avenue and Washington street are other illustrations of the same movement.

The conditions at present are such that building operations can scarcely be carried on successfully on small lots. The expense of managing a high office building and the fixed charges for the same are so heavy that they menace the success of a structure which does not have an extensive floor space on each story. The difficulties encountered in Chicago in the matter of foundations are more readily overcome in buildings covering a large area than in small structures. Under conditions existing in New York it has been found practicable to improve down town frontages of narrow width with high office buildings. Until the ratio between square feet land values and square feet office rentals here in Chicago corresponds to that existing in New York, builders of sky-scrapers will favor large blocks for improvement. Considering the current rates for office buildings it is certainly true that down town prices here are inclined to be excessive. Buildings on lots bought or leased at $100 a foot and upwards will have to be planned with the utmost economy of space to pay a fair income, or else builders and property owners will have to bring their ideas of central property income down to something like a 4 per cent basis. A few years ago, an office building could be made to pay by almost any ordinary builder. Now it is a fact that only those buildings managed by owners or agents who have a wide business acquaintance and connections are filled satisfactorily at anything like the rates popularly supposed to be current for office buildings.

SALE OF 147 ACRES AT WAUKEGAN.

A syndicate composed of Morris, Ganse & Co. and certain Detroit capitalists have purchased from G. R Lyon of Waukegan 147 acres at South Waukegan for $125,000. This is said to be the highest price yet paid for property at South Waukegan. The land has a west frontage of over half a mile on the Chicago & Northwestern railway and the main highway to Waukegan, and extends eastward to Lake Michigan. It has 1,000 feet frontage on the lake shore. The highest property on the lake shore is at South Waukegan, the bluff being 168 feet above the lake. There are two mineral springs on this tract near the lake, and this portion of the property will be devoted to residence purposes, while the western part will be business property. At this point the Sheridan road passes within 200 feet of the bluff and will be macadamized to a width of 100 feet. It will leave the lake shore and turn westward at Twenty-second street, which will be the main east and west street of South Waukegan, crossing the Northwestern railroad near the depot.

LARGE SALE OF LOTS AT ROSELAND.

About a year ago W. G. Krutz and R. S. Sherman, two California real estate operators, bought a tract of thirty-seven acres in Sec. 31 of Calumet. The right of way of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad crosses the corner of the tract. It was purchased from heirs of George Washington, Virginians, who had bought it, together with other property, for investment purposes. The transfer of the thirty-seven acres was made to Krutz and Sherman at a little less than $100,000. The property has been subdivided, partially improved, and a number of lots have been sold. Mr. Krutz has now sold to Frank J. Stern of Milwaukee 228 of these lots for $102,500. Mr. Stern gives in part payment some Minneapolis property.

SALE OF A WAREHOUSE AND LEASEHOLD.

The Fuller-Warren Company has sold to Henry J. Rogers for $50,000 their five-story and basement brick warehouse on the north pier together with the leasehold of the lot on which it stands, covering 120x196 feet. Mr. Rogers is the present occupant of the premises and will make no immediate change in the property. The sale was made by Turner & Bond. The lease has sixty years yet to run, and is subject to revaluation every twenty years. As part of the consideration was given a fifteen-acre tract near the Grant Locomotive Works, Mr. Solomon representing this end of the transaction. The Fuller-Warren Company leased its other large warehouse on Jefferson near Van Buren street to S A. Maxwell about ten months ago, and by the sale of this leasehold it disposes of all its warehouse facilities in Chicago The firm has removed its entire local business to Milwaukee, where it has established its western headquarters.

LITIGATTON OVER THE REAL ESTATE BOARD PREMISES.

The United States Mortgage Company and others have made answer to the bill filed by Henry B. Mason to establish title to the property at the northeast corner of Randolph and Dearborn streets, on which is located the Real Estate Board Building. The title of the petition is contested by Roberta, Bryant, Georgia, Leavett, Leila and Amos McCampbell, heirs of James M. Bryant. The buildings on the property were destroyed in the great fire of 1871 and a year later Bryant and his wife executed a mortgage to the United States Mortgage Company to secure a loan of $53,000 for the purpose of rebuilding. In 1874 there was a deed of conveyance executed to William O. Dodd, as trustee, and both mortgages were foreclosed in 1877. It is alleged that Amos McCampbell was never made party to the proceedings and had no guardian to look after his interests. Notwithstanding the sale the McCampbell's allege that their rights and title in the premises were not cut off or affected by the foreclosure and that they now have a right to redeem. The old structure yielded an income of $20,000 a year, and upon an accounting, it is said only a small sum will be found due to Mason.

MORE WORLD'S FAIR HOTELS.

The project for a 1000-room hotel at Harvey is now an assured success and the foundations of the structure are already partially laid. The hotel will surround an entire block and will be 600 feet long by 266 feet wide. The interior of the block will be left in the shape of an open court and the kitchen and dining room will occupy the center. A feature of the building will be numerous towers in each of which there will be a stairway, the plans providing for a tower for every five rooms. The hotel will be but three stories high, so as to avoid danger from fire, but accommodations are to be provided for 2,000 guests. The enterprise is being floated on the stock subscription plan; the shares are $10 each and are exchangeable for rooms; shareholders are entitled to an interest in the profits. The projectors claim that the sales of stock thus far ensure the success of the undertaking. A feature of which great account is made is the proposed series of religious and temperance meetings to be held on Sundays during the Fair. The hotel building will be sold at the close of the Exposition.

An attempt is being made to form a company to improve the southwest corner of Stony Island avenue and Fifty-seventh street with a six-story hotel. The proposed structure is to be a permanent improvement and will be very substantially built. The corner is owned by the Gibbs estate and is favorably located for an improvement of this kind. It has a north frontage of 130 feet on Fifty seventh street and an east frontage of several hundred feet on Stony Island avenue. The site overlooks Jackson Park and the lake and is located right at the main entrance to the fair grounds. The company that contemplates the erection of a hotel building on the lot includes one of the best hotel men of this city and several local capitalists. The building to be erected will have a very attractive exterior. The facade overlooking the fair grounds will be designed with special care. The building will have marble halls and vestibules and all the latest modern appliances. It will be one of the landmarks of the district around South Park station when completed.

Architect Henry Ives Cobb is said to have in preparation plans for a hotel to be built by a company at the head of which is Leroy Payne of Michigan avenue livery stable fame. The plans call for a building to cost $1,100,000 and to be twelve stories high. It will have a frontage of 107 feet on Michigan avenue overlooking the lake and will be 170 feet deep. Construction is to begin at once and the work will be done in such a manner that at least part of the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of next May. The architect's drawings show a very attractive exterior of stone and pressed brick and the interior finish will be equal to anything in the country. The vestibule and rotunda will be particularly attractive in design and will be finished in imported marble. The floors of the halls will be of mosaic and the wainscoting will be of marble. The house will contain about 600 rooms. The completion of the Leroy Hotel, as it is to be known, will give Michigan avenue no less than six first class houses in a distance of about four blocks The others are the Auditorium and its annex, the Congress, the Victoria, the Richelieu and the Leland.

REAL ESTATE FIRM DISSOLVES.

The announcement was made Thursday morning that the well-known real estate firm of Turner & Bond had dissolved partnership. The business will be continued at the present quarters under the title of William A. Bond & Co., Mr. Turner retiring. The partnership of Turner & Bond was formed in May, 1875. The firm occupied the offices at 102 Washington street until last year, when, as agents, they sold the land and building to the Title and Trust company. The firm has been one of the most prominent in real estate circles, and has done a heavy real-estate and mortgage loan business. W. A. Bond is an old-time real estate man, having been in the business since before the fire. Henry L. Turner was formerly the manager and later on proprietor of the religious newspaper, the Advance. In 1888 Mr. Turner was elected respectively President and Vice President of the Western Publishing company, and for the last few years Mr. Turner's personal attention has been given almost exclusively to the publishing business of this company. The interests of the firm had become so varied that it was thought advisable to dissolve the partnership in the real estate business. Mr. Turner has become interested in the Chatham Fields project for the erection of a World's Fair Village, and will give his time and attention to the development of the project. He has not decided whether he will go into the general real estate business or not. He remains at the head of the Western Publishing House. Both members of the firm have been identified with the Real Estate Board ever since its organization. Mr. Turner is an ex-president of the board and Mr. Bond is one of its most active members at present. Mr. Bond is identified with the Union League, while Henry L. Turner is Lieutenant-Colonel of the First Regiment. Col. Turner may continue in the real estate business, although he talks somewhat of traveling abroad for a time before settling down to active work.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The near approach of the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the landing of Columbus has aroused no little interest in the question as to who was the actual discoverer of America. On strict grounds it has been proposed to attribute that honor to Americus Vespucius, who is thought to have been the first explorer to have set foot on the continent itself. Others claim that the Norsemen, headed by Thorfinn Karlsefne, visited the Taunton river in Bristol county, Massachusetts early in the eleventh century. This claim is based on the discovery on the banks of that river of a rock inscription known as the Dighton rock; also on the famous stone tower at Newport, and on the finding of a skeleton with some metallic implements at Fall River, known as the skeleton in armor. Neither of these circumstances, however, affords proof of the presence of Norsemen. The inscription is as much Indian as Runic, and it is impracticable to tell exactly what it is. The tower affords no clue to the nationality of its builders. The skeleton affords only an excuse for a conjecture that it was the remains of a European in armor. In the absence of clearer proof the credit of making the real discovery of a new continent must be given to Columbus.

A strong element in the returning prosperity of the South is its reviving sugar industry. Before the war the sugar plantations of the southern states were very extensive. Many of them embraced thousands of acres of land, carried hundreds of slaves and were conducted on a scale of liberality and wastefulness which would speedily bring a planter to want if practised at this late day. The war killed the sugar industry of the south effectually. But of late it has been revived on a large scale. In Florida the beginnings were made in 1885, when a small amount of sugar was manufactured near Kissimmee from a field of cane that had been planted on some reclaimed swamp land in 1883. The result was so satisfactory that in 1887 one hundred acres were planted; in 1888 this was increased to five hundred acres, and during the present season (1891-92) about nine hundred acres were harvested and manufactured. In the plantation days a ton of cane yielded an average of sixty to seventy-five pounds of raw sugar; now the planter expects to get nearly three times as large a yield, and refined sugar at that, ready for immediate consumption.

The Philadelphia Bourse competition has at last brought to a sharp focus the question that has long been agitating architects all over the country as to the propriety of contests in plans for important buildings. It has for some time been a favorite idea with projectors of large structures to secure by a public competition a greater or less number of designs from which they might choose such as pleased their fancy, either with or, in most instances, without any reference to the architectural fitness of the said designs. The result thus far has been of decided advantage to the projectors. At the cost of a single plan they have been enabled to secure possibly a hundred or more plans, and thus to gratify their curiosity and satisfy their individual tastes in the matter of architecture at the expense of ninety-nine out of the one hundred competing architects. But, not satisfied with this, now comes the committee of the Philadelphia Bourse and proposes to give the architect whose design shall be placed first only one-half the usual commission, and to appoint over him an independent engineer to "revise" and approve the architect's plans. To the credit of the Philadelphia architects to whom this insulting proposition was made be it said that over one hundred of them, out of some one hundred and six doing business in the city, promptly refused to have anything to do with the competition. So that the gentlemen of the Bourse committee must needs now look elsewhere for an architect for their projected structure. It remains to be seen whether the reputable members of the profession outside of Philadelphia will allow themselves to be made shuttlecocks in this manner. It is an axiom which pertains as much perhaps to the architectural profession as to any other that the laborer is worthy of his hire. Furthermore the professional labor of the architect is such as to make or unmake for him a place in the esteem and admiration of those with whom he comes in contact. The result is that professional architects are so well known by reputation that out of the large number of men of that calling in a city like Philadelphia there can not fail to be many whose plans and counsel in the matter of a new Bourse would do themselves and the Bourse Committee proud. Let the Committee then select an architect as they would any other professional laborer, by reference to his ability as demonstrated by his works, which in the case of the architect are surely as manifest as are those of any other profession.

In an interview on the relative merits of various kinds of paving, Volney W. Foster, president of the Western Paving and Supply Company, said: "It has long been a matter of surprise with those noticing legislation in this city that the earnest efforts of our leading newspapers and an almost universal public sentiment have not yet been sufficient to enact and enforce an ordinance relating to the width of tires. The adoption of the wide tire—three or four inches—more than any other one thing would prevent the destruction of our pavements. Permit me to state what I think we may have in the near future and what I think will be the ideal conditions for traffic on our city pavements: First, a well-constructed asphalt roadway; second, the pneumatic rubber tires for our carriages; third, our horses shod with shoes made partly of steel and partly of rubber. When our horses, carriages and roadways are so equipped I think we may claim we have accomplished the ideal conditions."

To say that it is the unexpected which happens in speaking of the real estate market is true sometimes and only sometimes. If the particular thing that happens had been expected it would not be news, but simply an ordinary occurrence. It begins to look as though something unexpected ought to happen to vary the monotony of summer dullness. Chicago at this time is not so much in need of something unexpected to happen as she needs somebody to take hold and cause something to happen. Experience teaches us that as the seasons come and go nothing very extraordinary does happen outside of the weather. No class of men on earth at this present time remind one so much of Micawber as the average real estate man. The most of them are on the fever "waiting" for the expected to happen, as well as the unexpected. Everything was going well with Chicago until she went into the show business and national politics at the expense of her domestic affairs and legitimate business. The men who are expected to make something happen have been almost wholly absorbed in World's Fair matters. Our citizens' association has been asleep or distracted, our drainage canal is hardly begun, our streets and alleys have not been cleaned, but a "rush of special assessments" has been inaugurated. Truly it will be the unexpected that will happen if Chicago does not fulfill her promises.

ELGIN REAL ESTATE NEWS.

In every direction throughout the suburbs of Elgin can be seen new buildings in process of construction. The buildings are mostly owned by parties who have purchased lots and are now preparing to live in their own home. Many lots have been sold which will be used as homesteads hereafter. Some purchasers are waiting for the different localities to settle up so that it will not be so lonesome to live in the suburbs. Others are waiting for street cars, and some are waiting to pay for their lots before building.

The pioneer settlers in the new addition are an industrious and economical class, willing to endure a few privations in order to secure a good, comfortable home.

The new buildings in the suburbs are not for renters, but for owners who will continue to improve and adorn their homes, thus adding beauty of scenery to the general prosperity of its citizens.

CHICAGO TO LONDON IN FIVE DAYS.

SURVEYS SAID TO BE IN PROGRESS FOR THE RAILROAD FROM QUEBEC TO LABRADOR.

It is said that the Northern Pacific Railway is back of the scheme for the extension of a railroad from Quebec eastward to St. Charles Bay in Labrador just north of Newfoundland. An outline of this scheme has been lately published in the telegraphic dispatches from Canada. Readers of THE JOURNAL will remember that in our issue of May 30, 1891, we printed the first authentic map and complete account of the enterprise ever published in this country. It was then stated that St. Charles Bay is the nearest harbor on the American continent to England, the sea passage to Milford Haven, the nearest point on the English coast being only 1,870 miles, as against 3,070 miles from New York to Liverpool, the usual route. It is calculated that the ocean greyhounds now in service between Liverpool and New York could make the run from St. Charles Bay to Milford Haven in three days. A company has been chartered by the Dominion of Canada for building this road, and surveys have been made from Quebec to St. Charles Bay. This company is said to be backed by abundant capital, and the enterprise will be speedily pushed through to completion.

This distance will form a direct and straight line from the Great West and Chicago to England. Taking the distance from Chicago via the Grand Trunk and Northern Canadian Atlantic Railways to the straits of Belle Isle, the railway journey would be 1,870 miles which at the rate of forty miles an hour, would not take over forty-seven hours, and this, plus the 1,870 miles of sea voyage to Milford Haven, at twenty knots an hour, would make a total of one hundred and thirty one hours or a little over five and one-half days, while the journey from Chicago to New York via the Pennsylvania railroad, 936 miles at forty miles an hour, would take twenty-three and one half hours plus the 3,070 knots of sea voyage at twenty knots an hour would make a total of 177½ hours, or seven and one-half days. The proposed route via St. Charles Bay would therefore represent an actual saving of two and one-half days of uncomfortable sea voyage and would enable passengers to reach England from Chicago about two days sooner than the present time. This time may be reduced if the proposed route via Sault Ste. Marie now being surveyed is completed.

St. Charles Bay is said to possess one of the finest harbors on the Atlantic coast and is not encumbered with ice as has been supposed by many. The Greenland icebergs do not come near the coast at this place and the only ice found is some small pieces that are not dangerous to navigation. The United States Coast Survey reports that St. Charles Bay is as open and free during the winter months as are the ports of Halifax, St. John's, Newfoundland or Portland. It is estimated that the length of the proposed line from Quebec to St. Charles Bay will be about 840 miles, and it is reckoned that the cost of construction will not exceed $20,000 per mile; that 700 miles will run over free Crown lands and that for the other 100 miles it is expected that the right of way can be acquired at a nominal cost. A considerable part of this line will run through heavy timber land which will doubtless furnish a large amount of business Arrangements have been made with the Canadian Government for carrying the Dominion mails and it is reasonably certain that a large amount of United States mail matter will travel this way on account of the great saving in time. The syndicate is now trying to push through the Dominion Parliament a valuable land grant including rich timber and mineral rights, and there is every reason to believe that they will succeed in this endeavor, as most of the backers of the enterprise are men of influence and the project in itself would prove of incalculable benefit to Canada. The preliminary survey is now being made for the location of the line and it is expected to have operations begin before the close of the present summer.

The lot is 30x152 feet in dimensions, and the improvements, consisting of an old story and a half cottage, are not considered in the transaction. In fact, the house was built nearly thirty years ago. The sale establishes a front foot valuation of $400, which is the highest yet reached in North Clark street property in the vicinity of Lincoln Park. The property is about a block south of the new building owned by Maltby & Warren.

B. A. Ulrich & Sons report the sale of ninety-eight feet at Greenwood avenue and Forty-fourth street for $30,000 to W. I. Beman and Russell Ulrich ; sixty feet on the Midway plaisance, sixty feet east of Ellis avenue, to O. C. Wolcott for $18,000 ; and the Palace Flat Building on Orchard street, near Lake avenue, for $37,000.

B. J. Parker reports a strong inquiry for Windsor Park and Cheltenham property on the line of the new electric railroad which is about completed. It is expected cars will be running by Sept. 15. He has sold in this vicinity two large pieces where hotels are to be erected for World's Fair purposes, to be used as flats after the Fair. He has placed under contract 150x175 feet on Monroe avenue, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets, for $20,000, and 70x124 feet on Fifty seventh street, near Kimbark avenue, for $7,000. The purchasers have plans under way for large apartment buildings.

The Michigan Central Railroad company has taken out a building permit for a four-story freight-house east of Michigan avenue and River street, to cost $100,000.

The New York Central and St. Louis Railroad company has taken out a permit for a two-story depot at Nos. 156 to 160 Twelfth street, to cost $22,000.

Wm. A. Merigold & Co. report the following among other sales made during the past few days: The premises 5496 East End avenue, for $20,000. The premises 3144 Wabash avenue, $14,000. The southwest corner of Cortland street and Gross avenue, improved, $5,500. One hundred feet improved on West Forty-first street between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets, $5,110. Seventeen lots in their subdivision bounded by Crawford avenue, West Forty-third, Thirty-first and Twenty-third streets for $8,525.

Mead & Coe have sold to A. J. Burbank the northeast corner of Fifty-fourth street and Sheridan avenue. The lot has a frontage of 100 feet and is 165 feet deep. Mr. Burbank is at the head of the company that proposes to erect a large hotel on this lot to be made headquarters for Grand Army men during the Fair. Plans for the building are not yet completed and particulars cannot be obtained, but the building will cover the entire lot and be about four-stories high.

W. A. Merigold & Co. will put on the market some time next week a new addition to Harvey to be known as Merigold's addition. The tract includes about 100 acres and lies at the northwest corner of Ashland ave and One Hundred and Sixty-first street. It is but a short distance from the Illinois Central, which will establish a station near the tract, for which contracts have already been let. The Harvey Electric Road will also pass the property. The land has been improved with sidewalks and shade trees. It is within easy walking distance of the manufacturing district of Harvey.

Walter Thomas Mills & Co. have bought 100 feet north of the new depot and hotel now being constructed at Seventy-first street and Seipp avenue on which they will build a large World's Fair hotel. The building will contain about 250 rooms.

The Brooks estate is said to contemplate erecting a ten-story fireproof building on the southwest corner of Van Buren and Clark streets at a cost of about $25,000. The ground held by Owen F. Aldis as trustee of the Brooks estate, fronts 100 feet on Clark street and 100 feet on Van Buren. It is said to be valued at $6,000 a front foot, and is at present occupied by very inferior structures.

Raymond & Whitcomb, the excursion managers, have completed arrangements for the accommodation of their World's Fair guests. The site selected for the Raymond & Whitcomb Grand, as the hotel is to be called, is upon Washington avenue, Madison avenue and Fifty-ninth street. The main front, 300 feet in length, will face the Midway plaisance. The structure is to be of pressed brick, four stories high, and will contain about 350 rooms. Between every two rooms will be a private bath and toilet-room. The dining-room is to be 110x76 feet, with a seating capacity for 500 persons. Raymond & Whitcomb will run daily special trains from the east during the Exposition, and the Illinois Central will erect a special station at Sixty-first street and Madison avenue for their sole accommodation.

Bradford Brothers have closed a contract with the Pioneer Furniture company, incorporated under the laws of Indiana, for the location of their furniture plant at the manufacturing suburb of Bradford, near Tolleston. Messrs. Snyder, Schreiber and Sieloff, now doing business at 19-21 North Jefferson street, are the incorporators. They will move to their new site as soon as their three-story $18,000 factory is completed for them by Bradford Brothers. Contracts for twenty new residences, to be erected in Bradford, were let during the last week. The Fort Wayne road has recently established a station at Bradford, and the Wabash has built across the north end of the track, making five roads by which the place is accessible.

CONDITION OF THE TREASURY.

National finances appear to be in a very satisfactory condition. The July receipts from customs exceed the estimates, and are nearly $1,500,000 more than in the previous month. The total customs revenue for the fiscal year was $177,883,034 and may reach $200 millions this year. The receipts from internal revenue are also increasing ; so that the heavy disbursements will be more easily met, and the new resources from additional taxation or loans will probably not be required except for the specie reserves. The issues of the notes of July, 1890, approach $105 millions, the gold reserves in the Treasury and in the banks are more ample, and the impulse given to the movements of capital and credit from these and other causes has had more to do with the gratifying decline of the gold exports than any cessation of the need, and demand for gold among the banks in Europe which still keeps up and shows but little distinct evidence of early abatement.

ABOUT NATIONAL BUILDING SOCIETIES.

Speaking on a subject of some interest to real estate men and investors, the New York Record and Guide says: In the Homeseeker for July there is reproduced a very instructive announcement clipped from the Recorder. It is a notice to the delinquent shareholders of the "National Mutual Building and Loan Association" to pay up their arrearages and fines or suffer the loss of all they have paid into the association. The list numbers over 500 delinquents, in sums of from $24 50 up to $1,365. It is a significant commentary in itself upon the deceptive methods of these "national" building and loan societies. They catch their victims by promising far more than they can ever fulfill and make their chief profit by freezing out the delinquents after they have wheedled them out of all their spare money. The State laws should be framed to bear severely against institutions of this class.

No comment is intended on the justness of the above aspersion, but as an indication of the extent of these associations it might be added that at a recent meeting of the Southern National Building and Loan Association League at Roanoke, Va., there were present representatives of ten national associations, having an authorized capital of $365,000,000, a subscribed capital of $40,677,700, cash assets of $6.562,-853, and loans in force, $4,969,168. The total membership was 55,720 with 2,305 branches.

PECULIAR SPECIAL ASSESSMENT.

A recent decision by Judge Brown of the Cook County Court will be of interest to the many property-owners who are opposed to special assessments. The case was unique. It was as follows. The City Council passed an ordinance for curbing and paving of the south half of Sixtieth street, between Cottage Grove avenue and South Park avenue. The north half of the street fronts the park and the South Park Commissioners had made an arrangement with the city to stand the expense of improving the north half of the street. Property owners on the south side filed objections maintaining that the ordinance was void because it did not provide for the improvement of the entire street. They claimed that if the street was under the park system the Commissioners were bound to improve it and if the city controlled the street then it should have passed an ordinance, assessing the property-owners on both sides, including the park.

The court sustained the objections, and the city authorities were directed to pass another ordinance. The city had no power, said the court, to make a private contract with the Commissioners which threw all the court costs and the expense of making the assessment upon the property owners.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

OWNER'S LIABILITY FOR WATER OVERFLOWING FROM HIS LAND TO ANOTHER'S.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that a landlord is responsible for damage to adjoining premises by the overflow of water from his sewer. The case was stated in instructions to the jury as follows : If you own a piece of land, Mr. Foreman, and your next-door neighbor owns another piece of land, and yours is higher than his, you are not responsible, because when the rain falls upon your land, or the snow gathers upon it and melts, it discharges upon your neighbor's land. You are not responsible for that. Neither would you be responsible if you owned the lower piece and your neighbor owned the higher, and the water had been accustomed from time immemorial to flow from the surface of his land upon the surface of yours, if you built along the line upon your own land, within your own limits, a barrier which prevented it from flowing upon your land. But if you, owning the upper piece of land, construct an artificial channel, and by means of that collect the surface water upon your land and discharge it upon your neighbor's land in a different place and in greater volume than it had been accustomed theretofore to flow, then you would be liable for such an act as that, if it caused injury to your neighbor. And that is the principle, as I understand, upon which the plaintiff relies in this case.

RIGHT OF OWNERSHIP IN THE NAME OF A HOTEL.

The Supreme Court of New York, in the case of Kingsley vs. Jacoby, has decided that the plaintiff has a proprietary right in the name Holland House, and that the manufacturer of a brand of cigars has no right to appropriate the name. Justice Truax said : There is no doubt that the defendant intended to represent to the public that his cigars were in some way connected with the hotel known as "Holland House," in this city, and that the suggestion that the cigars were called "Holland House Bouquets," because some of the tobacco of which they were made was purchased from Holland houses engaged in the tobacco business, is a disingenuous afterthought. In fact, in the defendant's letter to the plaintiffs, written in February, 1892, he said that "The well known and justly deserved popularity of your hotel has served as an inducement for me to apply its name, so widely known, to one of my new and best brand of cigars." At the time the defendant "registered" the "Holland House Bouquets" plaintiffs had not opened the "Holland House," for business, but at that time the building was in process of construction and it was well known in the city of New York as "Holland House."

AS TO WHETHER A CONVEYANCE IS A MORTGAGE.

In the case of Fisher et al vs. Hetty Green, the Supreme Court of Illinois recently held that when a deed is made which appears on its face to be an absolute conveyance, it will be presumed to be such ; and this presumption will prevail, unless overcome by clear, convincing and satisfactory evidence that a mortgage was in fact intended at the time of its execution.

When a mortgagor of land executes to the mortgagee a deed for the same, absolute in form, and the latter assumes payment of a prior mortgage and at the same time cancels the notes held by him on the grantor, and no other notes are given evidencing the indebtedness, and no agreement is made showing the indebtedness as still subsisting, this will afford strong evidence that the deed was intended as an absolute conveyance and the mortgage debt cancelled.

As there can be no mortgage without a debt or obligation, one of the tests by which to determine whether a conveyance of lands made in consideration of the grantor's indebtedness to the grantee, is to be deemed to be an absolute sale, or a mortgage, is the effect which the parties intend the conveyance shall have upon the indebtedness itself. If the debt be not cancelled, equity will regard the conveyance as a mortgage whether the grantee so regards it or not.

RIGHT OF SUBROGATION TO THE POSITION OF MORTGAGEE.

The Illinois Supreme Court, in the case of the Trader's Insurance Company vs. Frances T. Race, has decided that the right of an insurance company paying a mortgage debt to the mortgagee to be subrogated to the rights of the mortgagee, and foreclose the mortgage, is one of equitable cognizance, and a court of equity having jurisdiction of the subject-matter, has the power to determine all incidental questions affecting the right claimed.

When the purchaser of property, which was insured for $6,000, mortgaged the same for $5,000, and with the consent of the insurance company assigned the policy to the trustee of the mortgage to whom it was made payable, and the consent of the company attached to the original policy, stated that the insurance only as to the interest of the mortgagee or trustee should not be avoided by the conditions therein contained, it was held that the mortgagor had an interest in the policy to see that in case of a loss, his debt was paid, and the balance of the insurance money was paid to him, which he might forfeit for breach of the conditions applicable to him.

DEED OF CANAL LAND WILL BE RECEIVED AS EVIDENCE.

In the case of the Chicago & Alton Railroad company vs. Frank Keegan et al., the Supreme Court of Illinois has decided that a deed of canal land made by the governor of this State under the seal of State, is admissible in evidence to show the transmission of the title of the State, although not acknowledged, without proof of its execution.

LEASE TO BE BINDING MUST BE IN WRITING.

In the case of the Chicago Attachment Company vs. the Davis Sewing Machine Company, the Illinois Supreme Court recently held that where the lessees of an unexpired term made a verbal assignment thereof, and put the assignee in possession, who paid the rent to the original lessors for about a year, when he ceased to occupy the premises, and refused to pay the rents thereafter, and the lessors brought suit against him for the subsequently accruing rents, the Statute of Frauds was a bar to the action.

The actual occupancy of leased premises and payment of the rent to the lessor for part of the unexpired term, by an assignee pursuant to a contract of assignment with the lessee, which is not in writing, is not sufficient to exempt such assignment from the operation of the Statute of Frauds, when the assignee vacates before the term expires and is sued for subsequently accruing rent.

RIGHT TO RENTS DURING REDEMPTION FROM A MORTGAGE.

The Supreme Court of Minnesota, in Pioneer Savings Bank vs. Farnham, decided recently that after the foreclosure of a mortgage, the rights of the mortgagor and purchaser are governed by the statute, and the mortgagee becomes functus officio, and though the mortgage contains a stipulation that the mortgagee shall collect rents during the year of redemption, the purchaser is not entitled to them.

NUISANCE CAUSED BY DISCHARGE OF A SEWER.

The case of Margaret Dierks vs. Commissioners of Highway before the Supreme Court of Illinois was as follows: A village by means of sewer pipes carried most of the sewage of the inhabitants and filth, in a different course to its natural one, and emptied and discharged the same in a public highway near the premises or farm of the complainant, which soaked into the earth during dry times, and which, in wet spells, was carried by the water on such farm. The evidence showed that the discharge of the sewer created such a stench that a person could not work in that locality without being rendered sick at the stomach, and that the continuance of such sewer was detrimental to the comfort and health of those in its vicinity. Held, that such sewer was a nuisance and should be abated.

When commissioners of highways undertake to take in drainage lands under Sec. 8 of the road and bridge law of 1883, and thus deprive the owner of his property, they may exercise such power as is clearly conferred by the statute, but no further power can be exercised by them.

The commissioners of highways of a town are authorized by law to dig, open, and clean ditches upon lands adjoining highways for certain well defined purposes, to wit, for the purpose of carrying off water from highways, or to drain any slough or pond in the highway. They may not enter upon private lands and dig ditches thereon for any other purposes.

While the commissioners of highways may exercise the power of eminent domain for the purpose of carrying off water from a public road, when the public good may require it, they have no authority to exercise such power for the purpose of carrying over an adjacent farm the sewerage which an incorporated village or town may deposit upon the highway by drains or other appliances.

CONTRACT FOR THE SALE OF LAND.

Short vs. Kieffer et al. The owners of a tract of land wrote and signed a letter to a real estate agent, stating therein that he was authorized to sell the same within the next six months, at "$700 per acre, ¼ cash, balance in 1, 2 and 3 years with 6 percent interest." Within the time limited the agent signed and delivered a writing certifying that he had that day sold to S the land (describing it), for $700 per acre, and acknowledged the receipt of $200 as part payment, etc. The Supreme Court of Illinois held that the writings most favorably construed for S would amount to an agreement on the part of the owner to convey to S, the land for $700 per acre, one-fourth to be paid in cash and the balance in one, two and three years, with six percent interest from the date of sale. Under such a contract the owners should receive the contract price according to the terms agreed on and on the receipt thereof convey to S, their interest in the land.

AS TO THE VALIDITY OF A MORTGAGE OF WIFE'S LAND IN ILLINOIS WHEN EXECUTED IN ANOTHER STATE.

Supreme Court of Illinois. A mortgage executed by a husband and wife in the State of Texas, on the wife's land situate in this State, to secure the debt of her husband, being a contract to be wholly performed in this State, is sufficient if it is valid by the laws of this State.

A mortgage of land in this State acknowledged in another State in conformity with our laws is admissible in evidence in our courts, and the uncorroborated testimony of the mortgagor that he or she did not acknowledge the same in the manner recited in the certificate of acknowledgment is not sufficient to overcome such recitals.

Under the laws of this State a married woman may mortgage her separate property situate in this State, to secure the indebtedness of her husband; and such a mortgage, though executed in another State, is valid, if executed and acknowledged pursuant to the laws of this State.

The agreement of a creditor with his debtor to accept a less sum secured, for a larger sum unsecured or differently secured, is a good accord and satisfaction.

Where a mistake in a mortgage of real estate corrected by a decree of the court, consists only in the use of certain repugnant terms after a sufficiently accurate description of the property, which would be rejected by the courts in construing the mortgage, the correction is one which can work no harm.

CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire. The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every perfo mance. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome pleasure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."

GENERAL OFFICES:

160-172 Adams Street, CHICAGO.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner,

FRANKLIN PARK 90 feet above Lake Michigan. "EXCELSIOR" Is Its Motto.

What a Word of Significance in these simple Figures for the safe Guidance of the prudent Man who, in locating a Home for his Family, would put high above all minor Considerations,

The Priceless Boon of Health.

FRANKLIN PARK is the Growth of less than two Years. It is the suburban Terminus of the Chicago & Northern Pacific R. R., and is situated at the Intersection of the Wisconsin Central R. R. with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. It is 90 feet above Lake Michigan, 11 miles from the City's centre, 2 1-2 miles west of the City limits and is accommodated by 54 passenger trains daily. It has the two finest suburban depots west of the City, costing over $5,000 each, a spacious hotel, a fine block of stores, scores of attractive residences, miles of side-walk, sewers and shade trees and an abundance of wholesome water.

On its western border is MANHEIM, the nucleus of extensive manufacturing concerns and destined to be a busy centre of diversified industries.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

A further decline in the price of silver has been the most noticeable feature of the week. This movement has been observed for some time, and in consequence of it we are told that some thirty-six silver mines in the Idaho mining section have closed down during the last sixty days. Bar silver has been quoted as low as 82¾ cents per ounce in New York within three days. Yet the astonishing information comes by cable from London that silver bullion is very scarce and the supply limited. Meanwhile reports of the discovery of new mines are constantly received. Exports of silver continue to be largely in excess of of imports. A single New York firm exported 75,000 ounces Tuesday. The exports of silver from San-Francisco for the first seven months of the current year exceeded the imports by $3,508,495. A further confirmation of the foreign scarcity of the white metal is that on Wednesday 205 ounces were shipped to Europe from New York. It is thought that the bedrock price has been reached, and that with a good foreign demand and a cessation of mining activity for a time silver will now recover rapidly. It certainly can not go any lower.

The exports of silver seem to have checked for a time the outflow of gold. Our net exports for the past twelve months amounted to $213,000,000. But in July we imported $2,184,744 more gold, silver and merchandise than we exported. Just now exports are beginning to look up again. With a balance in our favor during the next twelve months like that of the past year the gold will commence flowing in instead of out. The exchange of securities for commodities which has been going on for so many years between Europe and America can not last forever When the American stocks held by European countries begin to become unavailable for evening up the balance of trade, then the "gold movement" of which we have heard so much, will tend westerly instead of easterly. Money is abundant and easy. The general diffusion of currency is most beneficial during the crop season, and will facilitate the harvesting and marketing of the crops materially. With the present large yield of wheat and corn successfully harvested and stored, a continuance of the prosperous crop year of 1891 may be looked for.

People who have railroad stocks to sell are positive in their declarations that the strikes have had no effect on securities; but the public knows better. The tie-up at Buffalo and the war in Tennessee have not stimulated activity in Wall street, to say the least, and railway securities there have been about as dull this week as they could be. Reading has sold down steadily and is fair to go lower on the adverse decision of Chancellor McGill reported yesterday. The bulls have made a vigorous effort to keep up courage, but the fact remains that speculation is desperately dull and will be until the effects of the strike are worn off and the results of the prospective big fall carrying trade begin to be seen. Industrials do not share in the depression quite so badly. Some of them are looking up sharply, and they may all be expected to improve in the general prosperity which is so freely predicted, but which is so slow in making its appearance.

Reports of the relative number of business failures, crop prospects, movement of merchandise and collections continue to be favorable and indicate a marked increase in prosperity over last year. The unfavorable influence of the strikes does not seem to have been felt yet by the commercial interests. On the Chicago board of trade the bears have had a welcome ally in the reports of cholera from Europe. It appears that these reports have been purposely or otherwise exaggerated to influence the market, and that the scare can not last long. Advices from foreign correspondents in cities reported to be suffering most severely from the disease say that while there are some cases prevalent the situation is not considered at all alarming. The scare will be worked for all it is worth, however, and a further depression in prices from this cause may be expected.

New York and St. Louis show decreases, while Chicago and Philadelphia exhibit substantial increases. The decrease in the case of New York is evidently caused by a lack of interest in railway securities, owing to the serious strike. The result is most apparent in the grand total, which we see reduced this week to an increase of only 0.5 per cent; but the increase in the total outside of New York, is 9.3 per cent. This is a very satisfactory net increase for one of the dullest weeks of a dull midsummer month.

The decreasing percentages are more numerous and of larger proportions than of late. But they are counterbalanced by some handsome increases. It is little less than astonishing, for instance, that the clearings of Seattle and Omaha should have increased 52.5 and 50.0. Other increases are almost equally wonderful. Note the following: Cleveland, 47,3; Fort Worth, 45 0; Denver, 39.7; Columbus, 35.4; St. Joseph, 31.2; Kansas City, 31.0; Louisville, 30 1, etc. Such figures represent a substantial increase in the volume of trade and manufactures, and indicate a constant improvement independent of any boom influences.

On the other hand, the decreases shown by some western cities are the direct result of boom methods of the past. Los Angeles is a very conspicuous example. In 1887 San Bernardino county experienced a great boom. Thousands of investors rushed thither from the east, and the prices of real estate were inflated beyond all reasonable bounds. The boom lasted just long enough to ensnare those who went there on the strength of it, and then it collapsed. Ever since there has been apparently a retrograde movement. Now it is thought there is an upward tendency that will soon result in rehabilitating the entire section. Conservative judges say that the present movement is based on the actual growth and needs of the section and that it will be permanent. But the bank clearings still bear witness to the unhealthy boom of 1887.

The fact that the general increase in the clearings total is close to ten per cent in a dull month is the more remarkable when viewed with reference to the character of the increase itself. The almost total absence of the speculative element makes it certain that the clearings represent mercantile and manufacturing activity largely. Now it is a fact that never before in the history of this country has there been such a volume of products in all lines at such universally low prices. This is especially true of the iron industry and kindred branches. Except in the single item of steel rails, it may be said that prices of all kinds of manufactured iron are extremely low while the output is extraordinarily large. The same is true of other lines of manufacture to a considerable extent. It will be seen, then, that a large increase in the volume of clearings, representing almost wholly manufacturing and commercial interests, in which prices have been reduced to an unprecedentedly low point, would indicate a much greater increase in the total volume of business than previously, when prices were at a higher point.

The conservative spirit which characterizes the financial and real estate exchanges in the midst of this genuine prosperity is altogether congratulatory. Nothing could be more mischievous than a boom tendency without any warrant for it; and nothing is more hopeful than the evident tendency of industrial activity to completely overshadow the speculative interest. The great factor in the situation after all appears to be the crop prospects. The brisk movement of staples, like dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats, millinery and light hardware, in view of the approaching harvest, is one of the most hopeful indications of the season.

Continuing our analysis for the same weeks, but by groups of states, we have.

THE IRON HALL.

LEADING FEATURES IN THE INVESTIGATION LATELY CONCLUDED.

The disclosures made in the Iron Hall litigation are simply marvelous. A revelation of bad and reckless management and unscrupulous manipulation of funds has been made which is astonishing even to the worst enemies of the institution. It is a remark usually credited to Charles Francis Adams jr. that while pirates and free-booters are supposed to have been hung out of existence yet they are not extinct; they have only transferred their operations to the land, and conduct them more or less in accordance with the law; until at last they have attained a proficiency and success far beyond their wildest hopes when, outside the law, they simply made all comers stand aside and deliver.

When Judge Taylor of Indianapolis brought the affairs of the order to a summary conclusion in the midst of testimony, he said: "It is plain that this case should stop right here. I don't see the use of any argument. The testimony is clear. Such management is something the like of which this court never before heard of. The court has never before in the course of ten years' experience on the bench known such a condition of affairs. It looks as though the order was kept up for the benefit of the supreme officers instead of for the members of the order. It is evident that the Iron Hall must be closed out sooner or later, and that members who stay in the order the longest will be the ultimate sufferers. I will appoint a receiver and it is unnecessary to go any farther."

It appears that not only was the order founded on a financial system as visionary and untried as could be concocted by inexperienced men, but the management of its finances was so extravagant and careless as to call forth universal condemnation. Money was spent freely for influencing legislation. During the investigation telegrams from Somerby were exhibited showing many demands for money for so-called legislative expenses. One of these, dated Philadelphia, Feb. 3, 1888, reads:

Send $500 to Gov. Robinson, Springfield, immediately, ordered by Church for Massachusetts fight.

Another dated March 22, 1891, ordered $2,000 sent to Boston immediately, and others of like character were shown.

Supreme Accountant Walker in his concluding testimony exhibited a letter written to him from Augusta, Me, and signed "Somerby." In the letter the Supreme Justice told something about the progress he was making in the business of fixing legislators. This letter is as follows:

March 26, 1891.—Dear Friend Walker: We have got there. Had a skirmish to-day. Tomorrow we hope to be able to "enact," then we are O K. An expensive thing, but it will pay in the end. I am proud of the work done. We shall get it all back again in good measure. I have made a new contract with Rice. Well, N. H. got a set-back, and I was surprised, but I fixed the land all up for business Will be there after April 21. Good-night. Yours as ever,

SOMERBY.

Similar "legal expenses" were incurred in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Delaware. A portion of this expenditure was identified in one voucher for $6,339. But the crowning act of extravagance was the gift of $170,000 to the Mutual Bank of Philadelphia in which funds of the order were deposited. This gift was made for the avowed purpose of saving the bank from failure. A farther side-light was thrown on affairs between the order and the bank when it was found that the latter had failed to credit deposits of the order to the amount of $84,000. This slight discrepancy in account worried Supreme Cashier Davis of the order, and upon his complaint to the bank it was rectified.

The general opinion is that the appointment of a receiver virtually kills the order. Members of the organization take the matter seriously in some quarters. In Philadelphia there are thousands of grieving members who are emphatic in their condemnation of the managers. Reports from Camden, N. J., say that branch No. 21 of the Iron Hall met at that place Tuesday evening and resolved upon radical means of relief. Resolutions were unanimously adopted denouncing Somerby and his associates and demanding their impeachment as high embezzlers. Few of the stockholders profess to see any hope of getting back their money. The supreme accountant has testified that at the end of August the order will owe $210,000 in sick and final benefits.

The investigation into the affairs of the Iron Hall which has ended in the appointment of a receiver originated in quite an accidental manner. In the early part of last July Lewis G Thompson of Indianapolis was at the St. Denis hotel in New York. In the corridor of the hotel was a group composed of Somerby, Hosmer, Dr. Badger, Younghusband and others. They were discussing Iron Hall affairs and Thompson says they made it plain that the intention was to remove Davis and Walker and then remove the headquarters to Philadelphia. When Thompson came home he made the acquaintance of Davis and told the circumstances. It was not many days before the application for a receiver was made and the inside of the order exposed to light. The evidence shows a meeting was held at the time and place designated. The plaintiffs were prepared to introduce Thompson and his story, but deemed it unnecessary.

THE CANADIAN SITUATION.

STATUS OF THE CONTROVERSY OVER CANAL TOLLS—THE PROPOSED NEW ROUTE TO EUROPE.

Considerable comment has been occasioned both in this country and in Canada by the imposition by the President of the United States of a 20-cents-a-ton tax on cargoes in Canadian or other vessels passing through the St. Mary's Falls canal bound for Canadian ports. The measure was adopted as a retaliation for the toll of 20 cents a ton levied on American vessels passing through the Welland canal destined to American ports. It appears that the Canadian Government has heretofore levied a toll of 20 cents a ton on all cargoes passing the Welland canal, but has given a rebate of 18 cents a ton to all vessels discharging at Canadian ports. This is virtually a discrimination of 18 cents a ton against American ports. After long deliberation, and after the passage by Congress of a law authorizing retaliatory measures, President Harrison has at last imposed the St. Mary's canal toll, to the general satisfaction of the press and public of the United States. Both Americans and Canadians are now awaiting with interest the next move of the Canadian Government. The Canadian capitol is at present deserted, and it is doubtful if any decisive measures will be taken before the members of parliament return. In the meantime some speculation will be indulged in as to the course that will be pursued.

Retaliatory measures are hardly probable, as the only resort of this kind would be to close the Welland canal against American vessels. In such a case the President would have no other alternative than to continue the retaliation by closing to the Canadians the St. Clair Flats and the St. Mary's canals, which would be a death blow to Canadian commerce on the great lakes. American boats from one end of the lakes to the other could then come as far east as Buffalo, but Canadian vessels would be practically tied up so far as the grain and flour trade is concerned, except when plying between American ports.

The Canadian Government can adopt another measure which would probably be as effectual as any and which will be strongly urged upon the present ministry. That is, the Government can resolve to pay the canal tolls itself in the form of a subsidy or rebate. This would avoid the immediate disaster to vessels which have grain contracts on hand. But the measure is sure to meet with powerful opposition in the Canadian parliament. Still, it is thought likely that this course will be the one chosen rather than further retaliation or a withdrawal of the rebate on Welland canal tolls. If tolls in the Welland system are to be charged at all there is little likelihood that American ports will be put upon the same footing as Canadian in any other way than by the withdrawal of the subsidy now paid to vessels destined to Canadian ports. But as this course would arouse a greater storm of indignation than the proposal of a further subsidy, there is not much prospect of its being adopted. Meantime the grain from Lake Superior ports and from Manitoba will go to Buffalo.

It is hardly probable that any serious complications can arise between Canada and the United States over the canal problem, because the commercial interests of both countries are so closely related as to render it inexpedient to allow any trouble to interfere with the commerce of either. The two countries are practically one in every thing but government. The tendency is toward annexation, as it becomes evident more and more that present conditions are unfavorable to the highest prosperity of both. In last week's issue of THE JOURNAL a map of the proposed new route to England was given, showing how direct connections were to be made with Chicago and the time to London shortened by two days. The adoption of this route for general freight and passenger business would revolutionize the carrying trade of the entire continent. While it would not injure Chicago, it would bring this city into closer relations with Canada than ever before. We repeat that the growing commercial interests between the United States and Canada do not admit of the harboring of any international quarrels to distract or distress the trade of either country.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

According to a recent Treasury report the total gold in the Treasury is now $246,480,082, the gold certificates $154,000,000, the currency certificates $26,640,000, and the treasury notes of 1890 $106,022,240. Treasury officials state that the department has a balance of $50 000,000 and the revenues, notwithstanding the loss of the $60,000,000 on sugar, are increasing at the rate of $1,000,000 a month customs alone. This rate of increase has been going on since the 1st of March. The increase of internal revenue for the year closed July 1 was $3,000,000 over the year before, and this year there will be an increase of $6,000,000 over the year just closed. It is estimated that the customs revenues this year will produce a surplus of $5,000,000 over expenditures.

Secretary Foster is not at all apprehensive that the Treasury Department will experience any trouble in the matter of the shipment of gold during the present year. The Secretary believes that things are safe with the large amount of gold the government absolutely owns, viz $110,000,000 and thinks it will take many a demand to seriously deplete this store, when constant accessions to it are being made. "Nothing has been done looking to a prevention of the shipments from this country," said the secretary, "and nothing will be done."

ASSESSMENTS WITHOUT REBATES.

The proposed plan of making street improvements without rebates to payers of the assessments has at last been adopted. All new improvements from now on will be made in accordance with an ordinance of the Council passed July 21, which provides that when any public improvement is to be paid for by special assessment plans and specifications shall be prepared and bids advertised for and the estimates which are to make the basis of the assessment shall be taken from the lowest proposal received from a responsible bidder. This plan fixes the exact cost of each improvement before the assessment is confirmed, and puts an end to rebates.

Supt. Sheahan of the Special Assessment Department has for a long time been looking for a definite plan to simplify the work of the department. THE JOURNAL at one time proposed that the Canadian method of proceeding with the work before levying the assessment be adopted. This plan contemplated issuing bonds to cover the cost of the improvement as soon as the work should be authorized by the court. These bonds would then be given to the contractors in payment for the work. Supt. Sheahan warmly endorsed this plan at the time, but it was found impracticable to secure its adoption by the contractors. The present policy is thought to be the best under the circumstances that could be adopted.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

This week the stock market has seen a change in the tide which seemed destined to sweep West Chicago street railway stock up to the 250 point. Friday and Saturday of last week brought the reaction which was certainly overdue, and since that time succeeding series of low instead of high points have been registered. One thing at least has been demonstrated, and that is that any advances made, instead of being without check of any kind will be subject to corresponding reactions. During the week prices have see-sawed from 225 to 226¼ on Monday and down to 210 at the close of the market on Thursday. The high points for the week were reached on Tuesday with 228½ regular and 229 for the account. Stop orders began making their appearance on Wednesday and Thursday and the weak holders of stock were thoroughly shaken out. The bulls in the security insist stoutly that a range of prices higher than any determined thus far is soon to be reached, and claim that the "shaking out" process, as they term it, will make the holding of the stock stronger. This may all be true but if all the selling orders in the hands of brokers had been promptly executed the probabilities are that 190 would have been touched. The most radical supporters of the stock do not claim to know what the advance is based on, or the nature of the deal which the insiders are credited with manipulating. They simply have a blind faith that the market is going up indefinitely and go on increasing their holdings and estimating their paper profits. These same paper profits shrink in a wonderful degree when the market goes down 22 points within a week. North Chicago street railway stock which has been the running mate of West Chicago, sympathizes with its declines and advances. The net decline in North Chicago during the recent reaction has been about eight points. Even old Chicago City railway, which is supposed to be in the strongest sort of hands, lost its edge in the retrograde movement. It sold up to 475 as a high point last week. For days there were no sales on which to base quotations. Sales were finally made at the middle of the week five and ten points under the high figure.

This week a change was made over from the first to the second account. Some comment among bankers has been aroused regarding the high bid made for the long account by brokers In the case of West Chicago stock for instance, sales for the account were made squarely two points higher than sales regular. Bankers claim that this condition reflects an improvement in the local demand for money, and also suggests that there are some weak operators on the market.

Alley elevated stock is in some demand but the impression prevails that prices are high. The road in its present condition is not earning expenses, but if the improvement from the completion of the Forty-seventh street extension be taken as a criterion the finished road from Jackson Park with a possible loop through the down town district will be a dividend earner. According to Attorney Harkness the extension to Forty-seventh street has added 7,000 fares daily to the receipts of the company.

Quotations for Lake street elevated stock remain unchanged although the gossip concerning this security is favorable. The company is to be reorganized with the same capital stock under the general railway act. Some changes in the directors are promised including the election of two New York men and two new local men as directors. Work is to be again resumed in construction and as soon as that portion extending to Western avenue is completed it will be equipped with rolling stock and put into operation.

The wide fluctuations of certain stocks on the local market are all the more noticeable when compared with the extremely narrow range on the New York market. There, a fractional point decline or advance is looked upon as significant and a two point movement is considered a pronounced rally or a serious break. The Industrial stocks here have sympathized with stocks of that class in New York and have been in good demand at rather better prices. The July statement of the Street's Stable Car company was published and as anticipated was bad. Its unsatisfactory nature had been fully discounted and no local depression was caused by its appearance. The July earnings as given are $5,000 in advance of the earnings of the preceding year, but $6,000 less than for July of 1891. The supporters of the stock claim that when the figures are sifted down to a net basis it will be found that the difference in earnings is against this season by only a few hundred dollars. A decrease in gross earnings which is admitted, has been offset by a decrease in fixed charges and operating expenses. Diamond Match sold early in the week at 135½ and advanced on Thursday to 140. The buying of stock, which was quite extensive, was done principally by Lobdell, Farwell & Co. The bull points in the stock are that it is earning a high rate of income and that an election year is always an exceptionally good season for the match business. The same points obtain in the brewery stocks and if some definite settlement of existing differences between brewers could be secured there would be advances all the way round.

RATIO OF SILVER COINAGE.

AN INTERESTING STUDY OF THE RELATIVE VALUE OF SILVER AND GOLD.

The price of silver has fallen so low that a further slight reduction may result in forcing more of the mines to shut down. Within a fortnight the metal sold on the New York market at 83 cents an ounce, the lowest point on record. The drop is said to be the result of lack of favorable legislation on the free coinage bill combined with a temporary cessation of foreign demand for the metal. Shutting down some of the mines would result in restoring the price of silver partially, but the causes for the cheapness of the metal are not such as to be entirely remedied by curtailment of production. The general disfavor into which silver has fallen as compared with gold, both in financial and legislative circles, is largely responsible for its decline in price. What is needed to restore confidence and raise prices is some very energetic international legislation providing for the coinage of silver.

At what ratio should gold and silver be issued, is the interesting question discussed in the North American Review by five well-known members of Congress: Senator Stewart, of Nevada; Representative Springer, of Illinois; Representative Bland, of Missouri; Representative Dalzell, of Pennsylvania; and Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota. All the writers agree that the ratio should not be over 16 to 1.

Representative Springer argues that a uniform ratio of 15½ to 1 could be established by the principal commercial nations with very little inconvenience. It is the ratio of the Latin Union, and also of the governments of Spain, Holland, Russia and the Central and South American States. "An international agreement fixing this proportion, if adopted by the United States, England, Germany and Mexico, in addition to the nations which have already adopted it, would secure in a very short time a universal acquiescence in this ratio. In that event the United States could recoin all its silver pieces and make a profit by the operation. On every 15½ ounces of silver in the new coins the government would receive a bonus of one-half ounce. A limited agreement of this kind would greatly facilitate commercial transactions and simplify and unify the coinage of all nations entering into the agreement. If a limited agreement of this kind could be made and put into practical operation, there is every reason to believe that more liberal provisions looking to a larger use of silver could be secured in the future. In the course of time free and unlimited coinage would, in all probability, be adopted by the leading commercial nations."

Representative Bland contributes the following concise opinion: "In adopting the ratio for ourselves, or by concurrent action of other nations, the ratio of 15½, or our own ratio of 16, should be selected. First, Because it is the ratio, or it approaches the ratio, that has existed in the commercial world for centuries, and at which the coined gold and coined silver of the nations circulate at par in the countries where coined. Secondly, This is above the average ratio at which the nations of the world coin gold and silver into legal tender money. Thirdly, It is near the relative amount in weight of the existing coined stock of the two metals."

CYPRESS LUMBER.

What seems like a permanent new supply of a different lumber from that usually applied to house building is making its appearance in the New England states. The Stamford Advocate mentions the arrival of a large cargo of cypress received by dealers in that town. The shipment was made by the Louisiana Lumber Company. They have also shipped 1,300,000 feet to Providence. The wood grows in the swamp region of Louisiana, and is of a dark color and susceptible of fine finish, and is, moreover, cheap in price and very durable. It is easily worked, and has many of the best points of white pine.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

PROSPECTS FOR CHICAGO REAL ESTATE AFTER THE WORLD'S FAIR—IMPORTANT BUILDING TRANSACTIONS DEFEATED BY LACK OF IRON.

The exact condition of the real estate market is indicated by the character of transactions which are carried through to completion. Anything above the commonplace transfer of lots and houses for actual use and occupancy is found to be in the line of specialties. Even the few down town transactions of importance which are carried through are out of the natural order of things. They represent, in most cases, a desire to invest surplus money. Capitalists with surplus funds on hand argue that the premium on government bonds is so great that no interest will be realized for four or five years and at the end of that time only three to three and one-half per cent, and choose down town property which will net a little higher rate of income and in which there is a prospect of an increase in value of principal. This week there were no sales of even this character to relieve a monotonous situation. A couple of sales of large acre tracts in the vicinity of Chicago were under negotiation but they are clearly specialties and are not intimately connected with the condition of the regular market. Both of these tracts of land lie on the Illinois-Indiana State line. One has been purchased for a quarter of a million dollars by the new racing association and the other tract is being negotiated for at double that amount. The land purchased by the racing association lies along the east of South Chicago, extending from 108th to 112th streets. It contains 100 acres and was sold by Edward Roby and Shedd Brothers to James A. Webb, who acts for the new racing association. The second tract of land consists of 17,000 acres of Kankakee marsh land and is to be reclaimed for agricultural purposes. It is the well-known W. R. Shelby tract controlled by Gen. Cass and W. R. Shelby of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad.

The effect of the labor trouble in the production and supply of structural iron is more appreciable than would be supposed from the trade reports. At least one important building enterprise here has been checked by the inability of contractors to secure structural iron. The lease of one of the most prominent South Side corners to a syndicate composed in part of New York parties was agreed upon in all details, with the single proviso that the new building should be constructed by May 1 of next year. The agent who is in New York carrying on the negotiations imagined that this provision would be unimportant inasmuch as the completion of the building by next spring under ordinary circumstances would be anything but a physical impossibility. When he reached Chicago, however, he found that he had reckoned without his host and that the inability to construct the building within the prescribed time, would in all probability defeat the lease and cause the failure of the entire transaction. He took the plans of the building to four of the most prominent contractors in the city and each one refused to consider a proposition, claiming that it would be impossible to secure structural iron. The demand being in excess of the supply for building iron, the probabilities are that prices for material will go up, even if work is resumed on a satisfactory basis at the structural iron mills.

People are settling down to the belief that the possibilities of an active real estate market after the Fair are better than before that time. It is surprising how strong properties are held in the face of a dull market, and the popular supposition that the "bottom is going to fall out of things" is transferring a great deal of business which would naturally be done in the next year over into the period following the close of the World's Fair. All sorts of theories are advanced as to the movement of the market but the general consensus of opinion among the best informed operators is that the market will go on at a fair rate of activity without any great boom and without any marked depression. It is generally accepted though, the phenomenal market of 1889 and 1890 will not be duplicated for years and that operators and real estate dealers will continue to look back at the good old times when property would change hands two or three times in a single day.

SALE OF LANDS ON THE INDIANA STATE LINE.

It is reported that the Shelby lands just north of the Kankakee river, lying on both sides of the Indiana-Illinois State line, are to be sold for $500,000. The prospective purchasers are Eastern capitalists, represented by B. A. Robinson of R. C. Alden & Co, and Sioux City parties, represented by George W. Wilson of that place. The tract, which includes 17,300 acres, is being sold for W. R. Shelby, Vice-President of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway company, through R. L. Cresey, who acts as his exclusive agent. The property is in two holdings. One of these is controlled by what it known as the Lake Agricultural Company and contains 12,000 acres. The other is known as the Meadows Cattle Farm and contains 5,300 acres. In the sale the first tract is being turned in at a valuation of $300 000. The second tract is to be sold for $159,000. The even half-million dollars will be made up by the sale of the Village of Shelby at a consideration of $21,000 and the old mill property on the island at Momence for $20,000. The Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa and the Louisville and New Albany railways cross the property and intersect at the little Village of Shelby. The village property and the subdivision laid out there are owned, together with the entire acreage, by Gen. Cass and W. R. Shelby.

The scheme of the purchasers of the property is to carry on further the drainage improvements which have already been made and to develop the property into first class farming land. The scheme also includes the location of several industries at Shelby. Nelson Morris' extensive purchases of Indiana acres lie just south and east of the Shelby lands. He has in all 20,000 acres of land adjoining the property now in negotiation. Between $150,000 and $250,000 has been expended from time to time by the Shelby interests in draining the property, which was originally low marsh lands. Two drainage canals run through the property from east to west and a large portion of the Meadows Farm tract has been tiled and is under cultivation. There is a bill pending now for the removal of the rock in the river at Momence, which has occasioned a lawsuit between the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway company and W. R. Shelby When this measure is carried through the bed of the river will be lowered three or four feet, and it is claimed that every portion of the Shelby tract can be made available for farming purposes.

LAND PURCHASED FOR AN INDIANA RACE TRACK.

A sale of 100 acres of land at Roby Station, Ind., for $250,000, has been made by E. T. Davis for Edward Roby, E. A. and C. B. Shedd to James A. Webb. The property lies just across the State line in Indiana and adjoins South Chicago. It extends from One Hundred and Eighth to One Hundred and Twelfth street. It is purchased in the interest of the new racing association and will be improved with a first-class race track. It is claimed that work will be commenced at once on improvements to represent an outlay of $100,000. Negotiations are now under way for the extension of the South Side Electric railway line to the land. A pier on the lake front near the land will be utilized for the landing of passengers coming by way of the boat lines from Van Buren street and the World's Fair grounds.

PROPERTY-OWNERS WILL MAINTAIN THEIR BUILDING LINE.

The subject of building lines is at present receiving a good deal of attention at the hand of property-owners on Washington avenue, Hyde Park. Washington avenue is the only north and south street east of Drexel boulevard which has been made by the action of the council a boulevard and from which traffic teams are debarred, and the residents have always taken great pride in their street, which has resulted in securing a beautifully paved roadbed, uniform sidewalks throughout the length of the street, boulevard lamps, etc. Excepting on the corners of the business streets crossing Washington avenue, no buildings have been brought to the sidewalk line, and the people are up in arms against permitting an infraction of this rule.

UNCERTAIN OUTCOME OF THE CHATHAM FIELDS PROJECT.

The Park Columbia or Chatham Fields project for a World's Fair town at Grand Crossing, where an immense bicycle meet, military encampment, and athletic headquarters were to be prominent features, may have to be abandoned on account of failure to secure transportation. It is said that the site first selected has been abandoned and that the success of the project now depends entirely on securing a new and available site.

Each of the bicycle firms which contributed to the purchase of the bonds of the company—the wheelmen pledged themselves to take $20,000 interest in the venture—received the following letter from the Vice-President of the company:

Aug. 20, 1892—Dear Sir: Recent developments render it advisable for this company to withdraw any propositions heretofore made to the bicycle organizations in reference to the furnishing of track and grand stand facilities at Chatham Fields. We, of course, release all subscribers to the bonds of the company obtained through your influence. Thanking you for your courtesy and expressing the desire and confident belief that ample provision will be made for the entertainment of the organizations, we are very truly yours, CHATHAM FIELDS COMPANY.
By HENRY TURNER, Vice President.

CITY GAINS A NEW PARK IN LAKE VIEW.

In 1853 Elisha E. Hundley, a resident of Virginia, laid out what he called Pine Grove subdivision along the north shore. In drawing the east boundary of his lots he left a strip about 175 feet wide along the lake shore. By the town of Lake View and afterward by the city it was contended that Hundley dedicated the strip for park purposes and that the dedication carried the right to accretions under riparian rights.

In 1874 Parker B. Mason and others bought the tract from Hundley's executors and have since claimed to own the land. For nine years the old Town of Lake View and the city have sought to eject the purchasers from the tract and to enjoin their interference with it as a public street or park. In 1891 pending proceedings were united in a bill filed by owners of property abutting the tract, in which the Superior Court was asked to forever enjoin Mason and his associates from interfering with the use of the land for public purposes. This suit Judge Anthony has recently decided in favor of the complainant.

The land in question is now about 300 feet wide, having been increased by accretions from the lake. It extends from Grace street to Addison street, a distance of a quarter of a mile, and is considered worth $1,000,000. The Sheridan Drive at this point will run several hundred feet out into the lake, so that an additional strip of land will thus be added for park purposes.

COMPLETION OF A NEW SUBURBAN LINE FOR THE SOUTH SIDE.

The Chicago Central railroad, which has been proposing for some months to begin running suburban trains on its new line, is now in readiness, and it is expected that trains will be running by the middle of September. A map showing the route of this road is given elsewhere in this issue. The main line of the road has been finished for some time and the only reason for not running trains some time ago was the want of connection at Fourteenth and Rockwell streets with the main line of the Northern Pacific over whose tracks the Chicago Central will enter the Harrison street depot. The Chicago Central taps some of the prettiest territory around the city and its operation will undoubtedly do much to develop a hitherto much-neglected district.

For several months many of Evanston's prominent citizens have been interested in the erection of a new Y. M. C. A. building, and before another year there will be erected a building costing not less than $50,000. Plans for the new structure provide for modern conveniences. A committee of seventeen Evanston business men have assured the association that if the building is erected they will secure 500 members for the organization.

A BIG DEAL AT FRANKLIN PARK.

The records of last week show a conveyance by Lesser Franklin and wife to Frank P. Hiles of Milwaukee, of two hundred lots in Franklin Park, in consideration of $60,000. The purchaser is one of the most prominent and opulent of the representative lumbermen of Wisconsin. The transaction involves lots distributed widely over the area of this extensive subdivision, many of them being on the most important and attractive streets. This sale means much for the village of Franklin Park. It will be a potent factor in the present and future development of that sturdy and sightly suburb. That a merchant of high repute, whose keen sagacity and sound judgment are attested by the full measure of financial success, and whose observation has scanned all opportunities for investment in suburban realty far and near, finally chose Franklin Park as the best place for a large outlay of money on building sites, is a manifest compliment to the projector of that village as well as to the enterprising residents who have co-operated with him in making it what it is. To all who have property interests there the cheering significance of this matter is the purpose of Mr. Hiles to make conspicuous improvements, both industrial and domestic, on his new acquisition. With the lumber yards and planing mill, and the considerable number of good residences which, we understand, are within the scope of this purchase, its stimulating effect upon the prosperity of Franklin Park can hardly be exaggerated.

In this connection it may be mentioned that several minor sales involving a considerable frontage have been made in Franklin Park within the past few days, mainly for immediate business improvements. It is also worthy of note that a dozen residences are in course of erection which are fully up to the standard of excellence already prevailing. All signs show that in the bright lexicon of this popular suburb there's no such word as fail.

"L" ROAD ACTIVITY.

The Homestead strike is responsible for serious delay in the construction of the South Side Alley "L." Only about three spans a day are being constructed when twenty spans might be built if the iron could be secured. On Sixty-third street fully two-thirds of the foundations are in between Jackson Park and the main line between Prairie and Calumet avenues. The road will be opened to Fifty-first street in a few days, and will be completed to Fifty-fifth street shortly. It had been hoped the road would have been completed to the World's Fair entrance by Jan. 1. This was made impossible by the strike in Carnegie's mills, but it will surely be completed before May 1, if not earlier.

Referring to a down-town loop President Barnard said he had not yet approached property owners to secure signatures to a petition for right of way. He favors Wabash avenue to Randolph or Lake, thence to Dearborn or Clark and back again to Congress street. He is having the company's engineers elaborate plans for a superstructure to rest on a single line of posts, to be placed in the middle of the streets. This will carry either a double or single track. To use this system it will be necessary to move the cable car tracks a few feet nearer the curb line.

Speaking of the necessity of prompt action to provide for a loop before May 1 next, President Barnard said: "It is so difficult to get iron on time that we will have to get an ordinance not later than Oct. 1 to complete the loop in time. It will be a great convenience both to the public and the company. We can handle 30,000 passengers per hour with the loop, as against 18,000 or 20,000 with our present terminal."

The Metropolitan "L" road has secured abstracts of title for the property required for their right of way on the north side of the alley south of Van Buren street, between Western and Ashland avenues. It is expected that a good portion of this right of way will be secured by the company within the next ten days.

The recent reorganization of the Lake Street Elevated road under a new charter has been the occasion of considerable comment. Some of the property owners along the line of the road think there is some object in view which has not been made known. Col. A. C. Alberger, one of the directors of the company said that to avoid any doubt about the legality of the company the directors had decided to reorganize. It is not intended to make any further changes in the company other than to conform to the general railroad law; and the work of construction will go on just the same. In a decision of the supreme court, in the case of Lieberman against the South Side Rapid Transit company, the court expressed grave doubt as to whether such companies could operate. The court also suggested that such corporations should organize under the general railroad law of the state.

CHANGES IN THE CITY'S GROWTH.

Despite the predictions of many that our lumber interests and manufactories will eventually go to South Chicago, the city continues to expand and develop westward and northward as rapidly, barring World's Fair, attractions as it does southward, as is shown in the vicinity of the Grant Locomotive works and in all of the towns along the C. & N. W. R R, also at Berwyn, Riverside, Grossdale, La Grange, Western Springs and Hinsdale along the C. B. & Q. Ry.

The North Shore is holding its own even with the south side as to residence property. But the changes gradually taking place in the city's growth are the transformation of residence to business property and in the different character of new additions to our population. A few years ago the increase from foreign immigration was remarkable, today it is of secondary importance. The increase from outside sources comes mainly from the neighboring states, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa.

Large numbers come from Eastern and Southern states, but by far the greater portion from the states above mentioned. Especially is this the case among the new business houses and the young men and women who have taken up their abodes here. In some of the surrounding states localities have been almost entirely deserted by the young men and girls who have left home to live in the Western Metropolis. This view is entertained by a gentleman who has traveled much in adjacent territory and is corroborated by the oldest citizens living in the small towns and rural districts of Wisconsin and Michigan besides the evidences to be seen here in the city.

The character of the population is therefore improving and the better grade of residence property is being improved to receive them.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

A contract has just been closed between the Harvey Land Association and a manufacturer from the east to build a plant for the manufacture of hooks and eyes and other wire goods at the new manufacturing suburb of Harvey, Ill. They will locate east of the Illinois Central railroad and near the car works.

S. E. Gross reports a very decided increase in sales during the past week, with even brighter prospects for the coming week. Sales were as follows: 103 lots at Grossdale for $30,920; 25 lots at Danphin Park for $17,430; 12 lots at Gross Park for $9,800; 9 lots at Humboldt Park for $8,250; 7 lots at Avondale for $3,625; 6 lots at Ashland avenue and 47th street for $7,940.

Chas. L. Moak reports considerable inquiry for Tinley Park acres and lots. Lands are selling from $300 to $500 per acre. Tinley Park was incorporated June 27, and July 19 the following board of trustees were elected: President, Henry Vogt; Trustees: Fred Nelson, Henry Sipple, Henry Mohr, Jacob Funk, Wm. Lauretz and John Klapper; Clerk, Henry Andres. The board has taken hold of matters in good style. Several ordinances have been passed for street improvements, and it is their intention to make Tinley Park as attractive as possible.

Cremin & Brenan report the sale of the southwest corner of Madison street and Park avenue in Austin, to Milton P. Schrock for $8,000. The lot has a Madison street frontage of 100 feet and is 140 feet deep, and the valuation established by this sale is consequently $80 per front foot. This property was sold three years ago by the same firm for $3,500. Later it was sold for $5,100 and the present sale at $8,000 represents an increase of 50 per cent. a year for this property. The buyer intends to improve the corner with a fine business block.

Henry L. Turner and Schiller Hosford, of Clinton, Ia., who is best known in that section of country as the Secretary of the Clinton Lumber company, have formed a partnership under the title of Henry L. Turner & Co., and have leased offices in the Fullerton block at 92 Dearborn street for five years at an annual rental of $3,600. The new firm will be known as financial agents and will do a general real estate business, especially in the branch of mortgage loans. The offices have been fitted up at an expense of about $4,000 with bank furniture. W. G. Laird, who has had charge of the sales department for Turner & Bond, will have charge of the same department for Henry L. Turner & Co.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The very commendable agitation in favor of road improvement both state and national, which has been taken up first by certain manufacturers of bicycles and later by agriculturists and municipalities, bids fair to bear fruit in practical results. Iowa has taken the lead among the States by holding a convention to consider the best steps to be taken to further the work in that State. No doubt other States will imitate the example thus set, and a concerted movement will be made throughout the entire country to ensure this much-needed reform. The result will be that an agitation set on foot for the purpose of providing good roads for bicyclists will end in permanent benefit to the agricultural and commercial interests of the country. But in considering this reform too much progress must not be expected in a short time. The conditions surrounding road improvement in this country are vastly different from those of foreign countries with which we are likely to be compared. Here we have a vast and comparatively unsettled domain, where all public improvements are of necessity new and to a large degree in an experimental stage. In the old world the distances are so much shorter and public works are of so long standing that there can be no just comparison in the matter of road building or any other similar enterprise. To carry out in this country a system of roads like those of England or France would require a hundred years of painstaking effort and the expenditure of millions of dollars. For the present, then, we must be content with improvement on a less pretentious scale. Some scheme of practical road making which does not involve unusual or excessive expense must be adopted f the highways of the rural districts are to be generally reconstructed. From this a more thorough and comprehensive plan may be worked out as the years go by, but the vast distanees and the engineering difficulties involved will not permit of road improvement in this country on an European plan for the present at least.

The twenty-third annual meeting or the Fire Underwriters' Association of the Northwest, to be held at the Grand Pacific Hotel, Chicago, September 27 and 28, promises to be of unusual interest. Papers will be read on the following subjects: Cash Value to Insurance Companies of Handshaking; Co-insurance; High Buildings, their Internal and External Hazard from Fire; How Rates are Made and Un made, and the Effect Upon the Profit and Loss Aecount: Public Policy; A Decade of Insurance Legislation; Minimum Tariff and Its Application; Electrieity, Light and Fire. Among the speakers will be D. J. Swenie, chief fire marshal of Chicago. A large attendance is expected.

The present anarchistic condition of the miners of Tennessee will doubtless result in the abolition of the conviet labor system which for years has been a disgrace to that State. No one in the State desires a continuance of that system. Over four years ago the board of directors of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company placed in the hands of the State officials a resolution freely offering to surrender their conviet lease, but for some reason the officials have not acted on this offer. The matter has now been practically decided by the miners themselves. They have again demonstrated that free labor will not compete with convict labor, and by tearing down the stockades and releasing the convicts they have virtually put an end to prison contracts in the mines of Tennessee. The Tennessee Coal and Iron Company will now renew their offer to the State officials to surrender their lease, and will probably insist that their offer be accepted; and the question will then come before the legislature for final decision. It is claimed that the State must have recourse to convict labor to save itself from financial loss. On the other hand it would appear to be demonstrated pretty clearly that another contract similar to that entered into with the Tennessee company would entail like scenes of disorder and anarchy. It is at best a choice between two evils.

The situation at Buffalo has been more serious. A strike on such a large scale is always a matter of grave importance, but in this case the seat of the difficulty as well as the magnitude of the interests involved render the case one of peculiar gravity. It is extremely doubtful whether any considerations of the rights of either side to the controversy can be adduced to justify the damage to property and the loss of life which such a struggle involves. On the one hand, the switchmen are said to be underpaid and overworked. It is claimed that for twelve to fourteen hours of hard and hazardous labor they receive only an average of $1.88. They complain that they cannot support their families on this sum. All of which may be very true; but it does not justify violent measures against the property of the railroad companies and the persons of those who are willing to work for the wages which the strikers refuse. On the other hand the railroad companies themselves have a duty to perform not only to their employes but to the traveling public as well. When the damage to property and the loss of life attending the Buffalo strike shall have been reduced to figures it is reasonably certain that it will exceed any reasonable estimate of the cost of a fair settlement such as would have prevented the strike before it began.

What promises to be one of the most notable land cases on record will come before the United States land court in Denver, October 15. The case involves a tract of land 150 miles long and 50 miles wide in the Salt river valley, Arizona. There are 4,750,000 acres in the claim, a large part of which is capable of irrigation. By the expenditure of $5,000,000 it is estimated that the lands will be worth $50,000,000. The city of Phoenix is located on the grant, and the celebrated ruins of the Casa Grande are also in its boundaries. Remains of prehistoric irrigation ditches show that the land was once under a high degree of cultivation. The case promises to attract general attention on account of the amount involved and the romance of its history. This land was obtained from the Mexican Government by the United States, and both by the terms of the Gadsden purchase and the Guadalupe Hidalgo all the old Mexican titles are guaranteed by the United States Government. Now this land was granted in 1742 by Emperor Ferdinand of Spain to Don Miguel Peralto, a Spanish Knight of the Golden Fleece and baron of Colorado. His sole descendant is the wife of J. A. Peralto Reavis, and in her name the contest is to be made. If she is successful she will be paid $1.25 per acre for all the land occupied by settlers. The latter are not disturbed, however, as they are fully protected by their grants from the United States.

TO TEST PAVEMENTS.

Contracts have been let for paving Washington boulevard, Warren avenue and Park avenue from Fortieth street to Garfield Park with asphalt. Washington boulevard from Halsted street to Western avenue and from Fortieth street to Fifty-second street is to be paved with the same material. Some of the property owners on those streets are enthusiastic and claim that the asphalt pavement is a great improvement. Others are not so well pleased, inasmuch as the cost over wooden block pavement will be increased from $1 to $1.25 a square yard. Wooden pavements can be laid for $1.25 a square yard while asphalt costs from $2.25 to $2.50 per yard But the advocates of this kind of pavement claim that it is the cheaper in the long run,

The principal objection to the asphalt pavement is its smoothness, which, it is claimed, does not admit of a foothold for the horses. Instances are cited where animals have slipped and fallen on this smooth surface and were so badly injured that they had to be shot. Friends of the asphalt say that if the pavement is properly laid no objection ean be raised on this score. The method of laying is somewhat as follows: A layer of asphalt half an inch thick is first put down, on which is laid the top course of asphalt two inches thick. The second course, if properly laid, will be elastic enough to give with every stroke of a horse's foot. This is the secret of a good asphalt pavement. It must not only be substantial but must also be sufficiently elastic to afford a sure footing. The supporters of this method of paving claim that both these requisites can be obtained. They say that asphalt pavements that have been laid for years have been found to improve with age.

The pavement discussion is of vital interest to the entire city. Heretofore it has taken the form of unprofitable wrangling between the representatives of the various paving interests. Now it is time that some practical method be adopted to settle the question. Not long ago Contractor James G McBean offered to pave half of Washington street, from La Salle to Clark street, with cedar blocks free of charge, if the asphalt companies would pave the other half block with their material, as a test of the respective pavements. This challenge was submitted to some of the leading asphalt paving companies, but as yet none of them have seen fit to accept it. Until they do so or offer some reasonable explanation of their refusal, it will be taken for granted by the average citizen that they are afraid to enter into such a competition. The claim of the other paving companies is that, though asphalt may be a good material for residence streets, it is not suited to withstand the heavy traffic of the downtown district. This can only be determined by a practical test, which should be made at once.

REAL ESTATE ADVERTISING.

More good money is wasted in real estate advertising than in probably any other line of special advertising. It is only rarely that we come across a distinctive and original worker in this field. Even in the great city of New York there is but one who has impressed his individuality upon the public mind to such an extent that his name and familar trade-mark are known to countless thousands who have absolutely no interest in that which he offers for sale.

I refer, of course, to Jere Johnson and his flag, whose fame is not confined to New York, but ramifies wherever Gotham journals are read, and wherever unique advertising has its votaries.

Many imitators have risen up, but none have succeeded in stamping their impress upon public opinion as he has done. They have sought to wrench from him his commercial coat of arms, but he has rallied around his flag, and has defended his rights to its exclusive use by a successful appeal to the courts.

If there is a Jere Johnson in Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Cincinnati, St. Louis or in any other of the large cities, a careful examination of the real estate columns of the journals of those cities have failed to reveal his identity.

The fact of the matter is, this class of advertisers have gotten into a rut that will require heroic treatment to dislodge them from.

The predominating trouble with real estate advertising is generalism. Take the average business announcement of this class, and the space contracted for in the advertising columns is dumped full of words that suffocate for lack of breathing and elbow room. All advertising must be made sufficiently attractive typographically to attract the eye, and especially such advertisements as appeal to a circumscribed clientele.

A very small proportion of newspaper readers buy lots or houses, and many who do, do so because they think they are getting a bargain. Here, then, it seems to me, is the secret. There must be a bargain counter for realty as well as for dry goods and other lines. Discard the dull and prosaic formula of past years, and inject a little "scenic prettiness" into these advertisements.

If necessary, clamor for attention in black gothics, but don't whisper yourself hoarse in minion that is not insulated with plenty of open space. Above all, talk practical common sense, and avoid boom braggadocio

Remember that it is sheer extravagance to try to crowd too much into your space. You'd better light your cigar with the treasury note that pays the bill. If you have a variety of properties on your books, don't endeavor to see how many of them you can squeeze into your little square or two of advertising space, but single out one or two at a time—preferably one—and dilate eloquently and logically upon its strong points. Convince your readers that if there ever was a snap, this is it.

Repeat the dose next day with another piece of property, and so on from day to day, till you have made the rounds If your business admits, you could have a dozen of these sort of advertisements running all the time. Don't bunch them together. It would be like trying to select a suit of clothes from a store full of garments, all equally alluring to the eye and purse Go into details describing the fetching characteristics of your houses. Sentiment isn't dead by any means, and if it were it would come to life again at the prospect of providing some one with a home. As near as possible, give the exact price and the precise terms. If you omit this, you might lose the chance to sell, where so many bargains, probably as good as yours, are on the market, and being offered on the same page or in the same column.

If you are conducting a rental agency, spare yourself the trouble of filling your space if you are not going to quote the rent of the house advertised. Too many advertisements can be found that read equally as well as yours, and which give this desired information, to admit of your displaying such short-sighted policy. Don't strive to gild or deceive. Tell the truth. Be honest. But seven days in the week be distinctive.

Lie awake nights thinking up something that characterizes none of your competitor's advertisements. Think carefully, and when you settle upon it, be it a catch phrase or an engraved device, stick to it as tenaciously as though it were your best jewel. Set deliberately to work to make people associate that phrase or device with your name and business. Do that, and success will rest proudly upon your banner. —Printer's Ink.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

DECISION OF INTEREST TO BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS.

International Building and Loan Association vs. Thos. H. Abbott. The facts of the case are simply these: In January, 1881, Mr. Abbott became a member of the association and bought seven shares in the first series of the face value of $200, payable at the rate of $1 per month. In April, 1886, he purchased six shares in the fifth series, and then he applied for a loan upon his thirteen shares. He was allowed to borrow $1,440, and this was paid to him, he executed his note for $2,600, which amount, it was agreed, should bear 6 per cent. interest and should be payable monthly. By these terms he was required to pay $13 monthly as payment on his shares and $13 interest, in all $26 per month, until the total value of his thirteen shares amounted to $2,600.

Mr. Abbott kept this agreement until November, 1890, and had paid in: stock, $923; interest, $715; in all $1,638, and refused to make further payments.

In 1891 the association resolved that all borrowers in the first series who had made ninety monthly payments, should be released from further payment; Mr. Abbott would have been entitled to this benefit, but he was seven months in arrears, and was not making any payment.

The association contended that a borrowing member's shares should be separated from the loan and not be credited as payments of the principal; in other words, should be placed upon the same basis as other stockholders.

Judge King held that $13 per month on a capital of $1,440 was usurious, though only a trifle over 10 per cent. and a device. He therefore gave judgment for Mr. Abbott cancelling his thirteen shares and directing that they be applied to the payment of the principal. The association to take nothing by the suit and to pay costs.

Against this judgment the association appealed, and Justice Henry has just given his decision as follows:

"It was error to hold that the contract was usurious. In considering the question of usury payments made for stock in the corporation should not be estimated. Such payments are not made for the use of borrowed money, but through them the shareholder acquires an interest in the property of the corporation. The shareholder is not necessarily also a borrower. There is no inconsistency in the double relation. If not also a borrower the retiring stockholder withdraws the value of his stock. If he is also a borrower he uses it to pay his debt with. Whether or not that debt is tainted with usury will depend solely upon the amount of interest contracted to be paid. It is clear that the payment for stock was not a device to cover usury."

On this ground the judge has reversed Judge King's decision and remanded the case for retrial.

A similar decision has recently been handed down by the Supreme Court of Arkansas in the case of Judge D. Reeve vs. Ladies' Building Association of Little Rock. Reeve borrowed money from the society, and, after getting the money, refused to pay dues and set up the charge of usury when the association foreclosed on his property. The case was brought by him in chancery, where he was defeated; he then appealed to the supreme court, which sustained the decision of the lower court. The court took the usual view that the co operative character of the association relieved it from the charge of usury.

APPEAL FROM SPECIAL ASSESSMENT STAYS DELINQUENCY.

Supreme Court of Illinois. People vs. Hughes. When an appeal from a special assessment of land is taken from the decision of the commissioners to the County Court in apt time, and is pending and undetermined at the time application is made for judgment on such assessment, the County Court may properly refuse the application.

EFFECT OF AN UNRECORDED DEED.

Although the legal title passes by an unrecorded deed as between the parties, yet by force of the recording laws it is postponed in favor of a subsequent deed to a bona fide purchaser, which is first recorded; and this rule applies as well to bona fide subsequent purchasers from heirs as to purchasers from the ancestor. It also applies to subsequent purchasers at judicial sales.

EXAMPLE OF A CHAMPERTOUS CONTRACT.

A party claiming title to a tract of land in this State entered into a contract with a real estate agent to convey to the latter one half of such interest in the land as he should finally recover, upon condition that such agent should take possession of the property, employ attorneys, perfect the title and pay all expenses and attorney's fees. Held, that the agreement was champertous and void. But the question of its legality and validity is immaterial except in a suit between the parties to it. Illinois Supreme Court; Burton vs. Perry.

PRESUMPTIONS OF LAW AS TO WILLS.

In McCommon vs. McCommon, the Supreme Court of Illinois laid down among others the following propositions.

The law, in the absence of all evidence, will presume that a person who executes a will or other instrument, does so with a knowledge of its contents and effect, but this presumption will readily yield to evidence tending to show such was not the fact.

The presumption that a testator signing a paper as his will knew and approved of its contents and effect may be rebutted by showing the existence of any suspicious circumstances. Therefore, if the testator, from want of education or from bodily infirmity, was unable to read, or if his capacity at the time of executing the instrument is a matter of doubt, or if the party who is materially benefited by the will has prepared it, or conducted its execution, or has been in a position calculated to exercise undue influence, or if the instrument itself is not consonant to the testator's natural affections and moral duties, a severe, rigorous investigation will be enforced, and probate, will, in general, not be granted, unless the court be satisfied by additional evidence that the paper propounded does really express the true will of the deceased.

Where a will is written or procured to be written, by a person largely benefited by it, this is a circumstance to excite stricter scrutiny and requires stricter proof of volition and capacity; and the increased strictness of scrutiny and proof required in cases of that character is such as to give full and entire satisfaction to the court and jury that the testator was not imposed upon, but that he knew what he was doing, and the disposition he was making when he made his will.

A person of sound mind and memory, who is subjected to no constraint or undue influences, may dispose of his property by will as he sees fit, and the propriety or impropriety of his bequests or devises is a matter with which courts and juries have nothing to do. But when fraud, undue influence or want of testamentary capacity is charged, all the surrounding facts including the bequest itself, its propriety or impropriety, or its reasonableness or unreasonableness, in view of the situation, relations and circumstances of the testator, may be considered as bearing upon the issues thus raised.

DESCRIPTION OF A LOT BY A NUMBERED PLAT.

Supreme Court of Illinois.—Nendell vs. Whiting et al. When land is purchased and conveyed as a designated lot in a designated block and subdivision, and no other description is given of it, then the authentic plat of such subdivision is as much a part of the deed as if set out in it, and the purchaser will be restricted to the boundaries of the lot as shown by the plat.

ACTUAL POSSESSION REQUISITE TO ESTABLISH TITLE BY LIMITATION.

The Supreme Court of Illinois, in the case of Gage vs. Smith et al, has decided that a plea to a bill to set aside tax deeds as clouds on the title to lots alleged in the bill to be in the possession of the complainant, setting up section 7 of the limitation law as a bar, alleging the payment of all taxes on the property for seven successive years under color of title, while it was vacant and unoccupied, is fatally defective if it fails to show that the party so paying the taxes took the actual possession of the lots after the payment for the seven years' taxes.

When the color of title made in good faith, and the payment of taxes for seven successive years on vacant and unoccupied land have become united with the actual possession of the holder of such color of title, then and not until then the bar of section 7 of the limitation act, becomes complete, operative and available against the holder of the true title.

LIABILITY OF MEMBERS OF COMMON COUNCIL FOR DAMAGES.

The United States Circuit Court for the District of Oregon, in the case of William I. Balls vs. Tyler Woodward et al, has decided that the members of the common council of the city of Portland are not liable for an injury to the plaintiff from a defective sidewalk. The case brought out the following facts:

By its charter, the city of Portland is declared not to be liable to anyone for an injury resulting from a defective condition of the streets; but any officer thereof, who by his "willful neglect" thereabout, of a duty enjoined by law, causes such injury, is so liable.

The common council is bound by the charter to provide by ordinance for the repair of the streets, and if it willfully neglects so to do, the members thereof are liable personally in damages to any one who is injured in consequence thereof.

The common council can not be said to willfully neglect to order the repair of a street, unless it has actual or constructive notice of its defective condition; and the fact that the defect was open to common observation, is such constructive notice.

The outer walls will be of light colored stone, pressed brick and terra cotta. The interior will be cut into about 400 rooms. The rooms will be in hardwood and heated by steam. CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire. The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every performance. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome pleasure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

It is undeniable that the cholera scare has been the great bear influence of the week—so great that stocks have taken a tumble and all financial activity has been seriously threatened. The mere prospect of an epidemic so serious as that of Asiatic cholera in this country is sufficient to paralyze business on all the exchanges. The announcement that a vessel having on board cases of the disease had been quarantined in New York was sufficient to strike terror into speculative circles and make room for serious doubts as to the future prosperity which has been so freely prophesied of late. It is undeniable that the prices of very many stocks, especially of railroads, have been kept up through the prospect of a large carrying trade during the crop season and the World's Fair year. The gaunt spectre of cholera is a direct menace both to the crop movement and the Exposition. So that there is little wonder that the appearance of the disease in New York harbor should be the signal for a sharp decline in prices on all the stock exchanges.

But the scare is evidently greater than it need be, so far as the actual consequences to be feared are concerned. Better far that the apprehension should be widely felt now than later on when it would be impossible to take such precautionary measures as if taken now will stamp out the disease before it obtains a foothold. The prompt measures for relief which have been set on foot by the President and the boards of health of the leading cities will doubtless prevent any spread of the disease in this country. Meantime the disturbing influence of the scare cannot fail to be felt on the stock markets for some time to come.

The continued outflow of gold is another noticeable feature of the week. Imports of gold began in 1891 on the first day of September. It was naturally expected therefore that there would be an inward movement of the metal about the same time this year. This expectation is not to be realized, as several New York houses announce that they will ship gold to-day, and it is altogether probable that at least $2,000,000 of gold will go out by steamer from New York this afternoon.

Money is firmer but still plentiful. The increased demand has given tone to the money market and advanced rates, so that large sums of idle money which for a long time have been shut up in the banks are now invested. At the same time no section of the country is suffering for lack of ready money at fair rates of interest. In this respect the situation is peculiarly satisfactory.

The cholera news had its influence on the grain markets as well as on the stock exchanges. This influence was not so marked, however, on the former as it was on the latter. The break which followed the announcement that cholera had actually found a foothold in this country was strengthened almost at once by news of the precautions taken by the President and by reports of cold weather in the Northwest. The activity in corn has been more marked than that in wheat. This is due to the fact that the corn crop in certain sections is not as well developed as it may be, while the situation in wheat approaches more nearly to a certainty. Rain is needful to maintain the development of corn, while wheat is being rapidly marketed.

The news gathering facilities of the country are so rapid that every exchange of prominence is at once similarly affected by a favorable or unfavorable report like that which has dominated ad this week. The depression is thus not local—it is national. But the contrary effect is as rapidly produced; and no doubt favorable news within the next few days will again strengthen the markets.

†Not included in totals.

The total of the bank clearings for the week as given above shows a slight falling-off from the totals of the previous week. But as compared with the corresponding week last year the increase is gratifying. It is noticeable that the percentage of increase in the total excluding New York is about the same this week as the preceding week. New York shows an increase of only 4.1 per cent. Last week it showed a decrease of 5.8 per cent. These unfavorable figures were due to an almost total stagnation of business on the stock exchanges. An effort was made by certain operators to boom stocks, but the bears raided the market successfully, with the aid of the cholera scare and the unfavorable influences of the recent strikes. It was merely a continuation of the bear influences which have been manifest for so many months, and which have combined to keep the market in a state of chronic inactivity. New York is pre-eminently the speculative centre of the continent. Its bank clearings indicate more clearly than do those of any other city the relative condition of the speculative interest. Transactions in stocks largely contribute to swell the total of the bank clearings of New York city. Outside of New York the opposite is true. Throughout the smaller cities of the Union any increase or decrease in the clearings totals indicates a corresponding increase or decrease in commercial activity. New New York is essentially financial; the outside cities are commercial. This distinction should be kept constantly in mind in comparing the clearings totals.

Keeping this distinction in mind, we see that the present activity is almost entirely commercial. In a week when the New York clearings decreased 5.8 per cent, those of the entire country, excluding New York, increased 9 3 per cent. In the week now under consideration a similar contrast is shown. New York increases only 4 1 per cent, while the outside cities increase 9 8 per cent. These instances show the relative proportion of commercial and speculative activity. As a matter of fact we find that reports from all parts of the country confirm the deductions made from the table. From Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, St. Louis and Kansas City come reports of increased trade, beyond the usual expectations at this time of year. The demand for dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, hardware, manufactured iron, lumber and flour is exceptionally good. Crops in all sections are reported large; so that prices tend lower, and the scarcity of cars on leading lines of railroad is likely to cause delay and perhaps loss in marketing. Every indication points to a commercial activity exceeding that of last year. On the other hand, securities are bearish. American stocks continue to be out of favor abroad; and every attempt at a bull movement seems likely to come to naught for the present. Investments are not encouraged by the firmer condition of the money market, which has been naturally strengthened by the demand for money to move crops.

The grand total of the clearings for four weeks of August, 1892, was $4,097 millions, as compared with $3,873 millions in the corresponding four weeks of 1891. This is certainly not a bad showing. The clearings of the whole country for July were $4,638 millions, against $4,392 millions in 1891. The total from January to August were $35,844,807,118, against $31,-565,049,371 in 1891, showing an increase of more than 13½ per cent. The Southern aggregates are $1,636,-658,547, against $1,610,106,174 last year, with a rapid increase in July of 10 per cent and a prospect of 12 per cent increase for the whole year. Outside of New York the seven months' clearings were $14,356 millions, against $13,031 millions last year, while New York clearings were $21,488 millions, against $18,534 in 1891; those of Chicago $2,844 millions, against $2,-449 millions in 1891; those of Boston $2,866 millions, against $2,711 last year; those of Philadelphia $2,218 millions, against $1,895 millions; those of St. Louis $692 millions, against $632 millions; while the clearings of the Western States were $5,270 millions, against $4,516 millions in 1891, showing an increase of more than 17 per cent during the fiscal year.

The above figures are commended to the careful perusal of those who can see nothing hopeful in the present situation. The following analysis by groups of states, showing a substantial increase in every group except one, may also be considered in the same connection.

RECENT MOVEMENTS OF ST. PAUL STOCK.

Some apprehension has arisen in certain quarters as to the probable meaning of the heavy shipments of English holdings of St. Paul and other similar stocks which have recently been sent over to the Wall street market. It has been rumored that the intention is to suddenly unload these stocks and thus precipitate a drop in prices. Mr. Frank S. Bond, Vice-President of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, says: "It is true that within a short period about $10,000,000 of St. Paul has been shipped to this country, but we are not a bit apprehensive as to a general unloading, for the stock has been handled by arbitrage people, who sell the exchange for gold and ship it back. They make more money this way than if they held the stock." Speaking of St. Paul's preliminary statement for the year, which he is now making up, Mr. Bond said: "The statement will be ready by September 8, and may be earlier. The net earnings are known already, and there will not be a very great change in the item of 'other income' The matter of the dividend has not been discussed at all. Anybody who says he knows what will be done is simply guessing as to what twelve men will do when they come together. Reports that the dividend will be one sum or another, or that there will be none, are simply rumors for stock market purposes. There will be plenty of them, probably, for a time. It is not judicious to say anything about the report. It will show for itself when issued."

With the balance of trade so strongly against Europe the exchange of her American securities is a necessity. Naturally foreign holders prefer to send over their best stocks rather than their poorer holdings, because they can get good prices for the good ones now, while the value of the cheaper securities is largely prospective and can only be realized by holding on to them. The fact that the market can withstand such a wholesale dumping of stocks as has been going on for some time is the best possible evidence of the real strength of the financial situation in this country.

INGENIOUS SWINDLERS.

The public have been surprised of late at the successful operations of a swindler in the east who succeeded in passing bogus checks on a number of summer hotels and made good his escape before the fraud was discovered. The bold knavery of this class of swindlers is inexplicable to the average business man, but the wonder is that they are so seldom caught and punished as they deserve. A number of similar cases have recently come to our notice. In nearly all of them justice failed to apprehend the culprits and they are still at large.

One of the most ingenious of swindles was that worked on two banks at Memphis, Tenn., recently. The story is that on July 22, Samuel Hirsch, an insurance agent, received a letter in an envelope bearing the name Gayoso Hotel, and signed by James W. Graham. The writer stated that he had just arrived in the city with letters of introduction to Mr. Hirsch, and asked to be informed as to when it would be convenient for that gentleman to receive him. Mr Hirsch replied, naming 2 p. m. About the same time Lawyer R. A. Jordan received a similar letter from the Gayoso, also signed by James W. Graham, and he, too, happened to fix upon 2 o'clock p. m., as the hour which he could most conveniently receive Mr. Graham and letters of introduction. About an hour later a well-dressed, smooth-spoken young man with a light moustache, dropped in at the German Bank and presented a check for $300 on the First National Bank of Little Rock, made payable to the order of the drawer, George W. Emery, and indorsed by him. It was also indorsed by 'Will Emery.' "I am Will Emery," said the young man to Paying Teller Selden. "You must get an indorser that we know, as you are a stranger," said Mr. Selden. "All right," replied the young man; "how will Sam Hirsch do, his office is just up stairs, here?" "He's all right," said Selden. The stranger walked out and went up stairs. In a few moments he came down again and presented the check. This time it had Mr. Hirsch's name on the back, and was paid. Within ten minutes he had played the same game on the Bank of Commerce, only in this case the alleged indorser was R. A. Jordan, and the amount of the check $100. The smooth stranger then disappeared and his present whereabouts are unknown. The drafts came back from Little Rock protested. No such person as George W. Emery is known to the bank. The neat young man had simply made out his checks, found out that Hirsch and Jordan had offices over the two banks, obtained their signatures in reply to his notes from the hotel, and the rest was easy. The imitation of the signatures of the two gentlemen on the backs of the checks is absolutely perfect. It is thought that the swindler is now located at Toledo, Ohio.

THE AGE OF PAPER.

The world has seen its iron age and its brazen age, but this is the age of paper. We are making so many things of paper that it will soon be true that without paper there is nothing made. We live in paper houses, wear paper clothing, and sit on paper cushions in paper cars rolling on paper wheels. If we lived in Bergen, Norway, we could go on Sundays to a paper church.

We do a paper business over paper counters, buying paper goods, paying for them with paper money, and deal in paper stocks on paper margins. We row races in paper boats for paper prizes. We go to paper theaters where paper actors play to paper audiences.

As the age develops the coming man will become more deeply enmeshed in the paper net. He will awake in the morning and creep from under the paper clothing of his paper bed and put on his paper dressing gown and his paper slippers. He will walk over paper carpets, down paper stairs, and seating himself in a paper chair will read the paper news in the morning paper. A paper bell will call him to his breakfast, cooked in a paper oven, served on paper dishes, laid on a paper cloth on a paper table. He will wipe his lips with a paper napkin, and having put on his paper shoes, paper hat and paper coat, and then taking his paper stick (he has the choice of two descriptions already), he will walk on a paper pavement or ride in a paper carriage to his paper office. He will organize paper enterprises and make paper profits.

He will sail the ocean on paper steamships and navigate the air in paper balloons. He will smoke a paper cigar or paper tobacco in a paper pipe, lighted with a paper match. He will write with a paper pencil, whittle paper sticks with a paper knife, go fishing with a paper fishing rod, a paper line and a paper hook, and put his catch in a paper basket. He will go shooting with a paper gun, loaded with paper cartridges, and will defend his country in paper forts with paper canon and paper bombs. Having lived his paper life and achieved a paper fame and paper wealth, he will retire to paper leisure and die in paper peace. There will be a paper funeral, at which the mourners, dressed in paper crape, will wipe their eyes with paper handkerchiefs, and the preacher will preach in a paper pulpit. He will lie in a paper coffin; he has a chance of doing so already if he is a paper—we mean pauper. He will be wrapped in a paper shroud, his name will be engraved on a paper plate, and a paper hearse, adorned with paper plumes, will carry him to a paper lined grave, over which will be raised a paper monument.—Paper Record.

THE LAW IS POWERLESS.

The utter powerlessness of the courts in their efforts to control monopolies is illustrated vividly in the case of the recent Reading ligitation. It is notorious that the Reading operators have combined on a gigantic scale to put up the price of coal. That they have been successful in this effort is best evidenced by the recent unprecedented advance in the price of anthracite coal in this and other cities. No better proof of the iniquity of the combine is needed than the fact that while operating expenses have been greatly reduced and retail dealers' profits almost annihilated, the price of coal has been increased to a figure unknown in this market at this time of the year for many years before. Now come the people of New Jersey, exasperated beyond measure at the impudence of the combine, and through their attorney general they ask some relief from the clutch of this grasping monopoly. Chancellor McGill is appealed to, and his decision is sweeping against the combine. One of the monopoly's own organs states the case none too strongly, perhaps, when it says. "The decision of Chancellor McGill, of New Jersey, in the Reading suit, grants everything that the attorney general of the State asks, and allows Reading nothing."

But what of it? What is Chancellor McGill going to do about it? What if the Reading combine has got the entire country by the throat and is calling on the rich and poor alike for millions of tribute? The hopelessness of the situation so far as the courts are concerned is well set forth in the statement of Presinent McLeod, of the Reading, as follows:

"I have no information as to the contents of the opinion filed by the Chancellor, but if it is as I suppose, that he has restrained by injunction the operation of the Central Railroad of New Jersey by the Port Reading Company, the practical operation of the property will be at once surrendered to the Directors of the Central. This cannot have the effect of changing or disarranging our traffic arrangements in any way. These arrangements are so obviously advantageous to both parties that neither could afford to interrupt or change them. The only difference will be that the business will be conducted under the immediate directions of Mr. Maxwell, as President of the Central, instead of the Port Reading. I am satisfied Mr. Maxwell will conduct these operations just as economically and advantageously as they could be under the lease, and as Mr. Maxwell and his associates of his board own their own right and absolute majority of the stock of the Central the continuance the joint operation of these properties is permanently assured.

"It will not effect the coal trade either. No part of it is in the hands of either the Central, the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, or the Port Reading; that is a wholly different subject. The Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company controls the output of the coal companies, and of most of the individual operations on all three lines, by contracts in Pennsylvania, which is authorized by law and its charter to make, and will continue in the future its business of putting its coal on the markets at as fair prices as it is able to secure."

The highest tribunals in the land are powerless over such gigantic monopolies as the coal combine. Meanwhile, is it any wonder that the people who pay tribute to these barons are restive under the yoke?

GOOD ROAD CONVENTION.

A practical movement in favor of good roads has been set on foot in several of the western states where road improvement is most needed. In Nebraska a call has been issued to the people of the state by the Trade Journal for a road convention to be held November 15th to 17th at the board of trade rooms in Omaha. The reasons set forth for the convention are that every business man and every farmer is, or should be interested in good roads, and should be willing to give some time and thought toward solving the problem of road making in this State. Good country roads are almost as essential to the welfare of the producers, and the commercial welfare of the State, in the matter of transportation, as good railroad facilities, and it is strange that so little attention in times past has been given to so important a matter.

The question of better roads at the present time is attracting much thought and attention all over the United States, and in many States steps have already been taken to secure reform and method in the matter of raising revenue for and construction of public highways. The State of Iowa has recently held a very enthusiastic convention for the purpose of considering the question and devising ways and means to bring about reform and improvements in road making in that State. That convention was attended by over four hundred people from all parts of the State, and many of the brainiest men of the State were present and took an active part in the deliberations of the convention.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The tendency in the stock market during the last week has been almost uniformly downward. What even new ranges of prices have been established instead of marking high points have been lower figures. With no appreciable support the market began settling down from sheer force of gravity. This movement has been accelerated by cholera rumors and by sympathy with the depression of the New York markets induced by the reports. The speculative markets respond with marvellous rapidity to news from the cholera infected localities and to the fear expressed that the United States can scarcely fail to experience the epidemic in some degree. Aside from the rumors of cholera there has been nothing made public to cause any movement in the local market. There has been a remarkable dearth of news in financial circles.

To be sure new changes have been rung on the old tale of a beer war settlement. These rumors unsubstantiated by authorized details fail to pass current at par. The appearance of the story in the form presented last week was the occasion of an advance in prices resembling a boom. The advance was made far too rapidly and it proved to be unwarranted; prices have been settling down ever since. Everyone professes to believe that a settlement will be reached which will be satisfactory to the brewery interests, and that the consummation of some deal of this nature is only a matter of time. The fact that the stock is selling within a few points of par is evidence that this is the opinion held by investors and operators generally. The war has been going on however, for the greater part of a year, and if the direct statement of President Raulston of the Milwaukee and Chicago Brewers' Association, is to be depended upon, is far from settled. The dividend earning power of the common stock of the Chicago Brewing and Malting company depend entirely on the success of pending negotiations for a trade agreement. At present prices for the product there is not profit enough in manufacturing to more than provide for the preferred stock. For weeks it has been nothing but advance after advance in railway stocks. Now it is decline after decline, and the best posted brokers seem to be on the wrong side of the market. At the Exchange Monday the street railroad stocks looked up a trifle and the high points of the week were registered with 207 for West Chicago stock and 255 for North Chicago. Tuesday the market was off color and Wednesday the closing prices were 195 and 253 for West and North Chicago street railway stocks, respectively. The break came on Thursday and West Chicago stock opening with sales at 191 scaled down to 185, and North Chicago broke short off to 240 and 211. There was no question as to the existence of stop orders and orders to sell. On Thursday alone 2,860 shares of stock changed hands. The story which is circulated on apparently good authority that there are only 5,000 shares of floating stock, loses its force when over one-half of that amount comes out at one day's market. It is surprising how speculators and in some cases conservative business men have argued themselves into a belief that the recent phenomenal advance in West Chicago stock was warranted by circumstances. Instead of realizing on part of their holdings as the market went up toward 230, they continued their purchases and reckoned their paper profits. If the facts were all known it would be found that there were few people who actually made anything like the great profits possible in the advance to 232½. The market has been an illustration of the maxim which has been quoted time out of mind by bankers, that prices can come down even more easily than they go up. The market price for West Chicago on Thursday, Sept. 1, was 5 points lower than on Aug. 1. In fact as successful a turn could have been made by a short sale at the high point of 232½, as by a purchase made at the early part of August and realized upon at the very top notch. There has either been a great lack of information regarding the stock, or a studied effort to misinform the public. The first declines were called "shake outs" until the sag became of sufficient magnitude to shake out everyone but the actual investors who have been holding their stock for months.

On Monday a meeting of the stockholders in the Lake street elevated railway company was held to ratify the reorganization of the company under the general railroad act and to transfer the property of the Lake Street Elevated Railway company to the Lake Street Elevated Railroad company. The stock of the company remains the same and there has been no change made in the Directory. The change simply furnishes a more satisfactory basis for financiering the road and for providing for a valid bond issue. Some of the floating stock which has been offered at about 26 has been taken out of the market in view of the more favorable outlook for the company. A review of the market could practically be complete without any mention of the stock of Streets Stable Car company. This security, if it may be so termed, seems to have fallen into disrepute. It has been dull and heavy and on Thursday sold down squarely to 32 in sympathy with the rest of the market. Canal and Dock was dull and heavy and the range of industrial stocks outside of the brewery securities has been without incident.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

AN IMPORTANT HARRISON STREET SALE—DEMAND FOR RESIDENCE PROPERTY—SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

There is the same conspicuous absence of large and important deals in real estate which has been a characteristic during the entire season. The only transfer of note in the down town district was the southeast corner of Harrison street and Pacific avenue from Carter H. Harrison to the Chicago Telephone Company. The lot has a west frontage of 110 feet and is 110 feet in depth. It was transferred at a consideration of $165,000. The lot is practically unimproved and will be built up with a fine modern building for the use of the company making purchase. Negotiations for the lot have been under way for some time. The price is equivalent to $15 a square foot. The transfer list from day to day is filled with the record of small sales of residence property for actual improvement and occupancy, and with the record of exchanges of property. In a dull season, the business of trading properties seems to flourish. In many cases, the trades have no particular significance as in an effort to realize owners trade their property heavily encumbered for something even more heavily encumbered. The records of this week contain deeds in part for property transferred from the celebrated horseman "Whitehat" McCarty to James P. McCarthy. Both the parties to the transaction are San Francisco men and all of the property sold by Mr. McCarty was taken in trade for fine horses, most of it coming from James Stinson. The property consists of 450 feet on Hastings street near Ashland boulevard, 250 feet on Jefferson near Twenty-second street, 200 feet on Archer avenue and Market place, 100 feet at the corner of Armitage avenue and Hoyne street and a brick house on Hoyne street near Armitage avenue. The transfer was made at a consideration of a trifle less than $100,000.

Real estate men expect much from the fall trade in residence property and what is known as second class income business property. It is possible and even quite probable that the market in these specialties will become quite active. The actual demand for property for occupancy is growing stronger, and the exceedingly high range of prices prevailing in first-class down town business property has induced some inquiry for the business property on South State street, Milwaukee avenue, Blue Island avenue and similar thoroughfares.

The abuse of the special assessment system is making outside investors unwilling to handle unimproved property and to this condition of affairs may be attributed a fair proportion of the dullness and inactivity in the acre and subdivision market. Instances of gross carelessness in levying assessments are constantly reported. A case, for instance, was cited a short time ago where assessments were levied for house drains before any assessments had been made for a sewer to which these house drains should be connected. In another case, an owner of West Side acres wholly unimproved and unoccupied, is assessed for stone side walk to be built on his property and although this assessment is in force now, no grade for the street itself has been established. The system of making assessments long before the actual work is done is bitterly complained of, especially by householders of the poorer class. The system is inclined to discourage, rather than to encourage the holding of property in fee simple by the masses, as in many cases it can be actually demonstrated that the man who has continued to pay rent is actually better off than the man who bought an unimproved lot, built a home on it and has been struggling ever since to pay interest, taxes and special assessments. In a city of the size and location of Chicago, it seems a pity that conditions and values are such as to preclude the possibility of general ownership of property in the form of homes by the poorer people.

VAN BUREN STREET TO HAVE ANOTHER LARGE BUILDING.

A ten-story building to cost not less than $250,000 is to be erected by a Chicago capitalist on the southwest corner of Van Buren street and Custom House place. The lot has a frontage of 60 feet and is 100 feet deep. It has been sold by the former owner, a Pittsburg capitalist, to a Chicago man who will commence the construction of the new building immediately after May 1st next. The recent sale was made at about $350,000.

This property has been in the market for some time and is one of the pieces that was considered by the Western Union Telegraph Company a few months ago when it was considering the advisability of securing a location of its own for a permanent building. The principal objection at that time was that adjoining lots, needed to give the company all the space it wanted, could not be secured at prices that the Western Union considered fair. The present deal is an interesting one, as it assures the improvement of a corner that has hitherto been but little thought of, and is strong evidence of the faith of local owners in the future prominence of Van Buren street. It will form one of a cluster of new structures that are about to be erected in the vicinity of Dearborn and Van Buren streets. These include the Monadnock building, which is being extended to the latter street; the New England building at the southeast corner of Van Buren and Dearborn, which Bryan Lathrop is erecting, and the new building which the Aldises propose to construct at the southeast corner of Clark and Van Buren. The sale of the corner of Custom House and Van Buren street is interesting from a real estate standpoint, as it shows the enormous increase in values in that vicinity. The property was bought by the trustees of the German Methodist Episcopal church right after the fire for $15,000, or $250 per front foot. They erected on it a combination of church and business block similar to the First Methodist Episcopal Church block. But owing to financial mismanagement the enterprise was a failure and the property was sold under foreclosure proceedings. Since then it has changed hands several times, always at advanced prices, but the present sale will probably mark the last transfer for some time to come. The building to be erected is understood to be about ten stories high, and is to cost about $250,000.

AUCTION SALES GOSSIP—THE MOVEMENT ON THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The auction sale feature on the Real Estate Exchange cannot be said to be a pronounced success as yet, but the perseverance of the secretary of the Exchange and some of the more enthusiastic members is certainly commendable. At Wednesday's sale about twenty persons were present, and thirteen pieces of property were offered, but none of them was sold. One difficulty which confronted the enterprise at the start has been overcome—the inability to get property for sale. The list now begins to show healthy proportions and is increasing every week. There is a natural increase in interest also, so that the officers of the Exchange are encouraged to believe that the auction feature will yet be a great success.

Several members of the Real Estate Board have secured booths in the auction room at 59 Dearborn street by paying a year's rent in advance. It is expected that regular auction sales will be begun there this month. A report was recently circulated to the effect that an opposition movement threatened to reverse the decision of the board as to auction sales, and would repeal the resolution passed in July whereby sales were authorized. This is thought to be merely an idle rumor, as the preparations for sales have now gone so far that not even the most conservative members would be likely to oppose the measure.

A WABASH AVENUE NINETY NINE-YEAR LEASE.

Henry C. Walker has leased to the Studio Building company the property at 292 and 294 Wabash avenue, 33½ feet front, for 99 years, at a yearly rental of $9,000 without revaluation. This lease is made to take effect on the expiration of the present lease on the property, which has five years and eight months yet to run at a monthly rental of $625, so that the lease is in reality for 104⅔ years. The property is at present improved, with a two-story brick structure of uncertain age which will be removed at the expiration of the 5⅔ year term. The Studio Building company will then erect a substantial structure on the premises, to cost not less than $50,000. The officers of this company are: Newton H. Carpenter, president; Arthur J. Stevens, secretary. Mr. Walker first contracted to build for the company on the premises, but found that certain of his tenants would not surrender their leases without the payment of exorbitant bonuses, so that the transaction was necessarily modified to the form of a straight ninety-nine-year lease.

AN IMPORTANT SALE.

The sale of the southeast corner of Harrison street and Pacific avenue, 110 by 110 feet, by Carter H. Harrison to the Chicago Telephone company, was the most important transaction of the week. This sale was negotiated by Chamberlain & Patterson. The price paid was $165,000. cash The property is now encumbered with old frame improvements, which will be torn down at once to make room for the new building of the Telephone company. This property is said to have been the first piece bought by Mr. Harrison in Chicago some forty years ago.

MISREPRESENTATION.

Our attention has been called to a paragraph in an eastern paper, taken, we are sorry to say, from a Chicago daily, which is such a one-sided and misleading statement of a case evidently almost wholly fanciful, that it needs no explanation to condemn it utterly in minds of every intelligent person. The paragraph is as follows:

CHICAGO BUILDING SWINDLES.

"See that fine flat there," said a prominent builder to a clubman, pointing to an elegant stone-front building on a handsome South Side street. "Well, the man who put that building up wasn't worth a dollar in the world. His plan was simple. He let the owner of the lot into his confidence, who let him have it on a ninety-nine year lease at double the rental he would have charged an honest man. Then an accommodating architect made plans for a $25-000 building, these figures being for the broker. who was to get seven per cent for negotiating a $12,500 loan from an Eastern party. Of course, the owner of the lot, the architect and the broker knew it would be put up for $16,000. At this juncture he transfers his lease and ownership to a "friend."

"The work proceeds until some $8000 is expended, and then there is a halt. The original schemer gets out of the way with about $3000 for his trouble. The lender of the money investigates, and finding that $6000 additional will complete the job, finally concludes to take it off the hands of the "friend" who is so considerate as to demand nothing for so doing. Of course the money lender is the victim, because he thinks he is getting $25,000 for $18,500. He doesn't exactly understand it, but is pleased. The owner of the land is happy, because he gets double rent for the land; the architect is happy in that he is paid $300 besides his regular commission; the broker gets 7½ instead of the legitimate 2½ per cent and the schemer and his friend have upwards of $3000. Sharp practice, eh? I know lots of houses built on wind here in Chicago."

It does not require any more intelligence than that of a ten year-old child to see that the above is as gross a misrepresentation of Chicago busines methods as could be indulged in. It is safe to say that no such instance ever occurred; the writer of the story merely drew on his fertile imagination for the purpose of writing something smart. It is unfortunate that he was not content to do this without injury to the reputation of the builders of Chicago. But the worst feature of the case is that the story originated with a Chicago daily newspaper, which ought to know better than to falsely decry the real estate and building interests of its own city.

The cholera scare may have the much desired effect of stimulating the cleaning up of the streets and alleys if nothing else. Too much care in this respect can hardly be exercised both by the street cleaning authorities and the public generally. But other causes may be quite as conducive to the spread of this dread disease as lack of cleanliness. It is said that Dr. Pastuer has written a letter in which he affirms that most of the ice used in Paris this summer is infectious: He declares that freezing does not destroy microbes, and that unfiltered water is just as dangerous when it is iced as it was before. He attributes much of the summer illness called cholerine to impure drinking water.

THE NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF THE PLANS AS REVISED TO DATE—ASSOCIATION FEATURES AND OFFICE ACCOMODATIONS.

The new Young Men's Christian Association building, now in process of erection on the east side of La Salle street just south of Madison street, is destined to be one of the most notable structures in the city. The plans first submitted have been entirely remodeled, and the design as now presented provides for an imposing front and a roomy and well-arranged interior. The work reflects great credit on Messrs Jenney and Mundie, the architects.

The La Salle-st. frontage is 54 feet and consists of a square tower 173 feet high to top of cornice and 228 feet to peak of roof. The main portion, containing the auditorium and gymnasium situated on site of old Farwell Hall and fronting on Arcade Court, is 81 feet by 121 feet. The three lower stories of the tower will be constructed of gray granite and above that the material is terra cotta of same color as granite. The basement contains boiler, machinery for elevators, electric light plant, house pumps, ventilators etc. Three bowling alleys and the large swimming tank 22x71 feet are also located in the basement.

The fourth and mezzanine floor is occupied by baths and lockers, and the fifth and sixth floors are the gymnasium, which will be fitted up with the very best apparatus that is known. The architects and general secretary visited all the best association rooms and the finest athletic clubs in the country and consulted with them before planning the building, and it is the intention to make this portion of the building excel anything of the kind in the country. The seventh floor will be occupied by class rooms.

In the tower or front part of the building, the ground floor corner room. containing 2800 square feet of floor space, will be fitted up as a banking office. The entrance hall to tower and the auditorium is about 20 feet wide and leads to four elevators which are used for offices exclusively, the elevators for the Y. M. C. A. offices and gymnasium being located in the Arcade court entrance. The auditorium, which will be beautifully fitted up, well proportioned and convenient, has a seating capacity of 969. The exits are broad, convenient and numerous.

The second and third floors in the tower will be occupied as the parlor and principal rooms of the Association. The fourth to seventh floors in the tower and the entire floor space on the eighth to thirteenth floors, will be divided into offices, all of which are well lighted and will be finished and fitted up in the most superior manner, with every convenience and luxury that a tenant would desire. No expense will be spared to make this one of Chicago's most beautiful buildings.

The care and renting of the building is intrusted to the well known firm of E. W. Zander & Co., 167 Washington street. Messrs. Zander & Co., report good demand already for offices, considering the present progress of the work, and state that no expense will be spared to make the new building one of the most desirable office structures in the city. Floor plans are now ready for inspection, and offices can be engaged. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy May 1st, 1893.

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO

In speaking of the comparative building activity of New York and Chicago, the New Orleans Times-Democrat says:

Up to 1888 the two cities were about equal in the number of new houses. But those erected in New York were much larger and cost a great deal more. In number, however, they have continued to decline for some years past. There were 4,097 erected in 1886, 3,621 in 1889, 3,521 in 1890, and only 2,821 in 1891. This is a very small number, and no more than a growing city of 250,000 or 300,000 would erect. Even at the rate New York crowds people in its tenement-house district these new houses will not provide for much increase of population, for it must be remembered there are a large number burned each year and old buildings torn down to make way for newer ones. In 1890 the amount spent on house construction was $72,792,000; in 1891 it had fallen to $56,000,000.

In the meanwhile, Chicago, commencing with an average of about 5,000 buildings each year, costing from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, had increased the number to 11,608 in 1890, and 11,805 in 1891, and 6,600 for the first six months in 1892, or a total of 30,015 in two years and a half, against 8,841 in New York in the same period, or more than three to one. Nor are the Chicago buildings cheap affairs. On the contrary, there is a steady improvement in their character and cost. From an average of $20,000,000 a year the cost increased to $47,000,000 in 1890 and $54,000,000 in 1891; and to-day Chicago is not only building four times as many buildings as New York, but spending a great deal more money for them, although the cost for materials is less. During two years and a half Chicago has erected buildings with a frontage of 134 miles, and called for that additional mileage of streets.

ANOTHER ROUTE TO EUROPE.

The route to Europe is destined to be radically changed in the next year or two if present indications are to be relied on. Following the announcement in the JOURNAL of the Labrador route, now comes information that hundreds of men are working on the Canadian Pacific railway's new roadbed, preparatory to starting a new train service between Chicago and Halifax. A prominent Canadian Pacific official is quoted as saying that a representative of the road is now in Europe perfecting arrangements for Atlantic service between Halifax and the nearest English port. He further said that the Canadian Pacific is determined to enter into very active competition for the inter-ocean traffic. The road will be gone over thoroughly. The bridges will in many cases be rebuilt, and the road will be reballasted and put in first class shape. An endeavor will be made to run trains from Chicago to Halifax at the rate of sixty miles per hour, doing the distance in twenty-eight hours. This, with the fast steamers, will give the shortest line between Chicago and Europe, and the Canadian Pacific railway expects to reap much financial benefit.

A NOVEL SCHEME.

The city of Paris resorts to a curious lottery scheme for the purpose of securing a loan from the common people to complete public improvements. Just at present it is contemplated to expend during the coming winter some $40,000,000 in public works. The sum required is to be raised by the issue of bonds which it is proposed to float at a gross rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent. The actual rate paid will probably be 2½ per cent, but the remaining 1½ per cent will be used to provide a sinking fund for the payment of the debt in seventy-five years and also lottery prizes to the amount of 800,000 francs annually. These prizes are the attraction to the small investor which induces him to accept a low rate of interest. It it is now proposed to convert all the outstanding loans of the city in this manner, and to draw prizes until the end of the period fixed for the gradual redemption. This demoralizing game of chance ought to be a brilliant success at the French capital where the gambling spirit is so predominant.

COST OF CARRYING GOLD.

The cost of carrying the big gold shipment of $20,000,000 from San Francisco to New York was $3,500. It was hauled by the railroads under their regular mail contracts, and came through as registered mail. The assistant treasurer at San Francisco had 500 boxes made to hold the gold, at a cost of $1,000. Then there were the personal expenses of fifty-one men who went out to San Francisco and guarded the treasure on its way east. These were the principal expenditures. The laborers at the San Francisco mint were pressed into service to pack and load the money; the regular employes of the railway mail service guarded it, and the mail wagons of the postoffice department were used to carry the boxes to and from the cars. The lowest bid the treasury department could obtain from an express company—the Wells-Fargo Company—for hauling the money was $3 per $1,000 or $60,000. This, of course, would have included the risk of a loss in transit by accident or theft.—Ex.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

The Supreme Court of Ohio, in the case of the State ex rel. v. Insurance Co., has decided that a foreign insurance company exercising its franchises and privileges without authority of law, may be ousted by proceedings in quo warranto. The issuing of a license to a foreign insurance company to do business in this State, says the court, is a ministerial act and therefore not a bar to a proceeding by quo warranto, where it is charged with exercising functions without authority of the law.

A LEASE FOR A TERM OF YEARS WILL BE HELD BINDING ON AN INSOLVENT TENANT.

Supreme court of Pennsylvania, Sweatnam v. Reading Iron Works. This was an appeal from the Court of Common Pleas. The appellant bought a lot at Fifth and Adelphi streets, Philadelphia, and erected thereon an expensive building, at the request and for the exclusive use of the iron works. The general plan and arrangement of the building was furnished and its erection directed and supervised by the officers of the company. As an inducement to the appellant to make the large expenditure proposed, it was agreed that the company should lease the premises, when ready for occupancy, for a term of years, at an annual rent equal to nine per cent on their cost. The board of directors adopted a resolution authorizing their president to execute a lease of the premises "to Virtue C. Sweatnam, in accordance with the agreement made with Mr. Sweatnam prior to the purchase and building of said premises." A lease was accordingly executed by him on behalf of the Reading Iron Works, for ten years from April 1, 1888, at an annual rent of $10,602.01, payable monthly on the first day of each month. The company became insolvent, and made an assignment for the benefit of creditors in May, 1889. The premises were vacated by the assignee on the 31st of July, 1889, to which time rent was paid. Since that time they have been unoccupied or rented for a smaller sum, because of their peculiar arrangement and construction, which, while adapting them to the business of the Reading Iron Works, rendered them inconvenient for other business purposes. The loss to Mr. Sweatnam in rent for the remainder of the ten years the auditor fixes at $40,000. The parties agreed before Sweatman resumed possession that he should do so, and "make the best arrangements he can for renting the property; and that his action shall in no wise prejudice his claim against the assigned estate." The single question presented on these facts is: "Has Mr. Sweatman a cause of action against the Reading Iron Works for damages because of their failure to pay him, as they agreed to do, for his investment made at their request and for their accommodation?" The court below held that he had no such cause. The Supreme Court reversed this decision and gave judgment for the damage claimed.

ACTS SUFFICIENT TO INDICATE THE ACCEPTANCE OF LAND DEDICATED TO A TOWN OR CITY.

In the case of the Town of Lake View v. Mason et al., recently decided by Judge Anthony in favor of the city, and reported in THE JOURNAL the interesting question came up as to what constitutes a sufficient acceptance of land dedicated to the public. In deciding this question the court relied on the fact that the streets in the blocks under consideration were never closed up but have always been open to the lake. Grace street had been opened to the lake over and through this strip of land since 1870.

It was improved part of the way by the town authorities by special assessment, and a macadam roadway made with cinders, clay and gravel, and a sewer laid; and what is known as Nellie avenue had been graded and Addison avenue had been used as a public highway and part of the streets known as Grace, Nellie, Addison and Cornelia avenues are on this strip and all run to the beach and had before the commencement of this litigation been improved and controlled by the town authorities.

The town officers of Lake View when they proceeded to remove fences and other obstructions from the strip of land in question were acting for and on behalf of the town, and their acts showed that they regarded the strip of land as the property of the town, or in its custody and control, and it is well settled that an implied acceptance arises in cases where the public authorities have done acts recognizing the existence of the highway, and treating it as one of the public ways of the locality.

Dedication has its origin in the common law, and a common law dedication is an appropriation of land to some public use made by the owner of the fee and accepted for such use by or on behalf of the public.

The interest which the public thus acquires is merely an easement or right of passage over the soil, the original owner still retaining the fee, together with all rights of property not inconsistent with the public use, and becoming, wherever that use is relinquished or lost, revested with as absolute and exclusive a dominion as he possessed previous to the dedication.

Dedication is a mixed question of law and fact and may be proven in almost every conceivable way, commencing with a direct grant, which is the highest evidence, and extending over the entire field of human actions which may indicate the intention of the party.

In other words, dedications are expressed or implied and may be evidenced by deed or by the acts and declarations of a party or by acquiescence and user.

Our Supreme Court has said that dedications "may be proven in every conceivable way—by a survey and plat one, and by grant, by user and by the acts and declarations of the owner."

In conclusion, the court declared that the evidence showed an intention on the part of Hundley to dedicate the strip to the city and on the other hand such acts on the part of the city as would amount to an acceptance of the dedication. He therefore decided that the land belonged of right to the city.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The disgraceful strikes, which have paralyzed business in three states and checked building operations in New York city, are practically at an end. At Buffalo the contest has been declared off, and in Tennessee an armed truce prevails. The New York building strike is ended, with great loss to the strikers. The Homestead strike is the only one that has any possibility of success, and this is only a bare possibility. At present order is maintained by the militia against the entire town, which is practically made up of members of the Amalgamated Asssociation. Many of these members have been receiving large wages for years and have saved money. They will not readily give up the strike. It is thought they are now only waiting for the militia to leave to drive out the new men by violence. But this plan is sure to be a failure. Sooner or later the strike will be at an end, and then the strikers will be asking themselves the serious question, Does it pay? This aspect of the strike business is the one which always appears after the strike is over. It is like the proverbial locking of the stable door after the horse is stolen. Millions of dollars would not repay the loss to the strikers in their fruitless attempt to force a settlement at their own prices. And after the hopelessness of the attempt has become evident to all the world they will begin to ask, Do strikes pay?

Dr. G. H. Bailey, in a paper before the British Association at Edinburg, on "Impurities of Town Air," said that smoke, promoting as it does the formation of fog, and preventing free diffusion into the upper stratum of the air, must be regarded as the principal cause of the improper state of the atmosphere in large towns. This opinion was arrived at after careful analysis of air under the official direction of the town of Manchester, England. It shows clearly that the sulphurous condition of the atmosphere so poisonous in large cities is due almost entirely to the presence of smoke.

The subject of road improvements has at last been brought into national prominence by the proposal of a national highway commission by Senator Manderson in a bill recently introduced by him into the United States Senate. The bill has been referred to the committee on interstate commerce. The Senator said that he believed the example of early days would be repeated and that the general government, by liberal aid to States and municipalities, or perhaps of its own accord, would build national highways. He did not believe that there could be a better expenditure of public money than on the construction of great highway to connect Washington with New York, passing through Baltimore and Philadelphia.

For a long time it has been evident to bankers and depositors that some rational method of indentifying individuals without the intervention of a third party was a necessity. Efforts have been made from time to time to invent some such method, but heretofore nothing of the kind has been found entirely satisfactory. A plan has recently been put in operation by which individuals are to be indentified by cards containing their photographs, signatures etc. Possibly this plan may be made successful, but it is doubtful if any simple card scheme can be made to cover the ground desired. Another method, known as the Wilkinson method of indentification, has the merit of novelty, to say the least. The American Banker has a regularly drawn check, indorsed to a third person, with this peculiarty : at the end of each signature is a finger mark. It is the imprint of the underside third-finger of the person whose name appears beside it. Now it is a curious fact that there can be no duplicates of such an impression. It is as distinctively original in every man as his face. With the use of a proper ink the effect is as delicate as an engraving and it requires but little experience to discover great diversities in the lines and general characteristics of such an impression, even when at first glance there seems to be a pronounced uniformity instead. Let readers of this moisten the ends of their fingers with nearest ink available, press the moistened part upon a bit of paper, being careful not to blur the impression, and then compare the joint product. It will be found to be a striking lesson in the magnitude of little things and possibly to putting in practice what we are permitted to call the "Wilkinson method of indentification."

The foregoing subject suggests another of kindred interests, viz., how to render the successful issue of fradulent checks impossible, Of late there hav been a number of instances so flagrant in their character as to call the special attention of business men all over the country to the danger in the use of ordinary checks. The case of the fradulent checks passed on an eastern summer resort recently was one of this kind. Where checks or drafts are negotiated in this way at a distance from the place of payment there is ample time for the escape of the criminal before the true character of the worthless paper can be ascertained. What is needed is some system of registering checks, which shall render it extremely difficult if not impossible to negotiate them fraudulently. No bank can afford to certify checks for small amounts; but a system of registration might be profitably adopted which would practically insure the genuineness of paper of this kind throughout the United States. A small fee might be charged for registering, which would also imply insurance against loss. In this way a greater security and freedom in the use of checks and drafts would result, which could not fail to be of great practical benefit in all commercial transactions.

A Hyde Park company has been furnishing gas to that part of the city at fifty cents per thousand feet, and has been making money at that rate. So satisfactory has been the experience of the company in Hyde Park that it now wishes to cross 39th street and extend its mains north within the old city limits. At a recent meeting of the company the capital stock was increased from $500,000 to $5,000,000. This large increase of capital has been furnished inside the old company, and they profess to be proof against all attempts of the gas trust to buy them out. If gas can be furnished at a profit for fifty cents a thousand feet, it is time the present stand, and, deliver policy of the trust people was brought to an end by a summary process. The Mutual Gas company should be encouraged to come into the old city limits, and be allowed to lay its pipes, with the very essential provision, however, that its franchise shall be forfeited and its pipes confiscated by the city if ever it enters into an unholy alliance with the monopoly.

THE NEW BELT RAILROAD.

THE PROMOTERS OF THE STICKNEY ENTERPRISE WILL BUILD A BELT LINE OF THEIR OWN — OUTLINE OF THE PLAN.

The history of the so-called Stickney enterprise has become a part of the history of Chicago. The completion of the work will shortly be undertaken, and ere long Chicago will have the greatest freight clearing house in the world. Several years ago A. B. Stickney, of the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railroad, purchased between 4,000 and 5,000 acres of land in the town of Lyons, about eleven miles southwest of Chicago. His purpose was to establish there an immense transfer yard for hauling freight cars from all the roads entering Chicago. This it was thought would attract to the site a great industrial centre. The scheme was planned on a colossal scale, but the financial difficulties at that time were so great that Mr. Stickney was compelled to abandon the undertaking. Subsequently the Chicago Union Transfer Railway company was formed and purchased from Mr. Stickney 1500 acres of land. This company is now controlled by Chicago capitalists, prominent among whom are H. H. Porter, Marshall Field, N. B. Ream, P. D. Armour, W. W. Kimball, George M. Pullman, G. F. Swift; and the McCormick Harvesting company; and also eleven of the principal railroads entering Chicago, as follows: Baltimore & Ohio; Pennsylvania; Chicago and Northwestern; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Illinois Central; Chicago and Eastern Illinois; Northern Pacific; Chicago and Great Western, or Chicago, St. Paul Kansas City; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and the Chicage, Burlington and Quincy. To these roads it is desired to add the other twelve.

The original plan of the Union Transfer Company was to secure the Western Indiana Belt railroad on which to move cars to and from the transfer yards at Stickney and the various railroads entering the city. This plan was found to be impracticable, and a committee was finally appointed, consisting of H. H. Porter, J. M. Whitman, and Andrew Crawford, to investigate into the advisability of building a new belt line. This committee has recently reported in favor of the project, and at a recent meeting of the directors it was decided to proceed with the work.

It is now proposed to expend $5,500,000 in the construction of this new belt railroad, to connect twenty-three main lines of railroad entering Chicago. The official map of the company is shown on the adjoining page. It is proposed to secure for this belt the right of way generally of 200 feet, being less than 200 feet only at such points where it is reasonable to suppose that industries will not be located. In no place will the right of way be less than is required for eight tracks. It is proposed to have a double-track railroad from the Milwaukee Division of the Chicago and Northwestern railway to the Wisconsin Central railroad, a four track road from the Wisconsin Central railroad to the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, a double-track road from the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The width of the embankment for the double-track railway to be twenty-eight feet and for the four-track railway fifty-six feet. The width of excavation of double track railway is to be thirty-two feet and for four-track railway sixty feet. Culverts are to be of stone or stone and iron. Bridges are to be constructed of masonry abutments and steel superstructure. Railway crossings, where possible, are to be overhead or under. Railway crossings at grade are to be interlocked. Overhead railway crossings are to be carried on steel columns, with masonry piers and steel superstructure. The track is to be laid of eighty pound steel and the best pattern of rail joint, oak ties, and gravel ballast.

The report of the committee is exhaustive and complete. It shows that the great necessity of carrying on the transfer business of the railroads out side of the city is found in the congested condition of population and business in the city. Within fifteen and one-third square miles in the centre of the city along the lake shore is found a population of 770,534, over half the population of the entire city; on less than one-tenth of its area. On the less than thirty-one square miles lying immediately west and south of these fifteen and one third square miles is found a population of over 395,000. The total population on these forty-six and one third square miles, about one-third the city's area, is 1,165,559, or 81 per cent of the entire population. Right in the midst of this conjested condition of affairs is now transacted the business which the Chicago Union Transfer railway company proposes to carry on entirely outside the city.

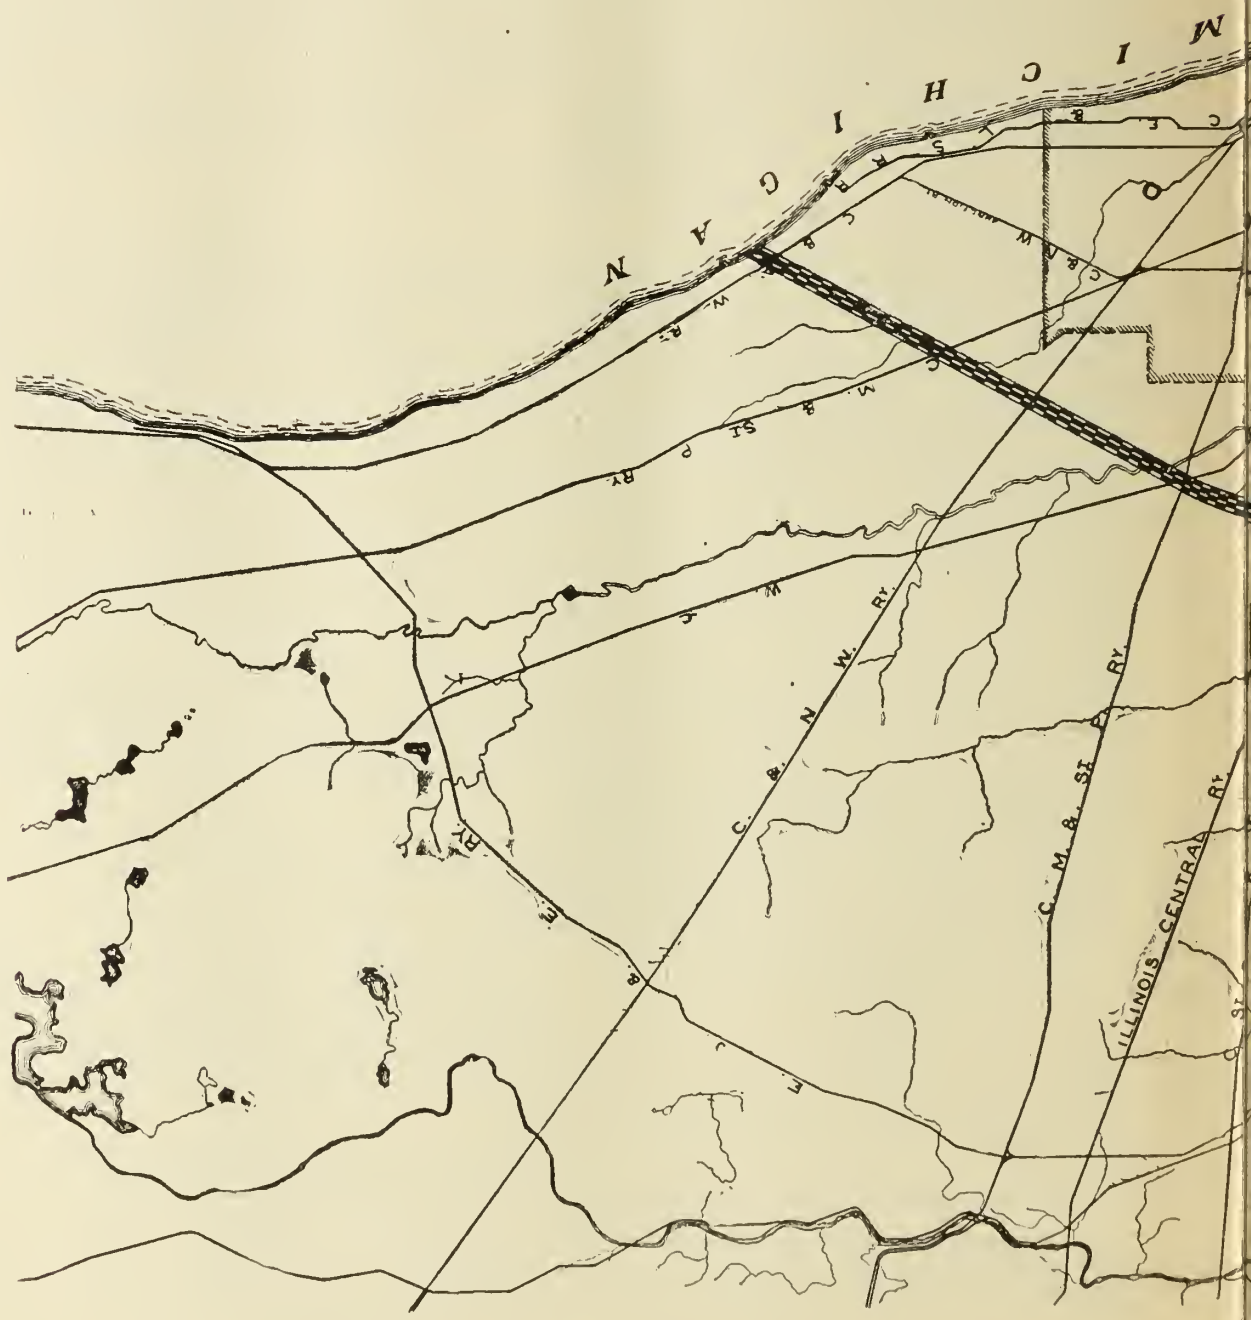
The necessity for taking immediate steps in some direction, looking to the construciion of an adequate transfer system, may be more readily realized by a consideration of the growth of the railroad systems which terminate in Chicago. The increase in mileage of ten leading roads terminating in Chicago between the years of 1870 and 1890 was 370 per cent; the increase in tonage was 490 per cent. The tonnage of all roads entering Chicago increased from 1880 to 1890 131 per cent and from 1885 to 1890 72 1-2 per cent reaching a total of 119,284,935 tons, which was 17 2-10 per cent of the entire tonnage of all the railroads in the United States. The receipts and shipments (of a few commodities) at Chicago during the year 1890 aggregated 1,684,000 car-loads. There being about an equal number of empties handled makes an aggregate of 3,328,000 cars.

It seems that about 40 per cent of the entire tonnage of the roads terminating here is handled in Chicago, or nearly 50,000,000 tons for the year 1890; this would make about 6,000,000 car-loads.

The proposed road is to be the fifth belt line of Chicago. It will be the farthest from the city's centre excepting the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern, or Outer Belt. The roads of this class already in operaton are as follows.

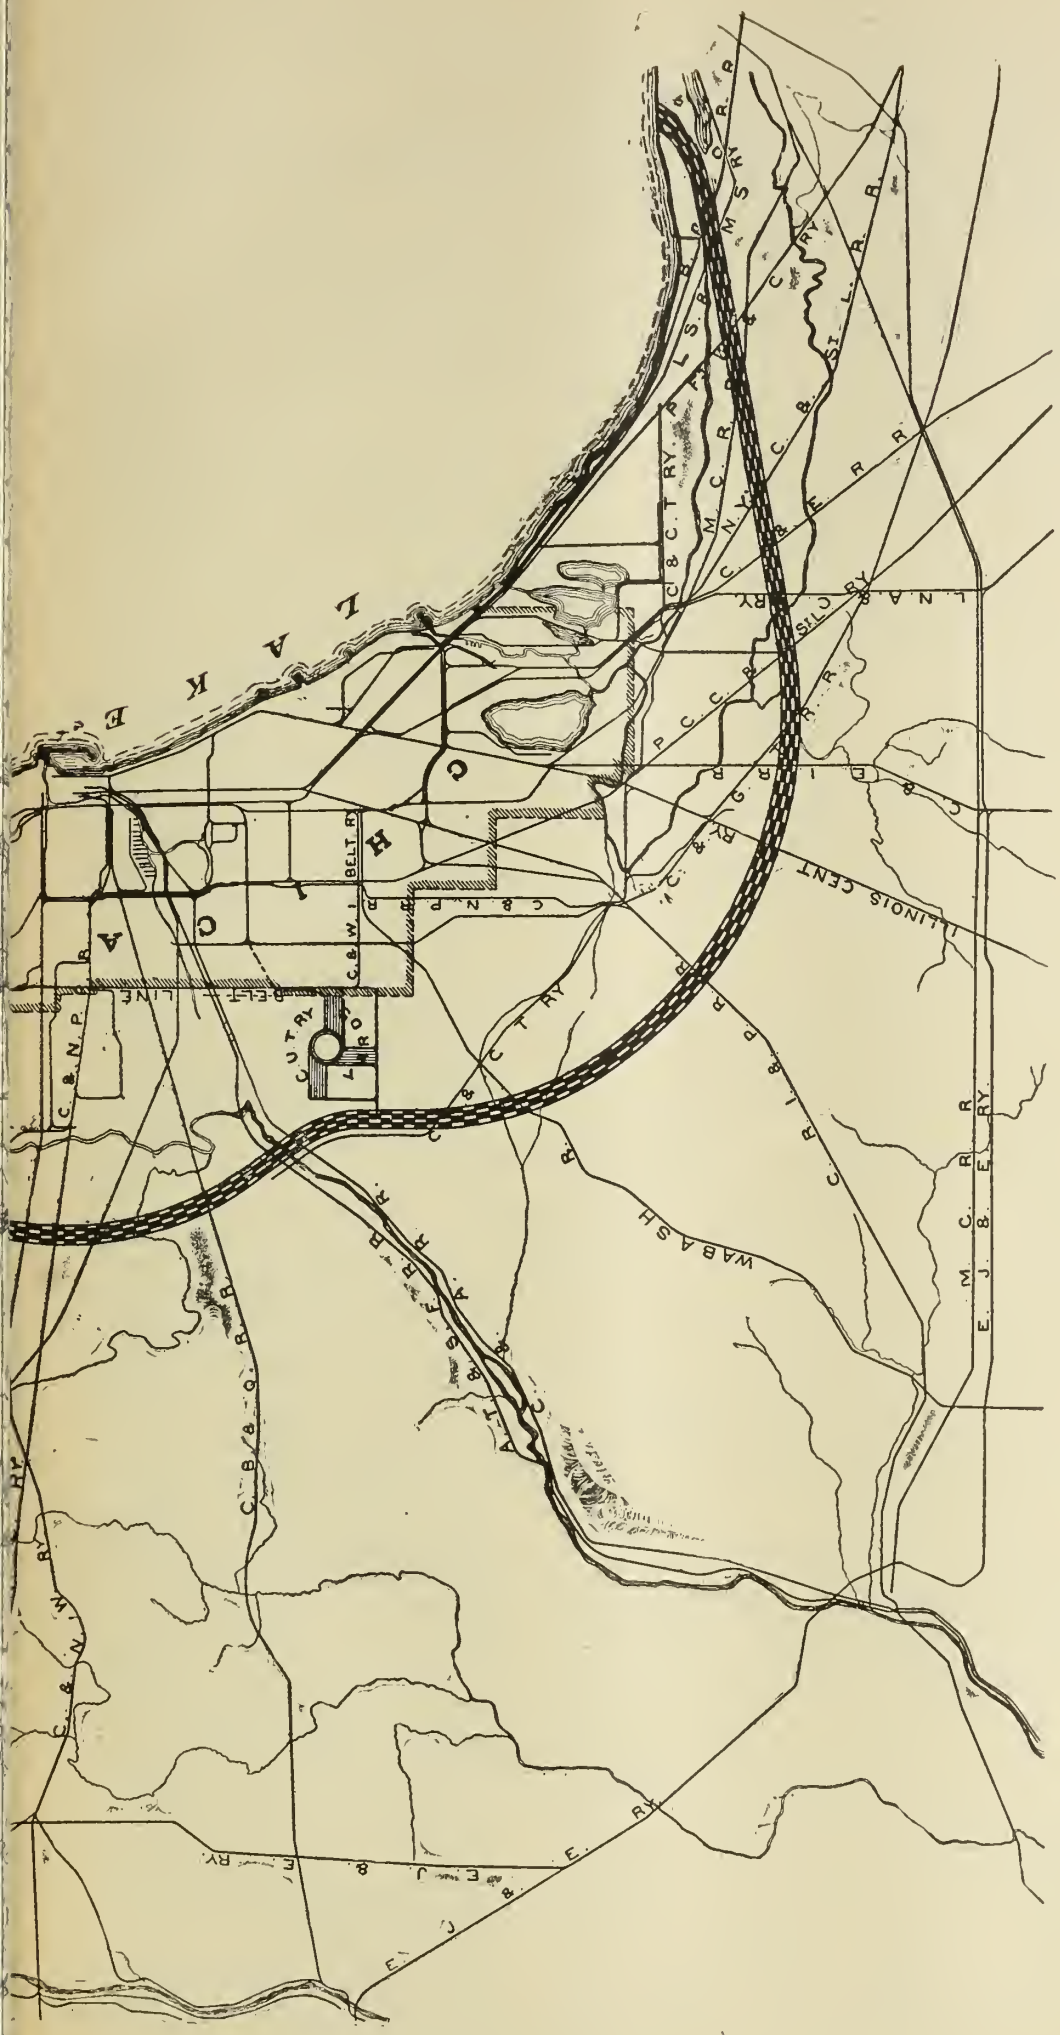
The Inner Belt, or the St. Charles Air Line, which runs from the Illinois Central to Canal street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, owned by the Northwestern, Illinois Central, Michigan Central, and Chicago. Burlington and Quincy roads.

The Stock Yards Belt, which leaves the Illinois Central at Forty-first street, forming a connection with the Burlington at Sixteenth street, passes through the stock yards on its way. This road is owned by the Union Stock yard corporation.



The Western Indiana Belt Line swings around from the Calumet region at South Chicago to Cragin, where it connects with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. It is leased to the Western Indiana Railroad Company, which is owned by the Grand Trunk, the Eastern Illinois, the Wabash, Chicago and New Albany and the Erie roads.

The Calumet Terminal is owned by the Northern Pacific. It runs from Whiting, at a junction with the Burlington and Ohio, nineteen miles to a junction with the Northern Pacific, at Harlem.



The last and longest of the belt line is the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern. This road swings around Chicago in a great semi-circle, having Waukegan for its northern terminus, and a point on the Joliet branch of the Michigan Central, near Griffith, Lake County, Ind., as its southern terminus. This line is owned by Drexel, Morgan & Co.

It will be necessary for complete comprehension to understand that the Chicago Union Transfer Railway Company is the only agency that promises immediate work on the Lyons property. The Stickney Warehouse Company will eventually build some structures for the storage and transfer of goods in broken car lots. While the transfer of live stock will comprise a large part of the company's business, neither the Union Stock Yards Company nor its transfer railway becomes a part of the enterprise. The Stock Yards Company may establish branch yards on the land it has acquired at Stickney by its agreement with the small packers. These also may be conducted in harmony with the interests of the Transfer Company. The latter, however, purely a railway concern, remains a thing sui generis.

A CHOICE LIST OF SUMMER RESORTS.

In the Lake regions of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, and the two Dakotas, there are hundreds of charming localities pre-eminently fitted for summer homes. CASINO.

Haverly's Mastedon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire. The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every perfo manee. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome pleasure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Thanks to the vigilanee and of the President of the United States and the local health officers in New York, the cholera scare which last week played sueh havoc with the exchanges has partially subsided. The wet blanket which lay like an incubus on the market has been lifted temporarily at least, and the general opinion now seems to be that no further damage may be expected from a threatened invasion of the cholera. That this result is due largely to the prompt efforts of the New York authorities to keep out the dread disease can not be doubted. Sufficient time has now elapsed to show that the cholera can be kept out if proper precautions are taken. This assurance is sufficient of itself to infuse new life into a declining stock list. The result is seen on all the stock exchanges, especially those of Chicago and New York. The New York bears will now have to depend on rumors of a quarrel between Reading and Pennsylvania and a possible strike on the entire Reading system. These mere rumors will not avail them long, and other unfavorable influences will need to be manufactured in order to keep down the rising tide in stocks. As for the Chicago bears, they seem to be entirely without resource. The local stock markets have beeome so buoyant as to be away above their reach

The feature of the year on all the stock exchanges has been the strengthening of railroad securities. We say strengthening, because, it cannot be maintained that prices as a whole have very considerably advanced, though the situation is healthier than it was a year ago. Railroads have improved as a direct result of past earnings, and continue to improve on the prospective earnings of another large crop year. This improvement is noticeable on the increased attention which railway securities are attracting, and in some cases by a brisk demand for them followed by rapidly rising prices. But, taking the list as a whole, it cannot be said that any marked advance in prices has been shown. The average is now only a trifle more than it was a year ago. This suggests a conclusion not unfavorable to railroad stocks, however, for it is a safe maxim that the time to buy is just before the rise. If the railroad situation has been strengthening while prices have remained almost stationary, what shall be said of the future outlook for railroad securities in view of the crop prospects and the near approach of the World's Fair? Judging from all appearances, we should say that now is the time to buy railroad stocks. It is almost morally certain that at the prices ruling to-day they are an excellent speculative investment; they can hardly go lower; and it will be a miracle if they do not go much higher. The situation has been exemplified recently on the Chicago stock exchange. Local street railway securities which had been thought to be boomed to their limit, and which during the cholera scare suffered a sharp falling off, have again continued to soar beyond all ordinary expectations.

Speaking of railroad securities, it is interesting to note the foreign feeling on the subject, as likely to affect the relative supply and demand in this country. The Union Pacific Railroad corporation is an example in point. This company publishes every year the general location of its stock in different parts of the world, and it appears that at the end of 1891 its shares to the number of 185,220 were held in England, while 214,418 were owned in all foreign countries. Of the remainder of the stock 149,257 shares were held in Massachusetts and 203,350 in New York, with about 40,000 shares in the rest of the United States. No farther back than 1884 only 51,748 shares of Union Pacific stock were owned in all foreign lands. These facts convey some idea of the enormous extent of European investments in American stocks and the rapid increase of foreign financial interests in the United States within the last few years. They also show what an influence on the markets of this country can be exerted by the dumping of large holdings of our securities in Wall street by foreign holders. This is exactly what has happened in the past few months, and this is the secret of the prevailing low prices of railroad as well as other securities. The London Anglo-American Times thinks that these sales of American stocks by foreign holders may have been occasioned by the straits to which manufacturers in some of the industrial centers both of continental Europe and of the United Kingdom are reduced.

The condition of the money market is practically unchanged. The per capita circulation has slightly decreased since August 1. The total circulation Sept. 1 is placed at $1,599,256,584, or a per capita of $24.32 as against $24.41 Aug. 1. The demand for money at the banks still continues brisk with the supply plentiful. The feature of this year's harvest season is the general diffusion of currency throughout the west. The treasury Department up to Sept. 1 had been called upon to ship to various points in the United States $7,000,000 in small notes to facilitate the movement of the crops. Up to the corresponding period of last year the shipments for the same purpose amounted to $14,800,000. The difference represents the amount held by the banks of the West and South in reserve for the crop moving emergency.

That the cholera scare effectually did its work in financial circles is evidenced by a glance at the above table, showing that thirty-five out of the sixty-nine cities reporting made decreasing returns for the week as compared with the corresponding week last year. Of the four leading cities of the Union only Chicago showed an increase. Even Philadelphia fell behind. St. Louis made a slight gain. The other cities showing gains are noticeably interior cities. Almost without an exception the returns from seaboard cities east, west and south have been decreasing. Such are New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Baltimore, New Orleans, Providence, etc. These all show losses. Some of the interior cities which show gains are Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Detroit, Milwaukee, Omaha, Denver, Indianapolis, etc. The result as shown in the total gives a loss of 14.8 per cent—a loss which is only to be accounted for by the unusual disturbances occasioned by the cholera scare. The losses at seaboard centres and the corresponding gains in the interior demonstrate that the damage to commercial activity was first and most severely felt on the borders, but as yet has not assumed such proportions as to injure trade at interior points. The same phenonenon has been manifested in Canada, Montreal showing constant gains while Halifax has been losing ground.

The total returns for the five weeks ending September 1, 1892, were $54 millions greater than the corresponding weeks of 1891. At the same time we find that the August clearings were $100,000,000 less than those of July of this year. A heavy falling-off during August may always be expected. This year is no exception to that rule, unless it be in the fact that the falling-off is less marked than usual. Only nine cities of the table showed decreasing returns in August, 1892, as compared with August, 1891. They are Lowell, Duluth, Baltimore, Norfolk, Birmingham, Galveston, Los Angeles and Tacoma. The returns from these cities comprise only 4 per cent of the total of the cities entering into the comparison.

A comparison of the total returns for the eight months ending Sept 1, shows an increase. During this period only twelve cities showed decreases, viz: Duluth Nashville, Norfolk, New Orleans, Ft. Worth, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Waco, Galveston, San Francisco, Tacoma and Salt Lake City. It will be noticed that none of these cities, with the possible exception of San Francisco, is a very large financial centre. Furthermore, we find that Nashville, New Orleans, Ft Worth, Chattanooga, Waco and Salt Lake City, though showing decreases for the first eight months of the year, do not show decreases for August. This indicates an improvement in the financial condition of those centres, and is one of the few encouraging features of the week.

The analysis by groups of states shows but one increase of importance, as follows:

	WEEK ENDING SEPT. 1, 1892.	WEEK ENDING SEPT. 3, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 85,038,565	$ 97,648,411	Dec 12.9
Middle "	626,318,248	779,671,676	" 19.6
Southern "	28,341,439	33,837.332	" 16.2
Western "	39,837,680	34,742,954	Inc 14.7
Northwestern "	121,645,276	123,445,593	Dec 1.6
Southwestern "	35.891,014	35,500,882	Inc 1.1
Far Western "	28,078.649	30,417,618	Dec 7.8
Totals	$ 965,150,871	$1,135,264,466

This is decidedly the most unfavorable showing by groups of states we have had this year. The increase of one per cent in the Southwestern group is so small as to be practically valueless, were it not for the fact that any increase whatever in this group is an improvement. Aside from the Southwestern group, the only increase is in the Western, which always shows an increase. The remaining groups are hopelessly in the dumps, with percentages of decrease varying from 7.8 to 19.6. The situation does not admit of consolation, not to say encouragement, though it needs both badly enough. There is only room for a hope that the cholera scare will not again influence business so unfavorably.

Combination to Secure Saloon Properties--Rumored Combination of Street Railways.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

After the double holiday which ushered in the week, there was a complete change in the tone of the local stock market. The edge of the cholera scare seemed to have worn off, and the possibility of gold shipments was forgotten or ignored. There was nothing but bull points to be discovered in the market. Details of the brewery war settlement are at last promised, and a substantial improvement in the securities of the Chicago Brewing and Malting Company and of the Milwaukee and Chicago Brewing Company is confidently predicted by their friends. The beer war settlement has taken on some new and interesting features. The one occasioning most comment is the practical working out of a plan for placing the saloons directly under control of the brewery combination under the "tied-house system," in vogue in England and Germany. Each of the brewery corporations is to raise $3,000,000, to be invested in properties eligible for saloon sites. The plan of owning land and buildings will not, of course, be followed in the down-town district. Details of the scheme have not been made public, but it is said that the money required for the wholesale buying of saloon properties will be raised by an issue of bonds based on the property purchased and guaranteed by the brewery associations. The various saloon properties will be rented to saloon-keepers who agree to use the product of certain breweries only. The brewery people figure that the plan outlined will not only result in placing the retail market more immediately under their control, but see a handsome prospective profit in the control of the saloon sites themselves. It is estimated that the properties bought can be rented on an income basis of 10 per cent. As the purchase is to be provided for by 6 per cent bonds, there is a paper profit in sight in the real estate account. The improvement in brewery conditions was reflected in the advance in quotations for the two stocks. It was more noticable in Milwaukee and Chicago Brewing than in Chicago Brewing and Malting. The former stock sold up from 34¼ on Monday, to 38½ on Thursday, while the latter went from 42½ to 44½. A more remarkable advance was made in Brewing and Malting two or three weeks ago on the mere rumor that the long-pending negotiations for a beer war settlement had been reached.

American Strawboard stock was in better demand, and the trading for the week netted an advance of something like 4 or 5 points. Reports of increased dividends seem to be responsible for the advance. Chicago Arc Light and Power is quoted at a point above par, with no hopes of an immediate resumption of dividends. The list of Industrials is rounded out with Chicago Packing and Provision Stock at 56, and Street's Stable Car stock at a fraction better than 34. This stock and Canal and Dock are the two weak sisters on the general list. They apparently have no friends, and the supply of stock seems continually in excess of the demand. Investors and exchange operators fight shy of Street's Stable Car stock on general principles, and the dullness in the general real estate market explains the weakness in Canal and Dock.

The interest of the local stock situation again centered in the street railways. North and West Side have struck the up grade, and it looks very much as if with a second wind there will be some more record breaking. Phenominal earnings are talked of, and prices go up at a marvelous rate. West Chicago stock could have been bought on Tuesday for 179, and sold on Thursday for 207. North Chicago ranged during the same time from 234 to 259 for the account.

Thursday's market was one of the broadest in the recent history of the local exchange. On both calls 1,450 shares of North Chicago stock were transferred, against 3,520 shares of West Chicago stock. The public is clearly in the market and if there is any intention on the part of what are termed insiders to put up prices it is being ably seconded from the outside. In fact there have been times when the public actually ran away with the market and room traders looked on blankly while new quotations from 2 to 5 points apart were registered. From present appearances it seems easier to put prices up over the high point figures than it was to engineer the original advance. The appearance of cholera news will, of course, upset all calculations of the friends of the street railway stocks, but under ordinary circumstances the prospects are exceedingly good for reaching 250 and 300 for West Chicago and North Chicago stocks, respectively. The advance now seems to be on public enthusiasm over the earnings of the railway companies, and the theory that the insiders are arbitrarily advancing the stock has lost ground along with the theory that there is ultimately to be a combination of the two Yerkes' roads.

Alley Elevated stock and bonds are in light demand and lower prices are being reached. The latest quotations for 5 per cent bonds of the Chicago and South Side Rapid Transit Co. was a fraction below 96, while the stock which only recently sold above par is going at 98. There are rumors afloat that negotiations are under way for a down-town loop, but nothing definite seems to have been worked out in that direction. Rumors regarding elevated roads were plentiful this week and were circulated in regard to all three elevated lines. The most preposterous of these was to the effect that a combination between the Lake Street Elevated Road and the Metropolitan, is contemplated. Under present conditions, it would scarcely be to the advantage of either road to make the combination, as the Metropolitan people are making good progress and have started out under the best financial auspices, and feel that the Lake street enterprise is a sort of unmanageable "hoodoo." On the other hand, the Lake street people believe that they are in better shape than they have been at any time since the road was first projected, and are inclined either to sell their interests outright or to push the road through to completion. The Metropolitan Elevated Road certainly has a good working capital on hand. During the week, the first assessment on the $10,000,000 in bonds was collected. The call was for 20 per cent, and as the bonds were sold for 90, the amount collected will be $1,800,000. A 40 per cent call has been made on the $3,000,000 of the West Side Construction, the company which will have the actual work of building the road.

REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chicago Real Estate Board was called to order on Wednesday of this week at 3 o'clock p. m., President E. S. Dreyer in the chair. On motion of a member, the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with. The next thing in order was the report of the committee on transportation to Buffalo, to attend the second congress of the National Real Estate association. Mr. McNeill stated that arrangements would be made to procure round trip tickets to Buffalo and return including sleepers both ways at $13, and the round trip with sleeper one way for $10. Both ways without sleepers, $7.

President Dreyer made a speech on the benefits to be derived by attending the meeting at Buffalo, and urged the members to make all needed preparations to attend in a body. He said that a committee would be appointed to show visitors everything of interest in that city and at Niagara Falls. One of the most interesting features of the proceedings laid out for this trip will be inspection of the great tunnel which is to connect the Falls with the river. There will be an electrical display for the benefit of visitors who will have an oppoftunity to examine one of tee greatest projects ever undertaked. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the club dinner on the 22d of this month. A commbnication was read from the Montreal Real Estate Exchange, extending a cordial invitation to the members of the Chicago Real Estate Board to visit their city and exchange. The gentlemen of the Montreal Board who visited Chicag last year are exceedingly anxious to repay their Chicago brethren for their hospitality on that occasion. The following is a copy of the minutes of the meeting:

The regular monthly meeting of the Chicago Real Estate Board was held Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 7th at 3 p. m.

President Ereyer and Secretary Hammond graced the platform.

The membership committee reported the election of Fred E. Eldred to agent membership.

Malcom McNeil, vice-president of the National Real Estate association, stated that the national convention was to be held at Buffalo, Oct. 5th and 6th and that elaborate arrangements were being made for the entertainment of visitors and urged that as many members of the board as possible, go and take their family or friends.

The president announced that the next informal dinner will be given Sept. 22 and appointed Willis G. Jackson as toastmaster and Arthur C. Gehr, R. D. Hill and C. R. Calkins, committee of arrancements.

The secretary read the following letter from the Montreal Real Estate Exchauge, which was referred to the transportation committee of the National Real Estate association.

Montreal, Sept. 2, 1892.

To the Secretary,
Chicago Real Estate Board, Chicago:

Dear Sir:—At a recent meeting of the members of this Exchange the desire was strongly expressed to have an opportunity of reciprocating the kindness and courtesy shown to the deputation of our members who visited Chicago, and I am desired to communicate with your board to ascertain if some of your members who will no doubt be attending the convention at Buffalo, could not come on to Montreal for a few days. Kindly lay this before your board and let us know its decision. With greeting and good will, I am Yours truly,

James Brown, Secretary.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE SITUATION NOTICEABLE—MANY EXCHANGES—L ROAD ACTIVITY—THE BUILDING RECORD—OTHER FEATURES.

Brokers are beginning to comment more cheerfully on the real estate situation, and though the market is far from being satisfactory to all parties interested, it certainly shows signs of improvement. The volume of transactions, insignificant in themselves, is far from inconsiderable when summed up at the end of each week. An analysis of the real estate record shows that most of the sales made are of residence property and of properties to small investors. Property in fairly well located residence sections near to the centre of the city and along the second-class business streets figures most extensively in the daily transcript of the record. The transfers of unusual size in most cases represent property exchanges by which heavily loaded landowners have received temporary relief. The exchange business is always a feature of a dull market and as such, is expected at this time. The transfers of small holdings along the Metropolitan elevated railroad are already beginning to make their appearance and from now on should be quite common. Up to this time, the transfers made in the interest of the new West Side road have been to parties representing the road indirectly instead of directly to the road or to its acknowledged right-of-way agents. Since condemnation proceedings have been commenced by the road, there will be no occasion for this secrecy and the purchases by the road in the west part of the city should stimulate the trade of property in locations where there has been practically no advance for years. The Metropolitan elevated railroad company has gotten down to good working basis and has been furnished the sinews of war by the first call on the bondholders and the holders of stock in the construction company. The Lake Street Elevated Railway company has improved its condition by its reorganization under the railway act and promises to push forward the work of actual construction. Contracts are being let for foundations along the line of the road for two miles beyond Western avenue. Additional contracts have just been let for material and the line to Western avenue is to be built and equipped as soon as possible. The plan followed on the South Side of equipping the road by piecemeal and operating the portion so equipped is to be adopted on the Lake street road. The portion of the road extending from Market street to Western avenue is to be furnished with rolling stock and operated just as soon as the work of construction is completed. It is even possible that the company will make an attempt to operate the road then built only to Ashland avenue. The reorginization of the company was made principally to improve the possibilities of selling the line outright or for arranging a bond issue. Incidentally, however, it places the management in much better position to push on the work of building the line.

One of the features of the year's work in a real estate way which has, if anything, been underestimated, is the building activity. The local lumber dealers claim that although last year was an exceptionally good year in their business, it will be entirely outclassed by 1892. The building is general in all parts of the city but is especially heavy on the South Side. South Side suburbs are receiving an impetus from the location of the World's Fair which will more than offset any reaction which may follow the Fair season. It is noticable in commenting on building operations how few new down town office building projects are being exploited. There are some odds and ends to be cleared up but new enterprises at the present time with prices of property current do not appeal to investors. The Western Union Telegraph company still claims to be in the market and the Superintendent of the company denies that any arrangement has been made with the Peck estate for a lease of the Union building at the corner of LaSalle and Washington streets. A dispatch from New York early in the week stated that the Western Union directors would be asked to issue $1,500,000 collateral bonds to provide for a new building in Chicago. This dispatch is neither confirmed nor denied by the officers of the company in Chicago who simply state that the company intends to have a building. The action of the Chicago Telephone company in purchasing a piece of property rather outside of the down town office district for their own use is commented on by brokers as suggesting that a similar course might be followed with advantage by the Western Union company. The Telephone company has purchased a piece of property at $15 a square foot on Harrison street which, it is claimed will be exactly as satisfactory for its use and occupancy as property which would cost $50 or $60 a square foot. The Western Union company is now on a corner which is valued at $100 a square foot. It is argued that the main building of the Western Union company might just as well be outside of the down town business district while the company could cater to the central property business through its branch offices, which are now located in all parts of the down town section.

A new feature in the real estate market is promised by the settlement agreed upon between the great brewery associations. The two English syndicate associations, the Chicago Brewing & Malting company and the Milwaukee & Chicago Brewing company, have each arranged to raise $3,000,000 for the purpose of buying saloon properties in Chicago. As the companies will not carry on their operations in the strictly down town district, $6,000,000, will buy quite a number of eligible saloon sites and saloons in the outlying portions of the city. The appearance of this amount of capital in the market will cause further activity along what are known as second-class business streets which have recently become favorites among small investors.

BIG BREWERIES WILL BUY CHICAGO REAL ESTATE.

The combination which has recently been effected by a number of the big breweries to end the beer war is likely to throw $6,000,000 cash into the real estate market at an early day. That this will create a mild boom in real estate circles is beyond a doubt. It is proposed to adopt the landlord system in the management of the saloons by the breweries. That is, the breweries will own the property and rent it to the saloon-keepers. The property purchased will include business sites in every part of the city. A great number of saloons are to be purchased and will be under control of the brewery interest. The fund is already provided for, half of it by the Milwaukee and Chicago breweries and the other half by the Chicago Brewing and Malting Co. Part of the sum will be raised by the issue of 6 per cent bonds guaranteed by the brewery companies. It is expected that the property purchased can be made to return 10 per cent interest from the rental besides giving the brewery the advantage of controlling the saloons. The plan is directed more particularly towards the saloons not in the heart of the business district. It is proposed to own the saloons, the real estate and buildings being purchased outright.

STOCKHOLDERS INSPECT THE DEVELOPMENTS AT CHICAGO HEIGHTS.

A large party of gentlemen interested in the new manufacturing town of Chicago Heights visited that place Thursday on a tour of inspection. The party included, among others: C. H. Wacker, president of the association; E. S. Dreyer, treasurer; Paul Jurgans, Dolese & Shepard, James E. McElroy, John Buehler, C. Herman Plautz, George Burry, Albert T. Otto, E. G. Uihlein, and M. H. Kilgallen. The stockholders were much pleased with the progress of the work. Over two hundred houses are now being constructed at Chicago Heights and several hotels have been projected. Construction is soon to begin on the hotel to be built by Victor Falkenau, and negotiations are under way for the erection of a 300-room hotel to be used during the World's Fair. W. Knoblock, of South Bend, Ind., has bought a bunch of lots and will erect a number of houses to be occupied by himself and friends during the Fair season.

ANOTHER GREAT APARTMENT HOUSE FOR THE NORTH SIDE.

The northwest corner of Lake View avenue and St.

James place has been selected as the site for an immense apartment house to be erected by Daniel Davis. The building will cover a ground space of 146x100 feet and will be nine stories high. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $500,000. This improvement was projected some time ago, but construction was delayed for some reason or other. All difficulties have now been arranged, however, and the building is to be erected at once with a view to completing it by the first of next May if possible. The exterior of the structure will be artistic in design. The building will be erected in two sections with a large open court between them. The first two or three stories will be of stone and the rest of the exterior of pressed brick. The interior finish will be in selected hardwoods and will be first-class throughout. A large hall and vestibule will be done in marble, with mosaic floor. The building will be of fire proof construction, and will be provided with several passenger and a freight elevators. It will contain about three hundred apartments. The site selected is an ideal one for apartment house purposes, as the building will command an extensive view of Lincoln Park and the lake and is easily accessible to the Clark street cable.

ACTIVITY IN STREET RAILWAYS.

ALL ROADS SEEK A DOWN TOWN TERMINUS—ALLEY L HAS SURVEYED AN EXTENSION IN THE BUSINESS DISTRICT.

The route surveyed by the South Side Alley L road for a loop is from Congress street, north on Wabash avenue, to Lake street, west to Clark, south to Jackson, east to Plymouth place and thence to Congress street. An effort will be made at once to secure the consent of the property owners on the streets named. If this can be done an ordinance will be drawn up at once and presented to the council at an early day. With these preliminaries safely out of the way the loop could easily be completed in time for World's Fair business The task of securing the consent of property owners to an elevated road in the down town streets is thought to be hopeless; but vigorous efforts will be made in this direction; and the strongest kind of pressure will be brought to bear by the many interests represented in the alley L road.

A number of locomotives and 120 cars have been ordered by the road since the middle of August. These additions to the rolling stock are part of the preparations making for World's Fair business. It is probable that a car specially designed for that service will be adopted. Described briefly the sides of an ordinary "L" road car are stripped off and replaced with ornamental wire gratings. On either side there are eight or nine gates in the gratings, through which passengers enter. A lever worked from the platform closes all the gates with one motion. An aisle runs through the center of the car and seats are provided for seventy people. The car is much lighter than ordinary cars. An "L" road engine can haul one-third more of them in a train. Within a couple of weeks work will begin on the foundation for a 125-foot span bridge over which L trains are to cross the Illinois Central at Sixty-third street. The company is confident that the terminal in the Fair Grounds will be completed before the great show opens.

LAKE STREET L PURCHASED BY A SYNDICATE.

A syndicate of Chicago and New York capitalists will complete the Lake Street Elevated road. Messrs Underwood and Greene, of New York, came on here to buy the road as it stands, turning the property over to a syndicate of Chicago men when secured. They were to form a company in which the New York promoters and their friends would be interested. The New York parties have virtually effected their purchase in that it is now optional with them whether to buy or not. The Chicago company is nearly completed, so that if present indications hold good, energetic work may shortly be expected. The Chicagoans who have been interested are Edson Keith, Andrew McNally, Harley Bradley, and Mr. Gray, of the Hide and Leather Bank. J. McGregor Adams has been mentioned for the office of President. Two other are necessary to complete the directory. While every effort is being made to complete the company in Chicago, New York capital will be called to the assistance of the project if necessary.

A TUNNEL RAILWAY FOR THE WEST SIDE.

Articles of incorporation for the "Chicago Union Elevated and Tunnel Railway Company" have been filed in the secretary of State's office. The incorporators are John Tyler, J. G. Cozzens, Franklin Landis, Herman Hurlbut and George M. Eckles, all Chicago men. In the articles it is proposed to build a railway from some point in the first ward, not named, extending west to the city limits, with a branch from a point thereon between Crawford avenue and Western avenue, extending north, northwest and west to the western limits of the city; also with a branch from a point between Canal street and Center avenue, extending in a southerly direction to a point between Sixty-third street and Sixty-ninth street, thence east to the city limits. The capital stock of the company is $17,000,000. It is said that the promoters of this company have secured the franchise of the old Arcade company, to run an underground railway from Wabash avenue to the west side.

JEFFERSON AND URBAN TRANSIT COMPANY BLOCKED BY INJUNCTION.

Work on the Chicago and Jefferson Urban Transit company line has been blocked by injunction. Judge Braentano issued the writ. It is founded on a bill of complaint filed in the Superior Court by Henry Lewis, a property owner on Fulton street between Curtis and May streets. The Jefferson and Urban is the projected West Side trunk and suburban line, whose franchise gained considerable notoriety last spring in the "boodle" investigations of several aldermen. Lewis attacks the franchise on the score of legal irregularities in the Council's action. He claims that the ordinance in giving the right of way from Canal and Monroe streets, west to Morgan, north to Fullerton, and west to Western avenue, is illegal. The reasons assigned for invalidity are that the Council did not have the necessary amount of consenting frontage before it that revocations of consent were ignored, and that certain signers did not control the property they represented. It is also claimed that the company has made no arrangements to estimate and pay damages to abutting property. The bill closes with a prayer for injunction and asks that the order be made perpetual on final hearing.

THE METROPOLITAN ELEVATED PEOPLE ARE AT WORK.

The promoters of the Metropolitan L road are quietly at work securing their right of way. A petition was filed recently in the Circuit Court, in which several hundred property owners were made defendants in condemnation proceedings against sixty-two pieces of land along Ogden avenue, between Marshfield and Western avenues.

COMBINATION OF METROPOLITAN AND LAKE STREET L S.

A rumor to the effect that the Metropolitan and Lake Street L roads would be combined was circulated this week with more plausibility than truth. The story was to the effect that the Lake Street line would be used as a down town connection to the Metropolitan lines already surveyed west of Ashland avenue. The scheme proposed, as stated by a gentleman who has stood close to the Lake street company for years, is this: The two roads, Lake street and Metropolitan, will come under one management. The latter will make connections with the former somewhere between Ashland avenue and Wood street and will enter the heart of the city over the tracks of the former. The Metropolitan franchise authorizes the construction of a branch north of Van Buren street between the two streets named, and the company will avail itself of this privilege to make the connection indicated.

Charles E. Gray, president of the Hide and Leather National Bank, has frequently been mentioned as one of the prospective purchasers of the Lake street L. When asked what he knew about the purchase of the road by parties connected with the Metropolitan and the contemplated consolidation of both systems he said; "I am a stockholder in the Metropolitan company and I have heard that such a deal is in contemplation. The Lake street road has not yet been sold, however. Only yesterday it was offered to me, or, rather, to a syndicate in which I am interested. Such an arrangement as the one indicated strikes me very favorably and I have no doubt that, eventually, a combination of this kind will be made, as it would be highly satisfactory to all parties concerned. At present, however, negotiations have not assumed such shape that anything positive can be said about their outcome."

If this deal succeeds it will doubtless include a North Side branch to be built to Lake View and Evanston to make connections with the main line on Halsted street, and also a branch to the stock yards district on or near the same street. In short, a whole network of elevated roads will probably use the Lake street "L" as a trunk line, for which purpose it is excellently adapted on account of its heavy construction.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Some recent figures compiled by the Atchison railway tend to show that the proposed plan of elevating the railroad tracks in Chicago will save nearly $10,000,000 in viaducts and damages. That amount would be paid out within five years under the system of viaducts ordered by the city, and the saving thus effected will be enough to pay rental on the elevated road for more than ten years. This makes no account of the fact that the facilities furnished by an elevated road are better than those of the surface roads. Furthermore, it is estimated that within nine years Chicago roads which do not elevate their tracks will pay out more money for viaducts and damages than it would cost to elevate; and at the end of that time the roads would still be on the surface. When the tracks were finally elevated, as they would have to be, the work would be done at a much greater cost than now. The new viaducts would then have to be torn down, and thus the expense would be at least three times as great as if the tracks were elevated at once. Figures are given also on the handling of freight. It is shown that if the system in use in Paris were adopted, namely, the handling of freight on elevated tracks, 75 per cent of the cost of the work could be saved. These figures are worthy of careful consideration. They suggest the feasibility of elevating the tracks of all the railroads in the city, with a pecuniary benefit both to the railroads and the city beyond computation.

The examples which have been afforded to the advocates of government ownership of railways as illustrations of the practical working of the system have been unfortunate, to say the least. One of these is the Inter-Colonial railway of Canada which is just now likely to be acquired by the Canadian Pacific. It is said that at present the Inter-Colonial is run at a loss of over $500,000 a year; that is, the operating expenses exceed the earnings by that amount, apart altogether from interest upon the cost of construction. This loss is said to be due to "leakage" occasioned by political mismanagement. Incapable, dishonest and unnecessary employes have been retained in the service of the railway through political influence. The total cost of the Inter-Colonial railway to the tax payers of the Dominion has been about $50,000,000. The annual deficit of $500,000 represents a capital of $12,000,000 more. The annual cost of operating the system to the taxpayers of Canada is, therefore, including interest upon the cost of construction, fully $2,480,000. This does not look encouraging for government ownership of railways, though the fact that the instance is so remote does much to impair its conclusiveness when applied to the same theory in this country.

A very commendable practice which has come into vogue among the carpenters of San Francisco within the past year is mentioned by the Southern Architect. It is the custom of the Carpenters' Union to build houses for one another without charging anything for their labor. The owner must supply the land and the material. It is a sort of co-operative labor society. It is said that a house of this kind was put up in San Francisco in this way recently in one day. At sunrise thirteen of the Union appeared on the ground bringing their tools, and before dark the exterior of the house was completed. It was not an elaborate structure, to be sure, but it served the purpose of a shelter to the family of the working man and relieved him of the necessity of paying rent. This house was the seventh house built in that way for members of the carpenters' union, the first one having been put up about a year before.

The new city of Velasco, Texas, has had a remarkable growth, and still gives promise of a brilliant future. The fact that it is now one of the best deep water ports on the coast gives it a natural prominence; and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad has been attracted to Velasco almost solely with a view to reaching the Gulf at that point, where the harbor facilities are so excellent. It it is now reported that negotiations are about being closed in New York for the establishment of a line of steamers between New York and Velasco. The four steam ships to be put on will be the fastest on the Atlantic coast. Mr. Rockefeller, of the Standard Oil company and leading men of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad are said to be at the head of the enterprise.

A recent report by Carroll D. Wright, on the tenement house question as shown by the census is full of interest. Mr. Wright shows that in New York and Chicago the crowded condition of the tenements have a serious bearing on the general public health. In New York 8,313 dwellings contain from twenty-one to thirty persons; 9,350, from thirty-one to fifty, 5,460, from fifty-one to one hundred, and 473 have one hundred persons. In Chicago, 16.33 per cent of the people live in dwellings having more than twenty persons, which is true of 13.93 per cent of the population of Boston. Philadelphia is declared to be the model tenement of the country. There a house can be obtained for less rent than a tenement in New York or Chicago. It should be added, however, that the apparently crowded condition of Chicago does not arise from the lack of room or of system in laying out the city but from the circumstance that the rapid growth of the city hitherto has rendered it impossible for building operations to keep pace with the wants of the inhabitants of the city. It is suggested that if Chicago ever ceases to grow, as Philadelphia has done, her home accommodations will have a chance to catch up with her population.

An illustration of the utter dependence of a state or a group of states on trunk lines of railroads is furnished by a recent article in a San Francisco paper bewailing the condition of the entire Pacific slope under the "unjust exactions" of the Southern Pacific Railway company. The article claims that both the political parties and to a large extent the legislatures and the courts are dominated by the railroad power, and that 90 per cent of the profits of agriculture has to be handed over to the railroads. The only remedy is declared to be the establishment of a competing road, which would insure cheap transportation and confer lasting benefits on the community. The situation is represented as desperate. It is claimed that unless something is done quickly to stem the tide San Francisco and the state of California will retrograde faster in the next few years than they have advanced in the past decade. This is strong language, and could be brought out only by circumstances of aggravation more than usually severe. If the statements made are true; the Southern Pacific has indeed a death grip on the entire country to which it ought to bring commercial life and activity.

RISE AND FALL OF THE MARKET.

No article in the commercial world is subject to as many influences as real estate; nothing else moves as slowly and stubbornly. A change in the weather at certain seasons of the year may cause wheat to advance or decline. A single rumor of a foreign war or the occurrences out of a labor strike in the United States may cause a check in business, but real estate refuses to yield to any one cause, and when once dull and lifeless will remain dormant for a period of years. On the other hand when the market is active and advancing it carries everything before it until it rises to the extreme limit of inflation, where it remains until the supply far exceeds the demand, and other counteracting influences combine to depress it. It then goes down as slowly and stubbornly as it rose. Like everything else the lot trade will yield in time to an over-supply. The real estate market differs widely from the grain markets both as to cause and effect, (i. e.) the conditions which depress it (real estate) cause the latter to advance. Local labor disturbances of long duration always check it but they are apt to cause an advance movement in prices of grain, iron and provisions. Stocks are subject to much the same conditions and influences as bear upon the grain and produce markets. The real estate investor must needs be a better financier and should know more of finance than the mere speculator in grain and produce, because an abundance of money is required to operate extensively, and a surplus of capital must always exist to sustain an advancing realty market. Among other reasons why real estate moves slowly may be mentioned the necessity of reproducing the history of its title and the long delays involved in its transfer. When values as well as titles become settled, real estate can be sold at auction or at public vendue as readily as personal property, and not till then.

A NEW SUBURBAN LINE.

The Baltimore & Ohio and the Northern Pacific railways will run trains between Franklin Park and the Worlds' Fair grounds, leaving the former place at 12:45 o'clock every Sunday until May 1, after which two or more trains will run every day. The train will pass through Oak Park, Austin and via. the Wisconsin Central Line, now a part of the Northern Pacific road but constituting a district suburban line from the city to Franklin Park which is its terminus. This line will be in operation it is stated during the Worlds' Fair for the express purpose of transporting passengers to and from the West Division and the Worlds' Fair. People residing in Oak Park, Austin, Franklin Park, Ridgeland and along the lines of the Northern Pacific on the West Side will thus be enabled to attend the Fair every day and return to their homes at night, at 50 cents for the round trip. Arrangements have been made to connect the lines so that passengers will have no trouble in changing cars.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

The Harvey Steel Car and Repair Works has just added to its plant a repair and erecting shop 80x300 ft, and has just put in two miles of additional track. They have lately finished heavy repairs on a lot of 250 refrigerator cars of the Central Car Trust Co. All the repairs of the Union Tank Line cars at Chicago are done at these works.

Edward L. Goold and W. A. Pridmore have formed a copartnership under the firm title of Goold & Pridmore. The new firm enters the field on Oct 1. Mr. Goold comes here from Brantford, Canada. Mr. Pridmore is well-known as the senior partner in the old established house of W. A. Pridmore & Co.

Fitzgerald Bros. have sold for F. Gaylord fifty feet on Langley avenue, between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh street, for $7,000. Also fifty feet on Forty seventh street, between Champlain and Langley avenues, for $9,000.

The South Chicago City Railway company will extend their road north on Stony Island avenue to Sixty-seventh street, where a connection is to be made with the Alley L road. Right of way has been granted and a franchise will soon be asked for. Work is being pushed on their new electric station on Ninety-fifth street with the intention of changing the service from horses to electricity.

An increased interest is noticeable in the auction sales of the Real Estate Exchange. At the sale last Wednesday the attendance was as good as could be expected and the bidding fairly spirited. The secretary is encouraged and believes the auction feature of the Exchange is an assured success.

WORLD'S FAIR DOINGS.

BONDS TO THE AMOUNT OF $4,000,000 TO BE ISSUED—THE EXTRAORDINARY POWER GRANTED TO THE NEW COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION.

The finance committee of the World's Fair has prepared a report, which has been approved by the directors, providing for the issue of bonds to the amount of $4,000,000, one-half Nov. 1 and the other half Jan. 1 next. The money secured by the sale of these bonds will be used in the completion of the building and in carrying on the work until the Fair is opened. It is expected that $5,000,000 more will be realized from the sale of the souvenir coins. The $9,000,000 secured from the bonds and coins will probably be sufficient to carry the Fair through to the time of opening next May. Debenture bonds for the sum of $100 or its multiple, aggregating $4,000,000, are to be issued, payable Jan. 1, 1894, and bearing 6 per cent interest. They may be redeemed at any time on fifteen days' notice, or partial payments may be made in installments of 25 per cent or more of the amount of the bonds. The clause relating to the allotment of the bonds reads as follows:

The allotment of the said bonds to purchasers of the same shall be made on the following plan and conditions: Books of subscriptions thereto shall be opened Oct. 1, 1892. At the expiration of fifteen days the subscription shall be closed and an allottment shall be made for the bonds for which subscription has been made. Stockholders of record holding twenty shares or more individually or as representing combination of stockholders of the World's Columbian Exposition to have the right (up to the amount of their subscription) to an allotment of an amount in bonds equal to the amount of such holdings of capital stock in the corporation. The balance of said bonds shall be allotted to the subscribers therefore to the amount of their several subscriptions, or proportionately and ratably to their several subscriptions, in case the aggregate of said subscriptions is greater than the amount of the issue of bonds hereby authorized. And in the allotment of said balance of bonds, if a subscription has been made by a stockholder greater in amount than the amount of his holding of capital stock in the corporation, such surplus shall be considered an independent subscription and stand on equal footing with the subscriptions of those not stockholders.

The bonds will be registered in the books of the World's Columbian Exposition and also in the books of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

IMPORTANCE OF THE COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION.

The work of preparing for the Fair has been greatly simplified by the creation of the new Council of Administration, composed of two members of the National Commission and two members of the Chicago Directory, or local organization. This result was brought about by action of the joint board of reference and control of the Commission and Directory. On this council J. W. St. Clair and George V. Massey were elected to represent the commission, and President Higinbotham and Director Schwab from the Directory. According to the terms of the agreement this Council of Administration has final and exclusive jurisdiction in all matters pertaining to the administration of the Fair. Director-General Davis is given exclusive authority to deal with exhibitors, and is empowered to make requisition on Chief of Construction Burnham for any assistance which may be needed. Mr. Burnham's title is changed to Director of Works. He will have charge of the operating forces on the grounds. Both the Director-General and the Director of Works are subject to the authority of the council. The four members of the council are to receive pay at the rate of $500 per month. The Directory and the Commission will assume the expense of their respective members. Mr. Higinbotham is president of the new council.

The four men comprising the council have been given complete control of the Exposition funds. The only limitation put on the council was that it should keep its expenditures within the budget estimates, which, of course, would have been done anyhow. In putting the funds whore this council can manage them the directors have indorsed in the most forcible manner possible the tremendous efforts now being made to finish all the work of the Exposition within the scant time left for the building operations. They have given the council of four authority to expend fully $9,000,000 during the next eight months. President Higinbotham, who is also chairman of the council, offered this resolution on the subject, which was adopted:

That an appropriation of so much money as may be necessary for conducting the work of the Exposition in several departments, within the limitations and restrictions of the existing budget, be, and the same is hereby made; and the council of administration is expressly authorized and empowered to expend and disburse the same according to the said budget, subject, however, to the right of the directory or executive committee of the World's Columbian Exposition to revoke, limit or qualify at its pleasure the authority hereby conferred on said council of administration.

The exact meaning of the resolution is that the council of administration is not to be delayed in its work by waiting for one of the committees to appropriate money for work that everybody knows must be done and that has been mapped out and inaugurated months ago.

LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN HEADQUARTERS.

A company has been incorporated with $100,000 capital stock for the purpose of erecting near the World's Fair a $75,000 club house, which shall be maintained during the Fair as headquarters for wheelmen from all parts of the world. Thereafter the building will become a central club house for the League of American Wheelmen. The project is approved by members of the national association and by the council of the Illinois branch.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

WHAT OWNERS CAN HAVE TITLE TO RIPARIAN RIGHTS

In the case of the Town of Lake View v Mason et al, Superior Court of Cook County, the court said:

By the well settled law of the land, riparian rights can only attach to the land which borders upon the beach or shore of the lake, and without they are the owners of that land and have title to it, then no riparian rights can attach.

Gould in his work on Waters, says. Sec. 148:

"Riparian rights, according to the strict meaning of the term, are such as follow or are connected with the ownership of the banks of streams or rivers.

"Those whose land borders upon tide waters are called "littoral" proprietors, and there appears to be no word or phrase of sufficently broad meaning to inolnde both riparian and littoral, although each is sometimes used to denote the other.

"The distinction between tide waters and fresh, or between public and private waters, is not necessarily a material consideration in determining questions relating to riparian rights, since riparian rights properly depend upon the ownership of land contiguous to the water, and are the same whether the proprietor of such land owns the soil under the water or not.

"All riparian rights depend upon the ownership of land which is contiguous to and touches upon the water and in the case of tide waters, the edge of the water at ordinary high water mark. They do not attach to any lands, however near, which do not extend to the water." Gould on Waters, Sec. 148.

WHAT CONSTITUTES SUFFICIENT CONSIDERATION.

After the conveyance of property by a man to his intended wife, and after their marriage, he executed to the wife an agreement, that, in consideration of her signing a deed to the same property then executed, he would invest the proceeds of such sale in a house in B, and have the same deeded to her. Held, that it was not necessary that the wife should be the owner of the property sold, absolutely, in order that her signing of the deed should constitute a sufficient consideration for the agreement to reinvest the proceeds in her name. Razor v. Razor. Sup. Court of Ill.

BURDEN OF PROOF IN A DEED.

Supreme Court of Illinois. Green v Capps. When deed apparently invests the grantee and his heirs with the complete title to the interest in the land which it purports to convey, the burden will rest upon the grantor to show that in fact it does not have the effect it purports to have.

If the statute of limitations bars the foreclosure of a deed taken as a mortgage, it will for that same reason bar a redemption from the deed or mortgage, for the reason that the right to redeem and the right to foreclose are reciprocal, and when the one is barred the other is also barred.

When the time limited for the redemption from a deed absolute on its face, though in equity a security, has expired, the grantee's equity in the premises will be gone, and the legal title passed by the deed becomes absolute and must prevail. So when the statute bars a bill to redeem from an absolute deed taken as a security, the grantee in such deed will need no foreclosure to cut off the equity of redemption and the absolute title will pass by it.

FRADULENT CONVEYANCE—INNOCENT PURCHASER V CREDITORS.

Although a conveyance of land is made to defraud the grantors, creditors, an innocent purchaser for a sufficent consideration without notice of the fraud will be protected. And the fact that the land sold may be worth some more than that given, will not render the transaction fraudulent as to the purchaser.

When the purchaser of an interest in land has no notice at the time the sale is consummated that his grantor was insolvent, or that he or she had any design of transferring his or her property to avoid the payment of creditors, and the trade is an ordinary transaction when one is pressed for money and anxious to sell, and the other buys because he regards the property cheap and a good bargain, the conveyance will be sustained. Notice to the purchaser shortly after his purchase of facts showing the insolvency of his grantor will not affect his rights acquired without notice. Sup. Ct. Ill. Zick v Gutbert.

PAYMENT OF TAXES—COLOR OF TITLE—POSSESSION.

Supreme court of Illinois. Sontag v Bigelow et al., In order to establish title under the first section of the act of 1839, three things are requsite ; color of title, seven years' possession of the premises and seven successive years' payment of taxes, by the person in whose name the color of title stands. When a person goes into possession of land under a deed purporting to convey the same to him and another, and pays all taxes thereon until his death, and his widow and heirs complete the seven years' payment of taxes under such deed while in possession of, the bar of the statute will operate only upon the one undivided half of the land.

When a parol partition of land is followed by a possession in conformity therewith, it will so far bind the possession as to give each co-tenant the rights and incidents of an exclusive possession of his part of the property ; and such possession may be set up as a defense to an action of ejectment brought in violation of the parol partition, and a bill in equity may be maintained to compel a deed. But a party can not maintain ejectment bond upon a parol partition, as the plaintiff in that action must recover in a legal title and can not on an equitable title.

A parol partition of land, although followed by an exclusive possession in accordance with the terms of the agreement of partition, does not constitute color of title under the seven years' limitation law.

A master's deed made on bill for the partition of land which contains a grantor and a grantee, and purports on its face to convey the title to the land therein described, is good as color of title under the limitation law of 1839.

Where one of two tenants in common takes the actual possession of the land and continues to occupy the same, and appropriates to himself the exclusive rents and profits for more than seven years, and does nothing else to apprise his co-tenant that he claims to be the absolute owner of the entire premises, such possession will not be adverse but will be the possession of both, and such tenant in the actual possession, can not, while so holding, acquire color of title so as to defeat the rights of his co-tenant.

The possession of tenant in common, being common, and each having the right to occupy, not only will such possession, though held by one alone, be presumed not to be adverse to his co-tenant, but it will ordinarily be held to be for the latter's benefit, so far as preserving his title thereto, the possession of one tenant in common being deemed that of all.

When one tenant in common is in possession of land, it requires clear and satisfactory proof of a subsequent disseizin by a co-tenant to characterize his possession as being adverse so as by lapse of time to bar a right of entry. It is not sufficient that he continues to occupy the premises and appropriate to himself the exclusive rents and profits, make slight improvements on the land and pays the taxes.

If a tenant in common, before taking possession of the land, acquires title or color of title from a stranger, and enters claiming the land under such title, then he may properly invoke the statute of limitations as a bar as against his co-tenant.

MORTGAGEE IN POSSESSION.

In ejectment by a mortgagor against the mortgagee in possession, after condition broken, proof that the mortgagor tendered what he claimed was the balance due on the mortgage debt, without showing that the sum tendered was the full amount remaining due, is insufficient to show that the mortgagee's right to possession has terminated.—Brown vs. Bookstaver, (Ill., Sup.) 31 N. E. 17.

ALLOWANCE FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Defendant, in an action to declare a deed a mortgage, and to redeem, while in possession, having put improvements on the land with plaintiff's knowledge and consent, and, in some instances, in accordance with his expressed desire, the court properly charged him with their costs, rather than the amount which they enhanced the value of the land : the rule governing actions brought under Code, § 1976 et seq., by the one who made the improvements, not being applicable.—Gleiser vs. McGregor, (Iowa) 52 N. W. 366.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A RELEASE.

In a suit to foreclose a trust deed it appeared that the defendant had afterwards given the complainant another note, with other security, for the same debt. Defendant and his clerk both testified that this other security was taken in place of the trust deed, but defendant contradicted himself, and the clerk showed that he was under defendant's influence. The receipt taken by defendant to show what the second note was security for did not state that it was to take the place of the trust deed. Held, that the preponderance of the evidence did not show that the second note, with its security, was taken in substitution of the trust deed.—Irwin vs. West, (Cir. Ct.) 50 F. 362.

Where a mortgager has sold the land subject to the mortgage, and the purchaser has assumed payment of the mortgage debt, the mortgagor may bid in the land at a sale under the mortgage, and transfer his bid to a third person, without thereby effecting a satisfaction of the mortgage.—Bensieck vs. Cook, (Mo. Sup.) 19 S. W. 642.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY MORTGAGED.

An agreement in a contract for the conveyance of land, on the part of the grantee, his heirs and assigns, to pay a mortgage on the premises, is not merged in the subsequent conveyance.—Stockton vs. Gould, (Pa. Sup.) 24 A. 160.

Act June 12, 1878, (P. L. p. 205 ; 2 Purd. Dig. 1464,) provides that where the grantee of land expressly agrees, in writing to assume a mortgage thereon, his personal liability shall not continue after he "has bona fide parted with the incumbered property, and unless he shall have expressly assumed such continuing liability." Held, that a grantee who, in the contract for the conveyance of land, agreed for "himself, his heirs and assigns," to pay a mortgage thereon, and who procured the name of his son to be inserted in the conveyance as grantee without the knowledge of the grantor, was not relieved from his personal liabilities to pay the mortgage.—Stockton vs. Gould, (Pa. Sup.) 24 A.

RIGHTS CONVEYED BY MINING PRIVILEGES

Where the owner of land made a deed of conveyance, in which was conveyed a tract described, and also the privilege of mining for coal under a one-acre tract near the first tract, it was held, that after the coal was all mined from the one-acre tract the grantee had no further rights in the same, and that the deed gave no perpetual license to go over such tract in passing from the first tract.

A claim in a deed or contract conferring the privilege of mining for coal under a tract of land, means nothing more or less than the right to enter on the land and remove the coal, and when the coal is all removed the right conferred will cease.

PLANS BY ARCHITECTS.

Architect E. M. Newman has prepared plans for a factory building to be erected at 123 and 125 La Salle av by the Morris Drivewell Company. It will be five stories high and 53x160 feet in dimensions. The front will be constructed of pressed brick and the interior will be provided with boilers, shafting, elevators, etc. The same architect has also prepared plans for a two-story factory at Bradford, Ind., for the Pioneer Furniture Company. This building will cost about $18,000 and will be erected at once.

Architect E. Hill Turnock has completed plans for a three-story apartment house to be built on the east side of Prairie avenue south of Forty-eighth street for B. Mitchell. It will have a frontage of 44 feet and will be 88 feet deep. Its cost will be $12,000. The front will be of stone with ornamental brick and will have a copper cornice.

Architect F. McAfee is receiving estimates on a factory building to be erected on Van Buren street, near Clinton. It will have ground dimensions of 40x100 feet and will be three stories high. The front pressed brick and the interior of mill construction. The building will cost about $7,000.

Architect R. C. Berlin has let contracts for a seven-story factory to be built by Ames & Frost at the northeast corner of Blackhawk street and Cherry avenue. It will be constructed of brick, and it will contain all the latest innovations in the line of industrial architecture. The cost of the building will be about $30,0000 and it is to be used for the manufacture of bicycles. He has also prepared plans for a three story flat building to be erected on Halsted street, near Belden avenue, for C. Demler, at a cost of $10,000.

Architects Kleinpell & Borst have let contracts for the Tower Hotel, to be erected by Green & Maher, on Sixty-sixth place near Stony Island avenue. The building will be seven stories high and will have ground dimensions of 80x125 feet. Its cost it estimated at $100,000. The first two stories will be of Bedford stone and the rest of the front of buff pressed brick. The hotel will contain about two hundred rooms and be equipped with every modern convenience. The building will be surmounted with a steel tower 210 feet high, the base of which will be fifty feet square and the top thirty feet. A feature of the building will be a handsomely carved entrance with mosaic floor in the vestibule. The same architects have designed for Frank Rowe a four-story apartment house and hotel, 50x70 feet, to be built on Sixty-seventh street near Stony Island avenue. The front will be of pressed brick and stone, and the cost of the structure will be about $20,000.

Architect J. A Thain is letting contracts for an attractive flat building to be erected on Fifty-fifth street, near Cottage Grove avenue, for Mrs. F. K. Gilbert. It will be 72x115 feet in dimensions, four stories high and will contain twenty-four apartments. The first story of the front will be of Bedford stone and the rest of the exterior will be of pressed brick, with cut stone trimmings. A CHOICE LIST OF SUMMER RESORTS.

In the Lake regions of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, and the two Dakotas, there are hundreds of charming localities pre-eminently fitted for summer homes. Among the following selected list are names familiar to many of our readersas the perfection of Northern summer resorts. Nearly all of the Wisconsin points of interest are within a short distance from Chicago or Milwaukee and none of them are so far away from the "busy marts of civilization" that they can not be reached in a few hours of travel by frequent trains over the finest roads in the northwest—the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and Milwaukee & Northern Railroad:

CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire. The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every perfo mance. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome pleasure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1 50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

No More Gold Exports Expected—Sterling Rates Drop Below the Shipment Point—Improvement in the General Trade Situation—Cholera Reports Losing Force as Market Factors—Money Rates Tending Upward—Quiet Stock Market—Few Large Real Estate Deals in Negotiation.

Notwithstanding the fact that cholera may be considered to have advanced one short step towards Chicago during the week, the general situation shows signs of improvement. Last week the bears claimed, with much force, that we were exporting gold and importing cholera. It was little wonder that investors were not encouraged to buy securities freely considering the many adverse factors that the market has been obliged to face. The continuance of unseasonable gold shipments and the condition of the United States Treasury might have been considered sufficient in themselves to render the general situation somewhat critical. In addition to these, however, came the cholera scare, labor troubles, and the promise of short crops and higher interest rates. The features of improvement have been noted principally in regard to the cholera epidemic and regarding the gold situation. Sterling rates have at last declined to such an extent that the exporting of gold is ended. In regard to the importation of cholera, the announcement of five deaths in New York city has finally aroused the authorities of that metropolis to an idea of proper quarantine regulations and rigid enforcement of the same.

The decline in sterling rates may well be considered the leading event of the week in financial and commercial circles. For months the unnatural drain of gold has been against the country and the small gold surplus on hand has been growing dangerously smaller week by week. On Monday the rumor of an engagement of $600,000 for export was current and caused no end of uneasiness among bankers and financiers who have become extremely sensitive regarding the monetary situation. Fine-spun theories have been evolved from time to time regarding the nature of the demands for the gold on the other side of the water. These may or may not have been correct, but the fact that the gold was moving to Europe at a time when it might, in the natural order of things, have been expected to go in the other direction, has been sufficient to create a feeling of uncertainty in every financial center in the country. On Thursday the actual rates of exchange went down a point to par and are now far below the practicable gold shipment point.

At the weekly meeting of the Bank of England directors the discount rate of 2 per cent was continued unchanged. The proportion of the banks' reserve to liabilities was 48.58 per cent against 50.32 per cent last week and 47.18 per cent last year. There was an increase both in the bullion and in the reserve. The half-yearly meeting of the Bank of England was held on the fifteenth of the month and a 5 per cent dividend was declared. The run on the Birkbeck bank is over and confidence is again restored. The run on the bank was due to reports touching the correctness of the last balance sheet.

Conditions of trade do not materially change, and taking the merchandise market as a whole, operations are yet of a moderate character. In the iron industry a better tone is reported, while everyone whose necessities compel him to use anthracite coal will be easily convinced that the coal trade is upon a more profitable basis than heretofore. The railway traffic returns invariably show increases over last year, and with the statistics of bank clearings, are direct proof that the volume of general business is expanded. The mining journals say that the copper market is in a more favorable condition, as sellers are becoming more numerous. This is particularly true regarding lake copper, the supplies of which are accumulating quite extensively, as few of the mining companies for some time past have been able to make sales at their prices, manufacturers not feeling warranted in taking in supplies greater than absolutely needed.

The September crop report was unfavorable regarding grain and cotton. It shows a decrease in conditions which will make a material reduction in the early estimates of yields. The September condition of wheat is 85.3 per cent against 87.3 per cent in August; corn is down from 82.5 to 79.5; oats from 86.2 to 78.9; rye from 89.8 to 88.5; barley from 91.1 to 87.4 and cotton from 82.3 to 76.8. The average for cotton is over 5 per cent lower than it was a month ago, and below that of a corresponding period of any previous year since 1883.

The local stock market this week was unmarked by any of the rapid advances, declines and lightning changes which have been features of the market in preceding weeks. On Monday the local market opened under rather gloomy auspices. Orders were far from being plentiful and the quotations were heavy. West Chicago Street Railroad stock opened at 204, the highest point reached during the week. It was anything but a week for scoring high points, however, and the way in which the street railway stocks were supported in spite of the cholera reports which were used to the utmost extent by the bear element was surprising. The weather had its usual effect on the temper of traders and speculators, and the public was not in the market to the extent that it would have been had the weather been clear and bright throughout the week. The daily sale lists are evidence that public interest is centered in North and West Chicago stocks. Both sides of the market were represented. The bears sold short against cholera reports, while the supporters of the stock and investors who believe in ultimate advances in both securities, bought in as low as possible in the depression caused by cholera influences. On Tuesday the market was exceedingly narrow and West Side stock touched 192. On Wednesday the full effect of the first announcement of actual deaths in New York was used to the utmost and prices declined another point or two. Cholera news, however, has certainly lost its force in the local market, and on Thursday the stock held at about 190 firmly, even though the reports of the day before were confirmed. North Chicago stock declined from 252 for the account on Monday to 240½ on Thursday. The brewery stocks have been dull and heavy, and it seems that the actual accomplishment of the beer war settlement has brought about results exactly opposite from those looked for. The immediate effect of the settlement had been fully discounted before the advance in the price of beer was announced, and a tendency to realize by tired holders has made a heavy market. Quotations for the common stock of the Chicago Brewing and Malting and the Milwaukee and Chicago Brewing companies respectively have run down from 44¼ and 38⅛ to 41 and 36. Street's Stable Car stock was another weak security on the list and was in poor demand during the week at a fraction less than 34. The settlement price determined on Thursday was 33. It is noticeable how few sales of bonds are reported from day to day at the local exchange. The great amount of investment capital which was in the market earlier in the year, seems to have been reduced, and the counter trade and the trade at the public exchange is much lighter than it was three months ago. The money market is growing decidedly firmer. There is an improvement in the demand, and many of the banks are running up quite formidable lines of loans. There is no ground for predictions of a stringent situation however, as the facts in the case do not warrant any such view of matters. The fact is that money rates have been unnaturally low, and the natural law of demand and supply is adjusting rates on a slightly higher basis than has obtained this season. Local rates are now quoted squarely at 6 per cent for time loans, and 5 per cent for call accommodation. The currency shipments of crop centers are yet of a light volume, and furnish indirect proof that there is an abundance of money at points throughout the West and Northwest.

Speculative business has been about as unsettled this week as it could possibly be under the worst circumstances. There has been a disposition on the part of brokers on all the exchanges to sell short with the expectation of realizing on declining markets. Every rumor that could be construed unfavorably—and there have been many of them—has been seized upon and magnified into a veritable bugbear to depress and demoralize prices in every direction. That the markets have maintained a remarkable buoyancy under the circumstances is the best evidence of the real strength of the situation. The bears who sold short and howled about the cholera have been greeted with firmer prices instead of the expected decline. The outlook at present is not favorable for a general tumble in prices. In fact, the very short selling of the bears themselves has a tendency to keep up values. This curious phenomenon is now being witnessed on the New York stock exchange. When the announcement was made that cholera cases had been found in New York, there was a rush of sellers, and it was thought that a break was inevitable. But the shorts at once made such frantic efforts to cover their previous sales that their buying actually bolstered up the market. For a time prices advanced under a bear raid. It was a curious spectacle and one not often witnessed—that of a market rising during a rush of selling orders. Evidently the cholera scare had been too heavily discounted.

On the Chicago board of trade the feeling has been nervous and panicky in the extreme. With every new exaggerated report from New York there has been a fresh drop in the price of wheat, until the lowest point of the year has been reached. Influences and counter-influences have prevailed; the reports of the pest in Europe and the estimates of an increased grain crop on the continent, with exports of wheat and flour for July and August 6,000,000 bushels less than a year ago, and decreased grain receipts at Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth—a combination of conflicting influences on the whole tending to depress prices. But the most interesting study of the week is corn. One report states that the crop will be plentiful; another, that it will be scarce. One authority says that corn is "awfully green"; another, that it is almost ripe. Another predicts a large percentage of good corn; while an equally good authority says that the corn crop will not exceed 75 percent of an average. Who shall decide when doctors disagree?

The yearly reports of earnings of the various railroad lines for the year ending June 30 are now coming to light, and their influence is decidedly favorable to higher prices. The earnings of St. Paul for the year show a surplus of $2,859,094 after paying all expenses and 7 percent on the preferred stock. This makes 6.21 percent for the common stock for the year. On the strength of this, the directors have declared a 2 percent semi-annual dividend on the common. It will take only about $920,000 to pay this dividend, leaving $1,900,000 surplus to carry over into next year. This is sufficient to pay two more 2 percent dividends on the common stock. The significance of this dividend is seen in the fact that the last previous dividend paid on St. Paul common was in April, 1888. The net earnings of the Wabash railway for the year ending June 30 were $91,475. This was an increase in net earnings per mile of $54. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern for the year shows net earnings of $7,631,718, an increase of $614,689 over 1891. These are instances of western roads taken at random, and they show a genuine increase in railroad prosperity that is encouraging.

The general business situation has not been affected by the unfavorable influences which have depressed the speculative exchanges. The only noticeable change has been in a heavy loss of trade to New York city, which has been transferred to other cities not so directly threatened by the cholera. The volume of business is apparently about the same. The demand for manufactured goods continues remarkably brisk for this time of year. Jobbers in all lines are busy. The retail outlook is particularly good. Railroad and transportation companies complain only of a scarcity of cars to move the heavy freights offered.

†Not included in totals.

A glance at the table reveals a marked improvement this week over last. Only fifteen of the cities of the United States show decreases, instead of the thirty-three so reported last week. The total shows a good increase, and all the indications are that the scare of the week previous has run its course. The decreases are mostly at southern, southwestern and farwestern points. The other instances of decrease are chiefly incidental and not indicative of any general influences in the sections to which they belong. No general adverse movement is noticeable this week. We have previously pointed out that southern and farwestern cities were suffering a decline; but no such disaster has as yet been indicated for the more northern and easterly cities of the table, except in a few individual instances.

The increases, on the contrary, have this week a distinct characteristic and an important signification. They are mainly grouped around the interior cities, and indicate an unusual influx of trade to those cities. That this is a movement to interior centres at the expense of the seaboard towns is evident. Buyers who would otherwise go to New York have been frightened away by the sensational reports of the cholera, and have hastened to Chicago and other interior points to complete their buying for the fall trade. This movement has been further accelerated by the extraordinary demand on retailers arising from the abundant crops in all sections, especially in the west. Retail merchants are preparing confidently for a vigorous fall trade. Unless some unforseen obstacle interposes they will not be disappointed.

The crop prospects are spoken of so indefinitely that only a general idea of the real condition is conveyed. Reduced to figures, we find that the visible supply of wheat available increased during August 12,485,000 bushels This is more than two and a half times the greatest increase during any previous month of August. The movement of grain to Europe has been so rapid that in August of this year the European stocks increased 104,000 bushels, whereas they usually decrease heavily during August. This heavy grain movement of itself is sufficient to account for the increase in commercial activity indicated by the table.

The gains in clearings at interior points are not merely the result of a temporary scare, however, nor are they due wholly to a prosperous crop outlook; it must be remembered that there has been a noticeable westward movement of trade for a long time, and that this movement is fast concentrating at Chicago. The increased activity at interior points is in line with this general tendency. The table merely testifies to the fact that the course of commercial empire is westward.

The analysis by groups of States following shows the usual decrease in the Southern group. The Farwestern is evidently improving, as predicted by THE JOURNAL a week ago. The New England and the Western groups show the only notable increases. Evidently the New England group has profited by the complete stagnation at New York, which is the representative city of the Middle group.

The analysis by groups of States is as follows:

A LEASEHOLD LITIGATION.

INTERESTING SUIT GROWING OUT OF NINETY-NINE YEAR LEASEHOLD COMPLICATIONS.

A bill involving the lease of the premises at 333 Michigan avenue was filed in the Circuit Court yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke, widow of the late Dr. Franklin D. Clarke, against Elbert W. Shirk, Frederick S. Eames, Rebecca Church, Seneca D. Kimbark, Irving B. Cougle, Daniel D. Cougle and Charles H. Cougle. Representations are made that in May, 1891, Dr. Clarke was the owner of the premises mentioned and as such entered into an agreement with Shirk for the sale of the same. Shirk agreed to purchase for $100,000, and Dr. Clarke agreed to lease for ninety-nine years and erect a ten-story building. Shirk paid $40,000 and the lease was executed to Dr. Clarke, requiring the latter to pay $6,000 annually for ninety-nine years Work was begun on the structure and continued without interruption until October 1891, when Dr Clarke died. After Dr. Clarke's death, and after work amounting to $42,000 had been done, Shirk notified the heirs of deceased that he had never approved the plans of the building as was provided by the contract, and this resulted in further delay. It is asserted that Dr. Clark was in poor health and that Shirk, taking advantage of his weakness, induced the doctor to make a provision in the contract that unless the building was completed by January, 1892, then Shirk had a right to cancel the lease. Charges are made that Shirk delayed the work as much as he could by being absent from the city; that, contrary to the agreement that the building should cost $125,000, that Shirk now claims that the cost should be not less than $250,000, and that Shirk is wrongfully disputing the specifications. Shirk has notified the widow that the lease has been forfeited.

Mrs. Clarke alleges that Shirk has been guilty of breach of the covenants and that she and the other heirs of Dr. Clarke have sustained damages amounting to $90,000 Under these circumstances the court is asked to cancel the lease and compel Shirk to convey the real estate to complainant. An accounting is also demanded.

IRRIGATION IN IDAHO.

Frank Hall, a former Chicagoan, but now, a resident of Mountain Home, Idaho, in speaking of the system of irrigation as practiced throughout the west, says that in Idaho, there are already over 2,800 miles of canals and ditches, which irrigate about 1,100,000 acres of land. There are about 7,000,000 more acres in the State still unirrigated but suitable for it, most of which is in the hands of the government, and 2,000,000 of these can and, in time, probably will be irrigated by private enterprise, principally from mountain streams and by those wealthy enough to own tracts of from 10,000 to 40,000 acres.

The whole valley of the Snake River could be irrigated from the river itself, but the cost of such an undertaking could only be borne by the United States government. To do so would require an expenditure, it is estimated of over $1,000,000. But great, however, as the expense would be the result would pay. The valley of the Snake now averages about forty miles in width of land available for cultivation, and extends from the mouth of the Weiser river in West Idaho, 500 miles to the confluence of the Teton. The average fall in the Snake river from the Teton down to American falls is about six feet, from the American falls to Glen's ferry fourteen feet, and from there to the Weiser four feet. The country above the American falls is so little higher than the river that lands are susceptible to irrigation by canals direct from the stream.

The formation of the country shows it to be the first upheaval on the continent. The soil is composed of decomposed lava and lava ashes and the decayed remains of trees and leaves from the mountains. It is a notably fertile country under irrigation. Fruits grow in greatest excellence there, and especially prunes. With the exception of one little tract in France no other part of the world can produce such prunes.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The most encouraging features of the real estate situation are the schemes for development of street railways and transportation systems, and the building activity in the section outside of the strictly down town district. In what is termed a dull market actual progress in the development of property cannot be considered anything but a most favorable feature. It is in such a market that operators often lack inclination to carry on improvements, even though they have an abundance of time. The various transactions too, being negotiated, which involve important properties, lend an air of interest and activity even though there are few actual transfers made. A great many real estate men have been surprised to find that while efforts are being made to secure a large loan from the Northwestern Insurance Company, of Milwaukee, to build a fine hotel on Michigan avenue, on the site of the Leroy Payne stables, negotiations have also been under way for the sale of the Leland hotel property to a New York company, to be improved with a fine office building. The negotiations for the sale of the Leland hotel, however, are practically at an end, as one of the three trustees, to whom the fee was recently transferred, is unwilling to sell at any figure. The selection of the New York company, in case it really expressed any preference for the Leland hotel site, seems remarkable to Chicago men, who believe Michigan avenue is prominently a hotel street and that the site would be anything but suitable for a down town office building. There is nothing new in the project for building a hotel on the Leroy Payne lot. Preliminary plans have been drawn on which to base a loan and negotiations for such a building loan have been opened with the insurance company named. An agent here, who has had extensive dealings with the company, is authority for the statement that the company never has made a leasehold loan and will not make an exception in the present instance.

The proposed lease of the Equitable Building by Owen F. Aldis and others to Hulburt Dunlevy for a ninety-nine year term, at a rental of $26,000 a year, is the subject of a great deal of comment among real estate men, although the lease was practically arranged for at the time the building was transferred to Mr. Aldis. No one seems to be able to figure out that the lease can prove to be a profitable investment and a series of estimates given by a real estate journal have been criticised quite generally as being entirely untrustworthy.

The St. Paul's Church property on Michigan avenue, near Sixteenth street, has gone into the hands of A. Munger, after a long delay. This property, including the brown stone church building, has been sold at prices running from $75,000 up to a reported price of $175,000. The first price was determined by the first sale from the church society to C. L. Hutchinson and Edward Foreman. The high figure was determined in an exchange between George W. Henry and F. F. Spencer. The price in the present sale is reported as $130,000.

NEW ELECTRIC ROAD IN THE SOUTHWEST.

A number of prominent gentlemen who are interested in property in the southwestern part of the city and suburbs, have incorporated the Chicago & Southwestern Railway company. The directors of this company are: Dr. F. M. Clement, D. R. Niver, Thomas P. Nisbett, R. S. Thain, B. F. Jacobs, and O. K. Munson. One of the principal promoters of the enterprise is Louis F. Menage of Minneapolis. The capital stock of the company is $250,000. The road will start at State and Ninety-fifth streets and run along Ninety-fifth street to Oaklawn. It is intended to connect Oaklawn and Evergreen Park with the South Chicago district. The total length will be six and a half miles.

"Operations are now under way," said D. R. Niver, one of the directors, "and part of the road will be completed inside of sixty days. The whole line will be finished before the Fair opens." Mr. Niver says $125,000 will suffice to build and equip the line, and also that the money is provided. There are no bonds. The road will be a single track with turnouts and a trolley system will be used. The road crosses the Chicago Central, Wabash, Grand Trunk and Rock Island roads.

REPORTED SALE OF THE ST. PAUL'S CHURCH PROPERTY.

Early in July it was reported that the Lincoln Warehouse and Van company had purchased the St. Paul's church property on Michigan avenue near Sixteenth street, for $30,000, from the estate of F. F. Spencer. The lot is 129x162 feet, improved with a gray stone church building. It has been the subject of an interesting series of transactions. It was purchased by C. L. Hutchinson and Edward Foreman from the church society for $75,000. They sold it to George W. Henry in July, 1890, for $100,000. Mr. Henry arranged a trade with F. F. Spencer at a valuation for the church property of $175,000. The statement is now made that A. Munger is to be the next owner of this much-bought-and sold property. It is more than probable that Mr. Munger buys it as a fee and that the Lincoln Warehouse and Van company occupying it at present retain a long term leasehold interest.

LAND BOUGHT FOR AMUSEMENT PURPOSES.

The company headed by George M. Pullman and formed for the purpose of building the "Spectatorium" for the production of Steele Mackaye's spectacular drama, "The Discovery of America," has under consideration a site on the lake shore just north of Jackson Park. The land in question includes the entire block extending from Everett avenue to the lake between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets, and 180 ft. on the west side of Everett avenue, extending back to East End avenue. There are several owners to this property, the principal ones being E. A. Shedd of the Knickerbocker Ice company, George A. Chambers and Thomas Whitfield. The building that the lessees intend to erect will be one of the largest audience rooms in Chicago. Its dimensions will be about 300x400 feet and it will have a seating capacity of 25,000. In addition to this it will have by far the largest stage that has ever been constructed in the country. The stage will cover one entire end of the building, and its mechanical effects will be of the highest order. The building itself will be constructed on the same principle as those on the Fair grounds. It will be of frame construction with an exterior coating of staff. Besides the theater, extensive refreshment rooms will be provided, and several smaller auditoriums are to be built in connection with it for concerts.

FOR A MAGNIFICENT MICHIGAN AVENUE LIVERY.

It is reported that the hotel project of Leroy Payne's on Michigan avenue, is now assured by the raising of $100,000 through the sale of a controlling interest in the livery business. The project has hung fire this long for the lack of $100 000 Mr Payne felt unable to supply this amount to the promoters of the enterprise, as his equity in the leasehold was to be paid for wholly in stock in the hotel company. He has now, it is understood, capitalized his livery business and sold enough of the stock in a new corporation representative of it, to complete the amount needed for the hotel. As Mr. Payne will become hotel manager instead of a livery stable proprietor, it is probable he has sold the control of this interest.

The corporation which will own the livery business is named the Leroy Payne Livery company. The capital stock is $500,000 and the incorporators are: Mr Payne, W. J. Goudy, L. W. Perce and Horace Hurlbut. An evening paper printed the astounding statement that the plan of the livery corporation contemplates the erection of an extensive structure upon the present stable site. This, of course, is out of the question. Negotiations are in progress for several sites, one on Michigan avenue being particularly desired.

LEASE OF THE FARWELL HOUSE TO A PROMINENT HOTEL MAN.

L. J. Clark, who recently leased the Granada and Salvador apartment buildings for a ten year term to be used as a hotel, has leased the Farwell House, at the northeast corner of Halsted and Jackson streets. The property is one of the oldest hotels on the West Side, having been in operation over twenty years. The building is a four-story structure, containing 120 rooms. The lease runs for five years and the terms given out provide for an annual rental of $12,000.

SALE OF VALUABLE STATE STREET PROPERTY.

C. W. Pardridge has sold to Charles Netchen the undivided one-half of 42x106 feet on State street, 66.6 feet north of Madison street, east front, for $200,000; also the undivided one-half of 90.14x146 feet on State street at the southeast corner of Fifteenth street for $75,000.

A REPORTED SALE OF THE LELAND HOTEL TO THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY DENIED.

A story was circulated this week to the effect that the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, was about to buy the Leland Hotel, with a view of tearing down the structure and replacing it with a modern office building. The hotel and land on which it stands was sold some time ago to Andrew J. Cooper, who transferred the fee to Owen F. Aldis of Chicago, and Moses Williams and Lawrence Minot of Boston, as trustees, for $625,000. A company headed by Mr. Cooper himself took the building and a ninety-nine-year leasehold in the property. This company in turn leased the hotel to Kittredge & Skeels for a term of ten years. To make any sale outright of the property the interests of the owners of the fee, the owners of the building, and the lessees would have to be combined.

An effort to make this combination was made by Mr. Cooper about a month ago. He approached Mr. Aldis and asked for an option on the purchase of the fee. Mr Aldis was not able to reach Lawrence Minot, but took the responsibility of giving a thirty-day option to Mr. Cooper without the consent of the third trustee. This step is all on which the report of any sale could possibly be based. Mr. Cooper went to New York with the intention of negotiating for the sale of the property, but failed to bring his prospective buyers to terms. As soon as Mr. Minot could be communicated with he refused absolutely to consider the sale of the fee, and stated that as the property had been purchased purely for investment he could see no advantage in selling it at present. As soon as the thirty-day option had expired, Mr. Aldis promptly notified Mr. Cooper that the deal was off, and of the position taken by the third trustee. This will end all negotiation, as the question of price is not the one raised by Mr Minot With the present building on the land, the property is scarcely available for a sale and a decided change in the nature of the improvement. Even the owners of the property consider that the insurance company, wanting a building in the office district of the city, is going entirely out of its way to select a Michigan avenue hotel corner.

A STATUE OF HUMBOLDT.

Humboldt Park will soon be beautified by a statue of Friedrich Heinrich Alexander von Humboldt, after whom the park was named. The statue arrived here last Saturday, and as a work of art is said to befit the fame of the great naturalist, scientist, and traveler It is of bronze and copied after a noted work of art in one of the public squares of Berlin The statue is the gift of Mr. F. J. Dewes

The statue is of life size and represents the famous naturalist in an erect and thoughtful attitude, his left hand resting on a globe and his right holding a tiny flower. The dress is that of the last century, long coat, knee breeches, buckle shoes. While the features are rough they represent great strength and intellectual power and acumen. Next month, after the return from Europe of Mr. Dewes, the statue will be unveiled, the German societies of the city assisting in and giving significance to the occasion. The statue cost 12,000 marks or about $3,000, and will be an artistic study in the park.

The program for the unveiling and dedication of the statue has been arranged, and will include, besides the presentation speeches, music and choral singing. These exercises will take place Oct. 16. Near the statue, in the custom-house, is another but much smaller work of art. It is a bronze statuette and addressed to the German Mannerchor, but none of the members of that club know anything about it. The supposition is that it is a gift from some friend of the society.

ELECTRIC LINES FOR CHICAGO.

The Chicago City Railway company will adopt the electric system on its cross-town lines as soon as practicable. President Wheeler has just returned from Cleveland where he has been inspecting the four electric systems in use in that city, and he says each of them appears to be a complete success. The first electric lines to be completed by the company will be the Sixty-first and Sixty-third street lines. The object is to secure adequate means for conveying people to the World's Fair grounds. There will be a straight line on Sixty-first street from State street to Jackson Park. This result will be brought about by October 10, by the construction of a track from Cottage Grove avenue to the Illinois Central tracks. The plan for the terminal of the Sixty-first street line is to run east on that street to Madison avenue, then curve toward the north along the line of the branch of the Illinois Central, going over their own right of way, which they have purchased, to South street. That is the short street just west of the Illinois Central main track, and the line will run a block north on that street and terminate with a stub end switch on the south line of the Midway Plaisance. This gives a terminal point within 250 feet of the Illinois Central's main station at the Fair grounds as the terminal should be located to avoid undue congestion. With electric motors a stub end switch is fully as desirable as a loop, for the cars can be run backwards as readily as forwards.

The Sixty-third street line will have two loops. The road will be carried straight east on Sixty-third street under the Illinois Central tracks, to Grace street, which is the first street west of Stony Island avenue. Here it will turn both south and north on Grace street running to Sixty-fourth and Sixty-second, then east on those streets to Stony Island avenue and loop back to Sixty-third.

These World's Fair routes will be equipped with electricity at the earliest possible moment. It is the intention of the company to provide for all the passengers that may be presented to them. Cross town lines will also be completed on Thirty-fifth and Forty-seventh streets. These will require more time, as there are some obstacles to be overcome, that do not present themselves on Sixty-first and Sixty third streets. Eventually, however, it is expected that electricity will be the motive power on all the cross town lines and extensions of the City Railway company.

TO THE DRAINAGE BOARD.

A CORRESPONDENT MAKES SOME PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

Suppose you take a ten-acre block, which is 660 feet square, and run a canal 160 feet wide through the middle of it, and then allow 40 feet on either side for streets, you then have left dock lots on either side of a depth, in the clear, of 210 feet each. Now suppose this ten-acre block to be worth $3,000 per acre, which would be $30,000 for the block, but at $100 per front foot on the canal, on both sides, would amount to $132,000 which is more than four-fold. Now apply this to a canal from the head of the South Fork to the head of Lake Calumet, and assume the distance to be ten miles. Then you would have 800 acres of land at $3,000 per acre at an aggregate of $2 400,000, but at $100 per front foot on the canal $13,200,000. Now, this difference of more than fourfold, nearly $10,000,000 net you can make by simply giving the brickmakers the privilege of making this excavation or canal by the brick-making process. Now, gentlemen, by this act—by the adoption of this route, you not only make this $10,000,000 for the drainage district, but by the same act you obtain an all-sufficient additional supply of water to make out the 600,000 cubic feet per minute for the main drainage canal required by law. You also forever prevent the future sewage of the Calumet from flowing into our drinking water. You also by the same act thoroughly cleanse the South Fork, that greatest nuisance in the world, by the mere action of the pumps at Bridgeport. And this latter can be done by the time of the World's Fair.

A mere ditch for the present is all-sufficient for the purpose, say a ditch 30 feet at bottom, 60 feet at top, and 12 feet in depth from surface, (average). Such a ditch would require 2,500 men 124 days to excavate, assuming that each man would excavate ten yards per day, and would cost, at $1.50 per day, $475,000. Now, gentlemen, in view of these profits and these grand results, I wish to ask if it would not be the very best thing you could do to decide upon this route at once and acquire the necessary land and right of way, and set these 2,500 men at work? You decline to adopt this route, and what will be the result? Why, you go on and complete the canal, and by the time it is done, there will be as much sewage flowing into our drinking water from Calumet as ever flowed into it from the Chicago River, and all the money spent will be literally thrown away. The better plan would be to extend the South Fork westerly or southwesterly until it shall intersect the present canal, and work it out also, by the brick-making process, and this would afford millions more of profit and fill up the present canal from that point to the eastern terminus—to the pumping works; for we do not want two streams, or a divided current—especially not at that point—at the Stock Yards—in fact, I do not think the law would permit of two main channels along there, and the present canal route would certainly be superfluous, to say the least of it, while the extension of the South Fork would be a great necessity. AGENTS' BUDGET.

Negotiations for the sale of the fee of the Hotel Grace property at the southeast corner of Clark and Jackson streets have been under way for months with no prospect of immediate consummation. The lot is 50x103 feet, and is subject to a long term lease, with a five-year revaluation clause. The fee has been offered to Peabody & Houghteling for something like $300,000, and is being considered by them.

Ingalls & Kimbell report the sale of sixty-two lots at Hinsdale for $18,000 to G. A. Gardner of Decorah, Ia.

J. W. Dooley & Co., have sold for M. J. O'Brien the northeast corner of Cottage Grove avenue, 48x108 feet, at $160 a foot; the premises No. 4513 St. Lawrence avenue to T. Lark for $6 000, and 72x125 feet, west front, on Drexel avenue, south of Fifty-sixth street, for $6,600.

Doty Bros. & Gordon have sold the residence at No. 355 Ashland boulevard for J. W. Gill to Gus Friedlander for $15,000.

W. W. Hutchinson sold to J. E. Kennedy 41 lots in Riverside, Cook Co. Ill.; consideration $ 0,000.

Satisfactory progress is being made on the new belt railway which the Union Transfer Company proposes to build. Although its promoters have not yet announced the exact route to be taken, it is known that negotiations are under way for several pieces of property which the road will traverse. An attempt is said to have been made to secure a right of way in the town of Maine, between Park Ridge and Desplaines, and several surveys that have recently been made in that section seem to indicate that the road will cross the Northwestern east of Desplaines and will strike the lake shore between Glencoe and Winnetka.

The West Side Street Railway company is to have a loop on State street. The line will be extended east on Madison street to State, north on State to Washington, and west on Washington through the tunnel.

The Anchor Line of Steamships is considering the erection of one of the largest warehouses ever planned for the city north of the river. It is to have a river frontage of 290 feet, by a depth of 180 feet, and will be four stories high. It is to be located between Clark street and La Salle avenue The same company has a large warehouse of similar proportions between La Salle avenue and Wells street. The structure will be of mill work, semi-fireproof.

A permit has been issued to the St. Paul's Parochial school for the erection of a three-story school building at Nos. 158 and 160 Ambrose street to cost $20,000.

Building permits have been issued to the University of Chicago for the erection of Kelly Hall on Lexington avenue, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth streets, to cost $50,000; also for the erection of Snell hall, same locality, to cost $50,000, and for Walker's Museum, same locality, to cost $150,000.

Andrew Dunning reports the sale of all of block 13, in Stewart D. Anderson's addition to Jefferson Park, to A. E Madera for $10,400, all cash.

FIRE-PROOF BUILDINGS.

The recent destruction by fire of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York was somewhat of a surprise to builders and others, who supposed that this structure was fire-proof. At the time the building was erected, in 1883, it was planned to be thoroughly fire-proof, but it is now pointed out that certain precautions which are required under the building law enacted since that time were not taken in the construction of the Metropolitan. The Metropolitan is merely another illustration of the fact that there is a great difference in so-called fire-proof buildings. Recent improvements in construction have greatly reduced the danger from fire, so that fire-proof buildings of the present day are not to be compared with those of ten years ago. That there was room for improvement is evidenced by a glance at such buildings as the Metropolitan Opera House. Many features were introduced in the construction of that building which would not be allowed under the present New York law. Furrings, lath and stepping up pieces in the galleries were of wood and much other wood was used where it would not be allowed at the present day. At the time the Metropolitan was built the old law did not require a brick wall between the stage and the auditorium, nor a fire-proof proscenium curtain. The present building law requires that the fire-proof proscenium curtain in a theatre shall be raised at the commencement and lowered at the close of each performance. That the Metropolitan was not a thoroughly fire-proof building is sufficiently evident from the fact that it was completely scuttled by the flames. What would have been the result had the fire-proofing been complete can, of course, only be conjectured.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The special assessment system of Chicago has been receiving the careful attention of the mayor and other public officials of late, as indicated by the mayor's message to the Council last Monday evening. It has long been evident that the system in use in Chicago is cumbersome in the extreme. THE JOURNAL has made frequent mention of the short-comings of the many special assessments with which property owners of the city are loaded down. Only a short time ago we suggested that the bond system of paying for public improvements should be adopted. This it seems is just what the mayor now proposes to do.

The conclusions arrived at in Mayor Washburne's message are valuable because they are the result of the personal investigations of a commissioner appointed for the purpose of studying the systems in use in other cities. The present system was found to be especially objectionable because of the rebate feature. This has been practically done away with. The uncertainty in the payment of contractors is another objection. This uncertainty is said to result in an actual increase in the cost of the work of from 5 to 15 per cent. Another bad feature is the possibility of a "stay order," whereby an improvement having once been begun is likely to be stopped through the influence of some alderman. By reason of this power to stop improvements by a stay order they are practically left to the whim of any property owner in a block who has sufficient influence to obtain the necessary stay order in the Council through the courtesy of his representative. Finally, the cost of public improvements and street cleaning in Chicago is found by comparison with other cities to be excessive. This is not merely a small matter, but assumes such proportions as to be almost alarming. For instance, the cost of street cleaning in St. Louis is $7.22 a mile of a thirty-six foot roadway for asphalt pavements and $9.12 for wood and granite each cleaning. The cost of street cleaning in Chicago last year by contract was $27.50 a mile each cleaning, not including the cost of inspection for contract work, and $36 a mile when done by the city. The entire cost of street cleaning in St. Louis, including administration and all expenses is only $11.40 a mile. These figures are only illustrative of the generally excessive cost of public improvements and municipal work under which our city has been and still is suffering. The duty of the Council plainly is to make a thorough revision of the plans for special assessments, street cleaning, scavenger service, etc. Chicago taxpayers will demand and eventually secure the best and cheapest system for public work on the continent.

A prominent building and loan association manager when asked to define a good investment said: "The first point is safety. Don't risk principal for the sake of high interest. The basis for loans is first mortgages on city property. The world's experience proves this. The next point is availability; something you can dispose of readily. You may have some unexpected need of your principal. Third—Profitableness. How much income can be had? This is very important. A doubling of income is a practical doubling of capital. If your $1,000 produces $50 per year, and by changing the form of investment it can be made to pay $100 you get the practical benefit of double the capital."

The Hyde Park Mutual Gas company is making a vigorous effort to secure a franchise for the extension of their gas mains through the main portion of the city. In this effort they are sure to be antagonized by the other gas companies and by certain property owners who always make it a point to antagonize every measure of public importance. The only grounds on which a contention can be based is that the gas furnished by the Hyde Park company is not good and that the company will sell out to its competitors as soon as its extensions are completed. The first proposition is capable of being proved or disproved, and should be thoroughly investigated before any steps toward granting a franchise are taken. The second proposition—that the company will sell out—is the most plausible objection yet made. It should be met by a provision in the proposed charter that any sale or combination for the purpose of putting up prices shall work a forfeiture of the franchise and the confiscation, of the company's mains by the city. This clause the company will not object to if they are in earnest in their professions of independence and honesty. As for the other gas companies, it is not easy to see how their service could well be worse than it is at the price charged, which is maintained only by a combination and mutual understanding clearly against public policy.

Five of the strongest national building and loan associations of the country have been indulging, unconsciously perhaps, in a very interesting race. They are all approximately the same age and all enjoy a good rating and home credit. The race might be approximately called the first million heat, accumulating fund stakes. The entries are the United States Savings and Loan Company, St. Paul; the Security Savings and Loan Association, and the Home Savings and Loan Association, Minneapolis; the National Loan and Investment Company, Detroit: and the National Mutual Building and Loan Association of New York City. On August 1, the National Mutual had accumulated $920,000; the National of Detroit; $960.000; the United States of St. Paul, $930,000: the Home of Minneapolis, $930,000; and the Security of Minneapolis, $1,006,000.

The revelations in the case of the Lombard Investment Company of Kansas City, which have resulted in indictments by the grand jury of that city against the former treasurer and office auditor of the company, suggest the necessity of heavier bonds for all officers of financial corporations. The quality of human nature is such that defalcations may be expected in spite of the best efforts to put only honest men in positions of trust. Circumstances almos beyond comprehension and which it would be only too tedious to attempt to explain here, arise with the best of men to tempt them to acts of indiscretion if not to absolute dishonesty. The result is often extremely disastrous to those who have confided their savings to these trust corporations. When the crash comes the poor investor is the one who suffers. No considerations of mercy or pity for the criminal can avail anything at such a time. The general practice of requiring a sufficient bond from all officers occupying positions of trust is the only safe way. That these bonds are often improperly executed or insufficient to cover the risk run is beyond dispute. There should be the greatest vigilance in matters of this kind, for the very welfare of the investment companies themselves depends on the feeling of security they can inspire in the investing public.

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLVED.

The well-known real estate firm of Bowes & Cruickshank has been dissolved by mutual consent of the partners. This firm, which was composed of Jerome P. Bowes and George B. Cruickshank, has been engaged in the general real estate business in Chicago for ten years, and for some time past has occupied offices in the Adams Express building at 187 and 189 Dearborn street. The firm has been one of the best known and most successful real estate houses in the city. Their business has assumed large proportions and will in future be managed by Mr. Cruickshank, Mr. Bowes retiring. Mr. Cruickshank will continue the business at the present offices 187-189, Dearborn street on the same lines as heretofore. Mr. Cruickshank will make a specialty of the care and management of property, a task for which he is specially fitted by an experience of over twelve years in Chicago real estate. Young and energetic, with a thorough knowledge of real estate values in all parts of the city, we predict for Mr. Cruckshank a continuance of the same generous measure of success that has heretofore characterized the career of the firm of which he has so long been a member—a success which has been due very largely to the personal efforts of Mr. Cruickshank.

CHICAGO CITY COUNCIL.

In another column of THE JOURNAL will be found a list of streets ordered improved by the Council at its last meeting. Commissioner Aldrich has received from the County Court confirmation of the special assessments for paving nearly 200 streets and alleys. Bids will be advertised for at once and the work will be begun and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

In the matter of the ordinance for the opening of Carl street from Wells to Sedgwick street, a petition signed by the owners of 4,833 feet of the frontage was presented to the Committee on Streets and Alleys protesting against the improvement, pleading that the owners were unable to pay the assessment. But 1,306 feet of the property petitioned for the improvement. The matter was left open.

For years the dedicated plat of Roberts street, between Chicago avenue and Erie street, near the river, has been unused owing to its inaccessibility, whereas a thirty-foot way somewhat east of the street has borne the Roberts street traffic under that name though not formally dedicated as a street. The committee voted to vacate the original right of way on condition that the street now in use be dedicated for the purpose.

The plan for a $55,000 viaduct over the tracks at Rush and Kinzie streets was placed on file.

The committee deferred action on the petition of the Chicago, Evanston and Lake Superior railroad company for permission to cross Michigan street and an alley at Kingsbury street to reach the site of the new depot on Kinzie street at Kingsbury. Property owners remonstrated against the granting of the franchise.

Webster avenue residents filed a remonstrance against the electric motor cars run on the Fullerton and Webster avenue line, but the committee referred it to the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to the privileges Mr. Yerkes enjoyed under his general ordinance touching motive power.

A remonstrance against the opening of a street between North avenue and Willow street from Vine to Orchard was placed on file.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

The New Jersey Court of Chancery recently held in the case of Drake v Lanning, that a promise by one to make his will in favor of another must be based on a sufficient consideration. In rendering the decision the court said:

'I have examined every reported case of this class in this state, as well as those cited by counsel from other jurisdictions, and find in each a well pleaded and proven consideration. In France v. France 8 N. J. Eq. 650, which, though not a case of a promise to give by will, is relied upon by the defendant; the allegation was that the defendant, who was the complainant's father, marked off to him a piece of the father's woodland, and agreed with the son that if he would go on it, and clear and improve certain portions of it, the defendant would give him a deed for it; that complainant, in reliance on this promise, took possession, and spent considerable sums of money over and above all the income which he received from the premises, in clearing and bringing into cultivation a portion of the land, building a house, barn, rail fence, stone wall, a road through the tract, and in planting fruit trees. The chancellor said that these facts were proven, and decreed in the son's favor. Here was a clear case of consideration by way of detriment to the promisee. He spent more money on the land of his father upon the strength of the promise than the income that he received from it; and if the father had retained the title to the premises, he would have been benefited to that extent himself, besides injuring his son. The case does not help the defendant herein. In Johnson v. Hubbell, 10 N. J. Eq. 332, the consideration was a conveyance of land by the son to his sister, at the request of the father, who, in consideration of it, promised to dispose by will of his property in a particular manner, and to the advantage of the son. In Van Dyne v. Vreeland, 11 N. J. Eq. 370, 12 N. J. Eq. 142, the consideration was the loss by the complainant of the share which he would otherwise have received in his own father's estate and his continued services for the defendant from his infancy until he was twenty-five years old (see 11 N. J. Eq pp. 375, 379, bottom p. 28 ; 12 N. J. Eq. 150, 151). In Davison v. Davison, 13 N. J. Eq. 246, the consideration was the services of the son rendered to the father on his farm for fifteen years, during which period the father was infirm, and unable to take care of the farm or himself, and needed the assistance of the son (see page 249). In the last two cases there was a consideration of both benefit to the one and detriment to the other of the contracting parties. In Young v. Young, 45 N. J. Eq. 27, 16 Atl. Rep. 921, a son expended large sums of his own money, and that of his wife, who was the complainant, in improving the farm in dispute, by erecting upon it new buildings and fences, and in repairing and enlarging those already upon it (see pages 29, 30, 45 N. J. Eq. and pages 922, 923, 16 Atl. Rep). The chancellor held this to be a good consideration. Here, again, the money was expended on the land of the promisor, and if he had been permitted to retain that land as against his promise, he would have received a benefit equal to the injury which the promisee would have suffered.

MORTGAGE OF CHATTELS WITH LIBERTY TO SELL IS VOID.

The following opinion will be of interest to all real estate men who sometimes have occasion to draw chattel mortgages. In the case of the William Deering Co. v. Leroy Washburne, the Supreme Court of Illinois has recently decided that an agreement that the mortgagor may sell the property mortgaged renders the mortgage void. A chattel mortgage of a stock of agricultural implements executed in due conformity with the law, and properly recorded, and which provides for the retention of possession by the mortgagor until default, will be rendered fraudulent and void as to third persons, by an agreement made at the time of its execution between the parties thereto, that the mortgagor may sell the same in his usual course of business and account to the mortgagee for the whole of the proceeds, followed by a sale of a part of the property at retail by the mortgagor, although he may pay the proceeds to the mortgagee in reduction of the mortgage debt.

Under our statute a mortgage of personal property accompanied by an agreement that the mortgagee may, in addition to retaining possession of the property until default sell the goods at retail in the usual course of the mortgagee's business as a salesman, though binding between the parties, is fraudulent per se as to third persons.

It has been uniformly held in this state that all conveyances of personal property unaccompanied by a change of possession, are fraudulent in law and void as to creditors of and purchasers from the vendor, unless his retaining possession is consistent with the deed; and that within this rule, if the mortgagor in a chattel mortgage remains in possession of the mortgaged property, the mortgage is fraudulent as to such creditors and purchasers, unless it expressly provides for such possession.

In order that the possession of the mortgagor, in a chattel mortgage, be consistent with the mortgage, it must provide for such possession during the period of the lien. If it does provide for such possession during such period, but at the same time certains an agreement between the parties that the mortgagor may sell the property in the ordinary course of his business, the requirement of the statute is no more complied with than if the provision was that the mortgagor may remain in possession of the property for ten days or any other period less than the life of the mortgage lien.

THE BALTIMORE.

One of the World's Fair enterprises which is rapidly approaching completion and the success of which is assured, is the Baltimore Apartment house, situated on the east side of Maryland avenue, between Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh streets. Maryland avenue being only one block east of Cottage Grove avenue, brings this building within easy reach of the city by the Cottage Grove avenue cable line. The Baltimore is also within eighteen minutes' ride of the city by the Illinois Central railroad from the station at Sixty-seventh street.

The Baltimore is a three story and basement structure of pressed brick and stone, and has been built with special reference to the World's Fair season. The building is technically an apartment house, but is built somewhat differently from the ordinary flat building. As far as possible it is arranged so that all the rooms open on hallways, so that guests will not need to pass through other rooms to reach their own. Each section of the building is provided with its own bath rooms besides all other modern improvements. The building has been constructed in a most substantial and complete manner and is practically fire-proof.

The projectors of the Baltimore are Roder, Lang & Co., of 633 Cottage Grove avenue. Mr. Frank Roder is a capitalist interested with the real estate firm of A. Lang & Co., 115 Dearborn street. The firm has been pushing this enterprise in a practical, business-like way, with the result that the building is now fast approaching completion and will be ready for the crowd of visitors at the dedication ceremonies next month The building will be furnished complete by one of the best known furniture houses in the city, and every arrangement will be made for the comfort and convenience of the guests We are informed by Messrs. Roder & Lang that they have already had a brisk inquiry for rooms in the Baltimore during the World's Fair season.

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

OUTLOOK FAVORABLE — CHOLERA SCARE PRACTICALLY OVER — IMPROVED FINANCIAL CONDITIONS—TRADE MOVEMENTS HERE AND IN THE EAST—LOCAL STOCKS FLUCTUATE—FEATURES OF THE REALTY MARKET.

The general outlook all over the country has never been much more favorable than just at the present time. The cholera scare which threatened to unsettle the market and to cause a general feeling of insecurity has passed over at least temporarily, and the monetary difficulties which were considered threatening to the finances of the country have been adjusted satisfactorily. Sterling quotations have dropped to such a point that there is now no further danger of shipments of gold from the country, and in fact imports of gold are looked for at no distant day. Bills of exchange are becoming more plentiful and the supply of drafts drawn on German ports has become noticeably larger since the cholera ports have been less threatening.

Money rates generally are becoming higher, and the surpluses of cash at Eastern financial centers are becoming depleted by the demand from the West. Each year brings some new theory from eastern bankers regarding the prospects of the money movement. This year the theory has been that the large crop of last year left an abundance of money in the west and that the movement westward would not be large. This was in a measure borne out by the light transfers of money made to move crops, but as the season has advanced these shipments have become gradually larger. Between August 6 and September 10, deposits in the banks of New York alone decreased $36,626,000. The London discount rates have advanced to some extent although they are still ridiculously low. The demand for securities is fairly good, as may be indicated by the fact that one Chicago house alone is selling on an average $150,000 of paper daily.

The volume of business in mercantile lines is moderate, although up to a good average. The fall movement in dry goods continues to be active, and the business of the season is certainly up to a good fair average. The leather market is steady with a fair demand. The demand is gradually improving and the causes which led to a shut down in the production of certain lines of leather last year are being removed. There is a steady movement in lumber for building purposes, while the hardwoods are dull and featureless. The anthracite coal business is on a rather different basis than it has been for years. Local dealers are busy getting out their coal in delivering the orders that are coming in and are doing little in the way of fresh buying. The retail movement is sharp, as consumers are putting in their fall supplies. The fact that the combine will advance prices again on October 1, will induce retailers to follow their example and this is spurring on the retail movement. The flour market is dull and in view of the quiet business values are only fairly sustained.

The New York stock market has really been without features during the last week. Northern Pacific preferred seems to be the stock selected for trading and manipulation, and was sold up and down in a narrow range of prices. The Industrials which have so long occupied a prominent place in the market are still important stocks in the list. One of the most prominent brokers on the New York stock market is quoted as saying regarding advancing money rates: "The fact is that the commerce of this country has received a decided chill from the troubles resulting from the cholera scare, and merchants' balances have run down, while they have paid off their maturing loans. From this time on the market will be glutted with call money. If I mistake not 4 percent will be the top price for call money during the remainder of the year 1892."

The quarantine against sugar at Philadelphia has been lifted in the case of one vessel, which has been allowed to discharge her cargo. This will enable the refineries to continue, and disposes of all fear of a sugar famine. Special action will be taken on each vessel arriving, and no particular rules have been adopted respecting arrivals of sugar. The McCahan Sugar Refining Company which has just completed a new refinery is about to apply for a charter under which to begin operations in opposition to the American Sugar Refining Company.

†Not included in totals.

The table again strikingly illustrates the theory laid down in last week's JOURNAL as to the losses of seaboard cities and the gains at interior points. A glance will show that the only two cities among the larger commercial centres of the country showing increases are Chicago and St. Louis—both interior points. New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Baltimore and New Orleans, all great seaports, show heavy decreases. Boston, which until lately was considered a rival to Chicago, this week falls over $14 millions below us. Evidently the losses at eastern points have been partially compensated at western centres. We say partially, because the total shows that at best there is a loss of 7.5 percent as compared with last year.

The stagnation in business which is complained of so bitterly in some sections does not seem to have been shared alike in all parts of the country. The west and south have experienced a revival of activity in some instances unprecedented at this time of year. At Chicago, for instance, the demand for dry goods and kindred staples has been beyond the most sanguine expectations. At Omaha and Milwaukee similar conditions have prevailed. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth have likewise shared in the general prosperity. Reasons for this prosperity are not far to seek. The primary cause is doubtless the great crops, equal almost to those of last year. An effort has actually been made in some quarters to conceal the real facts with regard to the wheat crop. The crop is so large that farmers and elevator owners are afraid to have the truth known lest it unduly depress prices. This singular state of affairs is sufficient to explain the present activity in trade throughout the West and Northwest. The total east bound shipments of flour, grain and provisions for the week were 23,284 tons, and shipments of all kinds of freight by the lake lines to the east for the week amounted to 130,422 tons.

The South appears to have been awakened at last, and is experiencing an unaccustomed activity in commercial matters. This in advance of the harvesting of the cotton crop is an encouraging symptom. In a general way the same conditions prevail in the South as in the West and Northwest. With equally good transportation facilities there ought to be a similar degree of prosperity. We have previously noted in this analysis that the South was evidently on the gain. That the upward movement should be slow is not strange, but that it will continue under the fostering influences of increased capital and better transportation can not be doubted.

The following is the analysis by groups of States:

	WEEK ENDING SEPT. 15, 1892.	WEEK ENDING SEPT. 17, 1891.	PERCENT AGE.
New Engl'd States.	$103,061,314	$112,672,517	Dec 7.8
Middle "	722,408,904	808,049,268	" 10.6
Southern "	33,988,169	40,601,824	" 16.5
Western "	44,869,252	38,605,882	Inc 16.0
Northwestern "	137,380,161	126,079,101	" 8.7
Southwestern "	40,921,265	39,934,619	" 2.6
Far Western "	28,884,060	32,344,258	Dec 10.8
Totals,	$1,111,513,125	$1,198,287,469

The analysis by groups shows losses in four groups and gains in three. A somewhat unusual statement is presented, the New England and Middle groups showing losses as well as the Southern and Farwestern. A similar result is very seldom arrived at, and is due this week to the effects of the cholera scare which have not yet worn off. The Western and Northwestern groups present the usual redeeming features of the table, and the Southwestern returns a slight gain not expected in view of the general tendency exhibited elsewhere.

Briefly summarized, the situation resolves itself into this. The volume of business on the whole is satisfactory. In sections of the country unaffected by immediate fear of contagion the clearings show very gratifying increases, but at seaboard cities there has been a considerable falling-off owing to the partial embargo placed on commerce and the difficulty of securing vessels for export to infected ports. This tendency to stagnation in eastern cities has also had an ill effect on trade throughout the entire country

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The local stock market opened up on Monday with a show of strength which was by no means warranted by the course of quotations later on. The whole list of stock was strong and there were some sharp advances, led as usual by the street railway stocks. The price was set for West Side stock at 200 and for North Side stock 250, by active bidding. Free realizing on the part of some long holders who were willing to take out their profit rather broke the advance which was started by the early movement of the market. Tuesday prices were maintained at about these figures but on Wednesday there was quite a break and the market was heavy from that time on. West Side dropped off to 194 and a corresponding break was registered in the North Side stock. The weak spot in the market, however, was in Street Stable Car stock. The stock went down to 30 on the appearance of the August statement which was construed by the public as being decidedly unfavorable. The statement showed a decrease as compared with the corresponding month of 1891 of $20 253. The bare statement of the decrease is rather more unpromising than an analysis of the conditions would argue. The total mileage earnings for August were over $55,000. This was $3,000 more than the mileage earnings for July and $9,000 more than for June. The bad appearance of the statement is caused rather from the fact that last August was an exceptionally good month and showed extraordinary earnings. The whole line of industrial stocks was weak and wavering. Strawboard stock was the occasion of considerable interest. The market closed Monday at 75. Contradictory rumors which incline to the discredit of the standing of the company forced the price down two or three points. Definite information regarding the situation of the company is hard to obtain. Officials of the company state that the earnings so far have been equal to about 14 per cent. Out of this must come the interest on the bonds and the requirements for a sinking fund. The present weakness of the stock, however, is not based on a lack of earnings but on a prospect of a disruption of the combine by which prices have been maintained in the past. The officials of the company, however, are just as ready to claim that there is no prospect of such a condition of affairs. The brewery stocks were in rather light demand and there was no particular improvement in prices. On the whole there was a slight improvement in the quotations for Chicago Brewing & Malting and Milwaukee & Chicago Brewing stocks. It is a matter of surprise to some that the improved condition of the Western Stone company is not reflected more noticeably in the quotation for the stock on the local market. It is evident that this stock has lost the place it once held as a speculative security. It appears to have gone into the hands of investors, and even small sales are of rare occurrence. The earnings of the company for August exceeded the earnings of any previous month in the history of the company.

The securities of the Alley Elevated Road do not appear to be in high favor in the market. On Wednesday a sale of the company's bonds were made at 95, the lowest point recently touched. The stock has been selling during the week at about 97. It is claimed that the earnings of the company are now equal to operating expenses. On the Thursday market three sales were made which will be of some interest among the real estate circles in the city. The sales were of stock in the Masonic Temple, five shares were sold at 80, fifty five at 81, and thirty at 81¼.

On the exchange yesterday morning, in the absence of the Philidelphia broker who represents Elkins & Widener, West Chicago was in moderate demand at the start at 195 to 195½. Edward Pardridge created a sensation by a personal purchase of 20 shares, and three brokers were fined for indulging in a cheer thereat. The transactions in this specialty for the session were only 410 shares. Western Stone will pay a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent Oct. 15, and par is asked for the stock.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The most interesting incident in the real estate market of the week was the completion of the lease for a term of ninety-nine years of the corner of State and Van Buren streets. The northeast corner of these streets improved with a four-story and basement building is owned by the James Campbell estate. The corner has a frontage of 78 feet on State street and 145 feet on Van Buren It is leased for the major portion of the term at an annual rental of $30,000 or 5 per cent on the ground valuation of $600,000. This capitalization is equivalent to $7,692 a front foot or over $53 a square foot. The lease is made by the trustees of the estate to a syndicate composed of Eastern and Chicago capitalists headed by A. L. Sercomb. The present building is now under leases, bringing an annual rental of about $21,000. These leases all expire in the spring of 1894, and the corner will then be improved with a splendid mercantile building. It was the construction of this building on which the negotiations for the lease have hinged for two or three months. The Eastern members of the syndicate were anxious to build at once and to have the structure ready by May 1 of next year. The difficulties among the iron manufacturers arose and the conditions were such that no contractor could be found willing to guarantee the completion of the building within a specified time. The negotiations for the lease were really begun at the time that L. Z. Leiter leased his State street building to the retail firm of Siegel, Cooper & Co. The lessees, it is said, intend to erect a building which shall be a sort of headquarters for the jewelry business in the city. Outside of the negotiations of this lease there have been no transactions of importance completed. A sale of property in the wholesale district is said to be all but closed and negotiations for a term lease which will dispose of a prominent State street corner are under way. Preparations for building the Leroy hotel on the site of the Payne stables advance but slowly, if they advance at all, and there will probably be no further intimation of the movements of the Western Union Telegraph company towards selecting a building until the sale of the Phenix building or some equally eligible property is recorded. South Side building operations are being carried on with more than ordinary degree of activity, and the manufacturing towns which are actually making progress are experiencing something that resembles a genuine boom in building. In Chicago Heights for instance, two large hotels are under way; five or six factories are being built; and possibly two hundred houses and cottages are in various stages of completion. This building activity is in the face of the fact that materials are rather higher than they have been for a number of years, and that carpenters, masons and bricklayers are in unusual demand.

AUCTION SALES AWAY ABOVE THE APPRAISED VALUATION.

Real estate men are asking seriously why it is that property can be sold at judicial sale at prices way above the valuation put on it by the court appraisers when the same property could not be sold at the same figures either at private sale or public auction. Two prominent instances illustrating this fact have come to light recently. One was the sale of the premises known as No 663 Pine Grove avenue, 50 by 225 feet, improved to close the estate of John J. Smith; the other was the sale of the premises 585 Cleveland avenue, by the estate of Charles M. Drake. Both these sales were conducted by Adams & Hamilton at the order of the Probate court. In both instances the property brought more than the valuation placed on it by the appraisers. In the case of the Pine Grove avenue property the valuation was fixed at $4,500 and the price secured at auction sale was $5,700. The question is, why can property be sold at judicial sale when it could not be sold at public auction? The answer made by real estate men who profess to know is that the public have lost all confidence in auction sales unless conducted by the courts. The experience of many a purchaser at auction has been disastrous. Too many "fake" auctions have been held, at which the brass band and free lunch features have been predominant. The after effects of such auctions are exceedingly disastrous to public confidence. Then, too, the fact that property put up at public auction is not subject to actual sale is against such auctions. A bidder is entirely at the mercy of the owner of the property. If the latter does not choose to sell at the highest price bid, he is at liberty to withdraw the property. In a judicial sale on the other hand the sale is absolute if two-thirds of the valuation established by the appraiser is bid. Inasmuch as this valuation is almost invariably reasonable, the result is that an auction seldom or never results in a failure to receive the required two-thirds bid, but rather, as in the instances above cited, the bids usually exceed the valuation. This is still more remarkable because in almost all these cases where real estate is sold at judicial sale it is for cash, whereas at regular auction sales very favorable terms are obtainable. So much for an impaired public confidence.

MICHIGAN AVENUE RESIDENCE CORNER SOLD AT $1000 PER FRONT FOOT.

H. A. Rust sells to E. B. Butler, chairman of the Ways and Means committee of the World's Fair Directory, the property at the northeast corner of Michigan avenue and Thirty-fifth street. The property has a frontage of 152.8 feet on Michigan avenue and 144 feet on Thirty-fifth street. The price paid is $152,800, or $1,000 per foot for the Michigan avenue frontage. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for property on Michigan avenue south of Thirty-first street. Yet no other property in this vicinity is for sale at the same price. Mr. Butler purchases the property because of its desirability. He has no immediate intention of improving the land, although it will probably not be allowed to remain unproductive of income. Still, from recent growth in values money could be made by holding the land a year or two and then selling.

REFORM IN THE INTERESTS OF TAX-PAYERS DISCUSSED.

The regular dinner of the Real Estate Board at the Hotel Metropole Thursday evening was attended by nearly 100 members of the Board. The subject of discussion announced by President Dreyer was "Municipal Reform as Related to the Taxpayer." Mr. W. A. Giles said that the question of good city government was pre-eminently one of interest to the poor man, because the advantages of good water, clean streets etc., were thus secured free to the poor, while the rich could purchase these blessings. Mr. W. Heinemann suggested that tax-payers should interest themselves in primary elections for the purpose of securing reforms. Mr. M. A. Farr said that in order to have a city government favorable to the tax-payer, it must be simple in its machinery, non-sectional and impartial in its application, and prompt and energetic in its operation. Mr. B. A. Fessenden suggested that a club be organized, to be composed of men of all parties who are willing to work together as earnestly for the love of the city as the professional politician works for plunder and power.

PROJECT OF THE ELEVATED TERMINAL RAILWAY COMPANY.

The incorporation of the Elevated Terminal Railway company with a capital stock of $7,500,000 is a movement by Messrs Underwood & Greene, the promoters of the new Lake street L company, with a view to furnishing a belt line for all the elevated railroads desirous of entering the down-town district. The route for the terminal loop has not been selected nor has anything further than preliminary work been accomplished in this direction. It is stated that the loop will extend "from a point on Washington street, in the south division of Chicago, between Fifth avenue and the Chicago River, extending south to a point between Adams and Polk streets, thence east to a point between State street and Lake Michigan; thence north to a point between Randolph street and the Chicago River; thence west or southwest to the place of beginning."

One of the promoters of the company said in speaking of the project that the loop would be built for the accommodation of the Lake street line and the others entering the business district. It will be operated separately from any or all of the roads that may use it, but not for profit. The construction and methods of operation will be such as to favor the public as much as possible. A competition will be opened that the most desirable superstructure may be obtained. It is proposed, in this connection, that the company construct a sidewalk along the sides of the track, that the congestion of streets may be observed, and from the fact that neither the Metropolitan nor the State Street Alley "L" company has agreed to back the project, it may be inferred the Terminal Company is formed now to test sentiment rather than hurry actual work. Officials of the Alley "L" have been seen and the directors of this concern will be called upon soon to pass on the matter. If the decision is favorable the Metropolitan will fall into line at once, for these two interests are practically identical.

The charter of the Lake Street line for an elevated structure on the alleys east and west between Lake and South Water streets will be used. It is suggested that the difficulty in securing a charter for the rest of the proposed loop will be so great that it will be practically impossible, unless the road is to be made a common carrier for all the other roads desiring to enter the business district. This will insure a down-town terminal to all the elevated roads and may be expected to greatly stimulate the building of new lines.

CHEAP IMPROVEMENTS SOUTH OF JACKSON PARK.

The extension of the fire limits to Sixty-seventh street was a measure of great importance to the territory thus protected from cheap frame fire-traps, but it is thought by good authorities that an immediate further extension is necessary to protect the property south of Jackson Park. Many of the promoters of World's Fair hotels desire to erect frame structures of the cheapest description and have rushed into the territory south of Sixty-seventh street and secured permits for all sorts of frame buildings, many of which are not intended to be more than temporary. It is predicted that the result will be very disastrous to real estate values in that locality if any further building on this scale is not stopped by an extension of the fire limits as soon as possible. Shrewd buyers are even now looking suspiciously at this territory for this very reason, and they claim that after the Fair this damaging element of cheap improvements will be much more of a drawback than it is at present.

SALE OF WEST MADISON STREET PROPERTY.

E. A. Cummings & Co. have sold the Leonard property on West Madison street near Western avenue to a Chicago capitalist for $50,000. The lot has a south frontage of ninety-five feet and is improved with a three-story store and flat building erected some years ago. The improvements can hardly be considered a factor in the sale, so that the price paid is practically for the land, and the sale accordingly places a valuation of about $550 per foot of frontage. The buyer will probably make some improvements in the present building.

ANOTHER LAKE SHORE AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISE.

A syndicate of Chicago and New York capitalists have leased the Barrell property, including the entire block extending from Fifty-fifth street north and from Everett avenue east to the lake. It has a lake frontage of 585 feet and a west frontage on Everett avenue of 500 feet. The lease will run for two years at an annual rental of $18,000. The lessees will erect on the property a large pavillion, and furnish concerts and other entertainments during the Fair season. This is the third project that has been located on the lake shore between Fifty-first street and Jackson Park within the past six months, the others being the Beach Hotel and the Spectatorium, and it is stated that negotiations are now under way for a lease of the only remaining block of lake frontage south of Fifty-first street. It is understood that the last piece is wanted for hotel purposes. It will be remembered that a company negotiated for the Barrell land a few months ago for the purpose of erecting a six-story hotel to be called the Geneva, but this project failed to materialize.

A SIX HUNDRED ROOM HOTEL IN THE WORLD'S FAIR DISTRICT.

One of the largest World's Fair hotels that has yet been projected is to be built on the block bounded by Sixty-ninth street, Palmer avenue, Seventieth street and Paxton avenue. The property is to be leased and a four-story temporary building to contain about 600 rooms erected on the block. The location is a little further east than that yet taken by World's Fair hotel companies, but it is believed to be good property for such purposes. It is only a few blocks from the lake and within easy access of the Calumet electric road. The South Chicago branch of the Illinois Central passes within a block of it.

DRAINAGE RELIEF.

The Drainage Board at a recent meeting provided for increasing the pumping facilities at Summit to 80,000 cubic feet per minute; and also for any other measures of temporary relief that the joint committee on Engineering and Finance together with the chief engineer, attorney and general counsel may see fit to adopt. If necessary in their opinion the canal will be enlarged between Bridgeport and Summit. The correction of the main channel of the DesPlaines river and the division of the flood waters of the North branch, which is being accomplished as rapidly as possible by the work now in progress, will reduce the flood area from 900 square miles to less than 200 square miles. The city will also co-operate with the Board in the matter of enlarging the capacity of the Bridgeport pumping works; so that now we may expect temporary relief from the mass of sewage which is being poured into the lake through the river. This decision of the Board has been arrived at after no end of strife over the matter which has engendered many bitter feelings.

HYDE PARK ASSESSMENTS.

SOME CHANGES MADE BY THE COUNTY BOARD ON COMPLAINT OF PROPERTY OWNERS.

The County Board has granted relief to the property owners who applied for a reduction of their taxes on Hyde Park property to the figures of last year. The Judiciary committee of the Board has charge of equalizing the taxes, and J. Irving Pearce, Huntington W. Jackson and J. D. Willoughby appeared before the committee and asked that their taxes be reduced to last year's figures.

These three are the owners of four forty acre tracts, touching Jackson Park on the south and lying between Stony Island avenue and the lake. Mr. Willoughby's forty acres were assessed in 1891 $51,000 and in 1892 $105,000. Mr. Jackson has two such tracts. One of these last year was assessed $42,000 and the other $31,675; this year the assessments are respectively $80,000 and $47,510. Mr. Pearce's forty acres were assessed in 1891, $31,000 and in 1892 $40,000. They asked that the assessments be placed at last year's figures, and in support of their claims made some peculiar statements.

For instance, it was alleged that a forty-acre tract adjoining, which last year was levied on for $25,000, was asked to pay this year only $22,680, although within the last few months it has been laid out and finely improved and has now forty-five new houses upon it. It was said, too, that a twenty acre tract adjoining Landlord Pearce's property, which last year paid $13,840, was asked this year to pay the same amount, while an eighty-acre tract lying along the lake much higher and vastly better than Mr. Pearce's property, which it adjoins, pays the same as last year, and at that, only $37,375. Landlord Pearce said his forty-acre lot is so swampy that the World's Fair people refused to consider the rental of it, because it would cost so much to fill it so it could be of any practical use to them. He said, too, that the assessment was made on a valuation of one-tenth, but he would be glad to take for his property one-half what that rate represents.

The men also called attention to a part of Kenwood, the twenty-acre tract bounded by Forty-eighth street, Kenwood avenue, Woodlawn avenue, and Forty-ninth street, which has all the improvements of a modern suburb, and which is assessed $41,830. At that rate, a forty-acre tract in that district would be assessed $83,600. This figure they placed against the $105,000 assessment levied on Mr. Willoughby's unimproved forty acres south of Jackson Park.

The Judiciary committee reported in favor of the property-owners, but their report was rejected by the Board. The matter was then referred to the Public Service committee which sustained the Judiciary, and on Tuesday of this week the report was finally adopted by the Board by a vote of 11 to 4. This reduces the tax on the four forty-acre tracts to last year's figures.

STATE STREET CORNER LEASE.

An Eastern syndicate headed by A. L. Sercomb has leased from the James Campbell estate for ninety-nine years the northeast corner of State and Van Buren streets for $25,000 a year for the first two years and $30,000 a year for the balance of the term. The lease was negotiated through R. E. Ismond, of J. H. Van Vlissingen & Bro. The rental to be paid establishes a valuation on the property on a 5 percent basis of $600,000. The lot has a frontage of seventy-eight feet on State street and 145 feet on Van Buren, so that the valuation per foot of State street frontage is $7,692. The lease dates from September 1, and the lessee take possession at once. The lot is now occupied by the building Nos. 273 to 279 State street. It is an old building, constructed directly after the fire. While the building is four stories and a basement it counted for nothing in the transaction, as it is the intention of the purchasing syndicate to replace it as soon as the present leases expire with a new structure. The building is now leased for $21,000, the Decorators' Supply company, Philip Winter, Moos Bros., and Meech & Co. being the chief tenants. These leases all expire in the spring of 1894, and the property will then be improved with a building which, according to the plan of the lessees, will be finer than any mercantile building now standing on State street. The price of $600,000 places a square foot valuation on the property of $53.05, a valuation which, considering other transactions in that vicinity, is considered decidedly favorable to the lessees. The men who have made the lease have great faith in the development of State street in the vicinity of Van Buren. They go so far as to believe that after the West Side cable system is in full operation through the Van Buren street tunnel and the elevated roads in full working order the corner of Van Buren and State streets will become as much of a center as the corner of Madison and State streets is at present.

WAR ON THE PULLMAN COMPANY.

The State Board of Equalization is considering some knotty problems in regard to the proper assessments for railroad companies and other large corporations. The annual fight against the Pullman Palace Car company is now on. It is a ghost that will not down. Mr. Craske, the leader in the attack, had another inning before the Board this week. He said that the capital stock of the Pullman company as reported by the company was $30,000,000, and according, also, to the report of the company the actual value of its capital stock aggregates $40,000,000. The company claimed to have property outside of the State aggregating in value $38,541,242.32. It has been the custom of the Board to give the company credit for all property outside of the State. This would leave the property of the company in Illinois worth only $1,458,757.68. To Mr. Craske this seemed ridiculous. He said the company must have forgotten the magnificent building owned by the company on Michigan avenue, which must have cost $1,500,000, and they must also have forgotten, he said, their property in Pullman worth from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. On the 25 per cent basis adopted by the Board the amount to be assessed by the Board according to the report of the company would be only $364,689.42. From this it would be necessary to deduct the local assessment of $647,788.58, also the assessment of $191,913.58 on the Pullman company's interest in the Pullman Land Association. This would leave nothing for the Board to assess. Mr. Craske contended that the capital stock of the Pullman company should be assessed on the basis of an actual value of $57,000,000, or $190 per share.

The anti-railroad spirit bobbed up at the same meeting. It is the evident intention of some of the members that the railroads shall be compelled to pay more taxes. Mr. Powers introduced the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on railroads:

WHEREAS, It appears from the report of the Railroad committee for the last three years that the tangible property of all the railroads was assessed at such a rate as to leave nothing to assess as capital stock; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the committee in its report of assessment for this year include in said report the value of the capital stock of each of said railroad companies so that this Board may determine whether or not said tangible property assessment does in fact equal or exceed the value of said capital stock.

DESCRIPTION OF THE NIAGARA TUNNEL.

FIVE MILES OF RIVER FRONTAGE ON THE AMERICAN SIDE.

The new wonders of Niagara created by the construction of the tunnel under the Falls, are engaging the attention of business men all over the world. The National Real Estate Association, which held its first regular meeting at Nashville, Tenn., last February, selected Buffalo as the place of the second congress mainly on this account. The Association, through its Secretary, R. C. Hill, is engaged in sending out information to members and others, accompanied by pictures and engravings of this new wonder of the world. An eye witness thus describes the enterprise.

Among the greatest enterprises in modern times is the attempt to harness the water power of Niagara to the wheels of industry. Few people are aware of the stupendous and difficult nature of this undertaking, or of the issues involved in its proposed accomplishment. The horse power developed at the falls is said to be equal to all the steam power at present used in the world, and a practical appropriation of but a marginal fraction of this power will distribute its motor power over immense areas and to remote distances.

The project, so far as satisfactorily carried out, includes the digging of a canal 1,500 feet long, at right angles to the river, at something more than a mile above the falls. A vertical shaft 140 feet deep is being sunk, and from the lower level a tunnel, twenty-eight feet high, eighteen feet wide, and 6,700 feet long, has been carried at a slope of seven feet per thousand, to debouch at the foot of the bluffs below the falls. This tunnel is being lined with four courses of bricks, the work progressing at the rate of 100,000 bricks per day. Hydraulic problems have been dealt with by leading engineers, both home and foreign, and the electric part of the work has been laid out by the best of experts and practical men. Part of the power is to be used in factories built directly over shafts, and also on land owned by the company, which has perpetual right to use this power over five miles of river frontage. Railways will connect with the system of factories, the power of one being furnished by an electric locomotive. Thirty acres of land have been reclaimed from the river, and a project formed for deepening the streams longside of the company's wharves. The right of making a second tunnel under the falls has been secured by the franchises of property owners.

All these phases of a stupendous enterprise simply antedate the founding of a manufacturing city or center, of which some of the streets are already laid out. On the Canadian side an exclusive right to use Victoria Park has been secured for 100 years by which a branch of the river going around Cedar Island can carry sufficient water to utilize 250,000 horse power, while the tunnel from the bottom of the shaft to the base of the falls will not exceed 800 feet in length. The plans, so far as carried out, have operated at a surprisingly low cost, while the energy and foresight of the directors have insured a steady and continuous progress, without relapses or failures in the original designs. The completion of this enterprise will be one of the wonders of modern engineering skill, as the Niagara Falls are among the wonders of nature.

CLEAN THE ALLEYS.

It is safe to assume that the cholera visitation which has made its appearance among the emigrants on board ocean steamers, will not reach the West this fall. There may possibly be a few isolated cases scattered over a wide territory, among some of those who were exposed on board the ships and have carried the germs on their persons. Cold weather will soon be with us, and statistics prove that the disease does not spread so readily then as in the hot season. Next spring, however, unless the scourge is stamped out effectually, we may look for a return of the plague. The alleys are the disease-breeding spots. Every refuse matter from the house is thrown into the alley and there allowed to ferment and fester. Many of these alleys to-day, regardless of a paid scavenger service, are a blot on the fair fame of our city. Slops and kitchen garbage in some cases are removed, but an accumulation of other filth is left to molder and rot for months together. The scavenger service when cold weather sets in is gradually curtailed, then discontinued until the next warm weather arrives. The customary amount of refuse matter may be expected to accumulate the coming winter, and if the scourge appears in the spring the alleys will prove a fruitful nursery for its propagation. It is hoped the authorities will look well to this sanitary need. Every means should be employed to clean and disinfect all the alleys in town. If thoroughly cleaned this fall the disagreeable odor will be much less than in warm season and evaporation less injurious. It might prove a profitable investment for property owners in each block to assess themselves for a sum sufficient to do the work, and in most cases cinders and ashes enough will be found to make a good roadway if properly spread in the alley.—The Vindicator.

GIVE US GOOD ROADS.

E. P. Powell, in The New England Magazine, has added his plea to the cry of those who are demanding good roads in all parts of our country. He says that American farmers have at present two great tasks before them—one to get rid of Asiatic invaders in the shape of weeds and insects, the other to get good roads. He is inclined to agree with the general verdict of foreigners that our railroad management is the best in the world, while our earth roads are the worst. "Our shame is that we are driving our horses in the Eighteenth century, while our steam engines run in the Nineteenth."

The present system of road management and of road working or running was never intended by the fathers to be anything more than a makeshift, he says. Farmers are losing heavily through their stubborn and mistaken stinginess in adhering to the wretched old system of road maintenance that was in vogue when men carried their grists to mill in a bag on horseback. In actual dollars and cents improved roads will add greatly to their productive capital. Their annual actual loss under the present system amounts to far more than the taxes for good roads would be. Upon a clay road a load for two horses is 1,400 pounds; upon a macadamized road it is 2,180 pounds.

The first step toward a good road of any kind is drainage, for that produces a solid bottom. To secure this the best engineers dig three ditches four feet deep along the highway—one under each side and another under the center. These are connected by cross sections, all are stoned or tiled, and the water is carried into sewers or streams. Even the common dirt road, that bugbear and eyesore, may be vastly improved by this simple ditching. Farmers themselves know how to construct the ditches. Without these ditches underneath a highway the more gravel there is put into a mudhole the deeper the mud will be. The next step in common road improvement is to make the gravel covered driveway wide enough for at least two teams abreast, so there will be less wearing into ruts.

The best road of all, however, and the one which should be the ultimate aim everywhere, is either the telford or the macadam road. The macadam well laid will meet our needs.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The uncertainty in the matter of devises of property by will which of late years has been brought about by sharp practices in the courts of law is one of the worst features of the administration of so-called justice in this country. A case in point was the Jerome will case which reached a settlement in this city this week. The result of this case was most incredible. One of the contestants who two years ago was convicted of forging the will, under which he was to receive $30,000, was by the terms of settlement released from criminal proceedings and rewarded with a cash payment of $50,000. Incidentally, several deserving charities which were mentioned in the will were left out in the "settlement." New York similarly lost some years ago the magnificent public library which Samuel J. Tilden intended to bequeath to that city, though one of Mr. Tilden's heirs has since set aside $80,000 a year for that purpose. As yet, however, New York has no public library. Intending public benefactors should see to it that their intentions are carried out before the silence of the grave shall have ensued to give courts and juries the bestowal of their charities. The example of Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Childs and others in this regard is worth emulating.

The coal combine has encountered an unexpected difficulty and one which may result in serious disaster. Enemies of the combine claim that under the laws of Illinois and several other states it can not enforce its contracts nor collect bills. In Michigan, Kansas and Nebraska there are strong anti-trust laws on the statute books. In Kansas and Michigan not only are bills due to a trust void but money paid to an illegal combination can be recovered. The inhabitants of those states are up in arms against the coal combine and are determined to fight it to the bitter end. In Chicago the feeling is very bitter against the combine. An agitation has been set on foot which is likely to result in testing the rights of the company in the courts. In fact a case is now pending in which the validity of the trust will be brought into question. A South side coal dealer has refused to pay for coal delivered to him by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal company, and the company has sued him in the United States court for something like $10,000. The dealer is a man of means and determination and will give the company a hard fight.

The track elevation ordinance introduced into the council a second time by Ald. O'Neill deserves at least a respectful hearing. This measure was first referred to the Committee on Railroads, but was never reported on by them. It now goes to the Committee on Streets and Alleys South. The ordinance recites that it is the duty of railway companies to restore streets and highways to their former state or to such a state as shall not impair their usefulness, and declares that elevation of the tracks is the only practicable solution of this problem. The ordinance divides the city into three districts, the first and second of which comprise thickly settled portions. In these districts track elevation is authorized and the companies are allowed to reach the surface at gradients through the third district. Plans must be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. Previous articles in THE JOURNAL have shown that track elevation is not only practicable but would be extremely profitable to the railroad companies. The reference of the ordinance to the Committee on Streets and Alleys South is thought to be the best move the advocates of the measure could have taken.

The change in the lake front made by the construction of the great World's Fair pier simply emphasizes the necessity for a viaduct over the Illinois Central tracks at the foot of Van Buren street. This place at the present time is little less than a death trap to the thousands of pedestrians who cross daily to the steamboat landing. What the condition of the crossing will be when the lake transportation to the Fair is at its height can be better imagined than described. What is needed at once is a suitable viaduct for the accommodation of the public. This structure should be built with a view to permanency as well as to utility during the Fair season. The city should take the matter in hand, and the railroad company should be compelled to bear their fair share of the expense. The condition of the lake front is at best shameful and should be improved at least to the extent of providing for the safety of the thousands of World's Fair visitors who will be desirous of taking a ride on the lake.

The London dispatches announce several failures among building societies. The most prominent among them is the Birkbeck bank, an institution of long standing and apparent financial soundness. The Commercial Deposit Permanent Building Society of London is one of the latest instances of disaster. The directors of this association state that their suspension was due to the increasing number of applications for withdrawal, which became so great as to compel the dissolution of the society. The total liabilities are placed at £87,000, and it is thought the shareholders will receive about 80 per cent of their deposits. The most discouraging feature of the failures is that the conditions are such as to compel the winding up of these societies at a loss. The question may well be asked, are not some of our own building associations in a similarly precarious condition? In England there is a sharp demand for money, especially among small investors, on account of the exceptionally hard times. This demand has led to a run on these co-operative banks to such an extent that they have been forced to suspend. The question is what would be the result of a similar run on the building societies of this country in their present condition?

AGENTS' BUDGET.

The irregular lot at the intersection of Cottage Grove and Indiana avenues and Twenty second street, the principal part of which is at present occupied by Baum's Pavilion, has been leased by Mrs. Johanna Anderson and daughter to a syndicate headed by J. E. Moore for ninety-nine years at an annual rental of $13,000. The lot has a frontage of 40 feet facing Twenty second street, 325 feet on Cottage Grove avenue and 285 feet on Indiana avenue. Of this plat the leasehold of Bernard Baum represents block 10, which is the frontage of 223 feet on Cottage Grove avenue and 198 feet on Indiana avenue. The rear is taken up by frame cottages, the tenants of which have been notified to vacate the premises by Oct 10. Mr. Baum held his lease under the now ridiculously low rate of $2,400 per annum, his leasehold expiring May 1, 1894. For the remaining nineteen months of his lease he was paid the amount of $15,000. A six-story apartment building will be erected on the premises.

Another new street railway enterprise has been inaugurated in Jefferson, known as the Jefferson Street Railway company. The capital stock is $500,000, and the incorporators are George H. Baker, J. R. Bickerdike, Frederick E. Eldred and others, backed by the entire membership of the Twenty-seventh ward Improvement Association. It is proposed to run a railway, probably by electricity, from Western avenue to Jefferson, on Elsdon avenue, with a loop in Jefferson, and a return line on Lawrence avenue back to Elsdon avenue. The road is to be purely for local benefit. It is thought a franchise will readily be granted, as no competition is to be had with present lines.

The northwest corner of Twenty-fourth street and Indiana avenue is to be improved with a six-story flat building to be known as the Ricardi. The structure will cost $275,000.

It is said that S. B. Cobb will improve the building bearing his name, located on Dearborn between Madison and Washington streets, by the addition of six stories to the present structure, work commencing May 1 next. The structure, as it stands, is of little value as regards office rents. Elevators are to be put in and the interior generally modernized.

The purchase of the Lake street line has been practically effected. J. McGregor Adams will be the president of the concern. Ex-Mayor Roche will be one of the directors. About half of the stock has been placed in New York. Lobdell, Farwell and Co. will not handle the securities in Chicago, as this firm is interested in the Metropolitan, The contract for the rails for the Lake street "L" road west has been let. The bid of the Illinois Steel company for ninety-pound steel rails has been accepted. Mr. Alberger has also secured plans for engines and cars. The engines will weigh twenty-eight tons each and will average in cost $5,000 each. The cars will cost $2,750 each. It is hoped that trains will be running on the road Jan. 1, 1893.

Power will be furnished for the motors for the new cross-town electric lines. It is intended that not only present needs but future wants shall be looked to in the construction of the building and equipment of the plant.

The Harvey Land Association reports that two new school buildings are under construction at Harvey. These schools are in addition to three public and three private schools, besides an industrial academy.

Mrs. Kunert has sold to Oscar Daube 160 acres in the northwest quarter of section 7, 36, 8, for $24,100, being at the rate of $150 an acre. The land lies about a mile west of Tolleston station and is skirted by the Michigan Central Railroad. The purchaser, Mr. Daube, is P. D Armour's valet and his extensive operations around Tolleston a year or more ago when the question of the location of the "Big Three" at that point was being discussed are still fresh in the minds of real estate men. In the present transaction he claims to have acted for other parties, but refuses to state the purpose for which the land is to be used.

THEOSOPHY AND CHOLERA.

"Epidemics are of three kinds, mental, moral and physical," said John M. Pryse, at a meeting of the Aryan Theological society in New York, Sunday evening. "The origin of all can be traced to the evil thoughts of men, and the present plague of cholera has its origin far deeper than sanitarians suppose In the astral—which somewhat corresponds to what modern science calls luminiferous ether—thought takes form and imbues the ether with its character. Charged with the thoughts of men for ages, the ether acts as a powerful hypnotizing veil. Directly and indirectly the ether constantly affects humanity.

Mr. Pryse warmed to his subject and before he got through he waxed very eloquent. In conclusion he said:

A cycle of 5,000 years will close within a few years, and before the end of the century there will be terrible mental, psychical and physical calamities. The causes stored in the ether will work themselves out into effects before the dawning of the new cycle. There will be wars and cataclysms and disturbances of the earth in many places. Purify your thoughts. Thought is everything. It is the creator and the destroyer.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

THE VALIDITY OF A WILL MADE IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY.

The Supreme Court of New York, in the case of Vagel v Lehritter, has decided that a will executed in a foreign country, but not according to the requirements of the statute of New York, is ineffectual to carry real estate in this country. The action was brought for the partition of certain real estate, known as Nos. 307 and 309 West Thirty-eighth street, in the city of New York, which was owned by Maria Anna Lehritter at the time of her death, on the 25th of January, 1890. The plaintiff alleges that, as to such real estate, the said Maria Anna Lehritter died intestate, and she claims title to an undivided one-third interest therein as grantee of certain next of kin and heirs at law of the said deceased. The defendant Charles Lehritter, denies the allegation of intestacy, and claims the entire premises under certain writings executed by the said Maria Anna Lehritter, at Wuerzburg, in Bavaria, on the 13th day of October, 1882, which, it is contended, constitute a valid last will and testament. The sufficiency of such writings, as a will of real property situated within this State is the question submitted for decision.

The writings referred to were doubtless intended by Mrs. Lehritter to constitute her last will and testament; but were not properly subscribed by the witnesses. The point raised by the contestants of the will was that the witnesses did not attest the signature of Mrs. Lehritter but the statement of the notary that her signature had been affixed to an instrument said to be her will. On this technical omission the conclusion was arrived at that Mrs. Lehritter died intestate. The law of New York requires that there must be a subscription at the end of the will, made in the presence of two attesting witnesses, or acknowledged by him to each of the witnesses to have been so made; a declaration by him at the time of the subscription or the acknowledgment that the instrument subscribed by him is his last will and testament; and the witnesses must sign as such at the end of the will at his request. There is no valid execution of a will unless the witnesses see the signature of the testator. His declaration that the instrument which he requests them to attest is his last will is not sufficient if his signature thereto is not exhibited: Matter of Mackay, 110 N. Y. 611.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR OPENING STREETS MUST BE EQUALIZED.

In the case of Kline v City of Cincinnati, Court of Common Pleas, Hamilton County, Ohio, the court held that certain assessments on property not directly benefitted by the opening of a street were invalid, owing to the fact that they were made equally per front foot with those portions abutting directly on the street thus improved. The court said: The right of a municipal corporation to assess private property to pay for a local public improvement is not founded on necessity, but on a principle of justice, by which the public may take from an individual whose lands, owing to their proximity to it, are specially benefited by the improvement, such a portion of the costs thereof as is equivalent, but not in excess of the special benefits conferred by the improvement; and this principle of justice, in itself, impliedly furnishes the measure of, and limits the extent of the right.

MORTGAGE ATTESTED BY WITNESSES DECLARED VALID.

The Supreme Court of Georgia held in the case of Benton v Upson et al., that a mortgage attested by two witnesses was good between the parties to it, though neither of the witnesses was an official authorized by law to attest mortgages; that as between these parties it was immaterial whether the mortgage had been properly probated and recorded or not, and that an execution issued upon the foreclosure of such mortgage would not be rejected at the instance of a claimant who did not show that he had some right or lien which would be injuriously affected by a failure to comply with the requirements of the law as to attestation, probate or record of the mortgage.

FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE GOOD AS TO INNOCENT PURCHASER.

The Supreme Court of Illinois held in Zick et al v Guebert, that although a conveyance of land is made to defraud the grantor's creditors, an innocent purchaser for a sufficient consideration without notice of the fraud will be protected; that the fact that the land sold may be worth some more than that given will not render the transaction fraudulent as to the purchaser; that when the purchaser of an interest in land has no notice at the time the sale is consummated that his grantor was insolvent, or that he or she had any design of transferring his or her property to avoid the payment of creditors, and the trade is an ordinary transaction where one is pressed for money and anxious to sell; and the other buys because he regards the property as cheap and a good bargain, the conveyance will be sustained, and that notice to the purchaser shortly after his purchase of facts showing the insolvency of his grantor will not affect his rights acquired without notice.

LIMITATION OF TIME IN COMMENCING SUIT ON FIRE INSURANCE POLICY.

The Supreme Court of Utah in Hong Sing v Royal Insurance Company has decided that where a fire policy provides that no action shall be maintained thereon until after an arbitration has been had and an award made, nor unless the action shall be commenced within twelve months from the date of the fire, but does not limit the time within which the arbitration must be had, the twelve months limitation does not begin to run until an award has been made. The court said: "Ordinarily, where a party has a given time in which to bring an action, he has the whole of that time in which to bring it, and we hold that where a policy of fire insurance provides that no suit shall be brought on the policy unless begun within a specified time after the fire, and which policy provides that no suit shall be brought until after an arbitration shall be had or other act done which extends, or may extend indefinitely the time in which the suit may be brought, the true intent of the parties is that the twelve months' limitation does not begin to run until the cause of action accrues, unless it is delayed through the fault of the insured. These views are supported by the overwhelming weight of authority."

CONTRACT BY TELEPHONE VALID, THOUGH MADE THROUGH AN OPERATOR.

Where a person called at a public telephone station and asked the operator to request parties to step to the telephone in their place of business in another town, and one of the latter parties answered the call, but, owing to the condition of the atmosphere, they were unable to communicate directly with each other—when the telephone operator at an intermediate station proposed to and did transmit the first party's message to the others, offering to sell them certain commodity, and he also repeated to the first party their answer, accepting the proposition:—in an action for a breach of the contract it was held that the conversation was admissible in evidence, and that it was competent for the first party to state the contents of the other's answer to his message, as repeated by the operator at the intermediate point at the time it came over the wire. Oskamp v. Gadsden, Supreme Court of Nebraska, 52 N. W. Rep. 718.

INSURANCE OF WIFE'S PROPERTY IN HUSBAND'S NAME IS VOID.

Diffenbaugh v. Union Fire Insurance Co. Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. This was an action to recover upon a policy of fire insurance. The policy of insurance on which this suit was brought was made to Henry Diffenbaugh, but insured a building and its contents which belonged to his wife. There was no written application for the insurance. The policy contained the following clause: "The entire policy shall be void if the insured has concealed or misrepresented, in writing or otherwise, any material fact or circumstance concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or if the interest of the insured in the property be not truly stated therein; or in the case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss * * * or if the interest of the insured be other than unconditional and sole ownership."

The court held that a recovery could not be had on the policy because Diffenbaugh did not represent to the company that the property was his wife's. In commenting on the case the court said:

This clause is not without force. Its meaning is apparent. Its object is to enable the insurance company to know whom it is insuring. It might be entirely willing to insure the property of A, and yet refuse to insure the property of B upon any terms. As there was no pretense that when Henry Diffenbaugh insured this property in his own name he informed the company that the property belonged to his wife, we are of opinion the latter can not recover, and that she was properly nonsuited.

It is true that equity will reform a written contract in a case of fraud, accident or mistake. There was no evidence, however, before the court by which the contract could have been reformed, nor was there any offer made to reform it.

Architect Frederick Foehringer has plans in preparation and will be ready to receive bids in a few days for the erection of a four-story flat building, 25x70, on Dearborn, near Chicago avenue. It will be constructed of Kasota stone and will cost $16,000.

Architects Shepley, Rutan & Coolidge have prepared plans for the Chicago Edison Company's new building to be erected on the west side of the river, north of Harrison street and east of Charles street. It will be sixty feet high, being fifty in the clear, and will cover a ground space of 210x200. The walls will be constructed of pressed brick and the interior will be cut into one boiler room and two motor rooms, and will be equipped to supply 50,000 horse-power. Construction will be commenced at once; cost, $226,000. The same architects are preparing plans for a library building to be erected in connection with the McCormick Theological Seminary, at a cost of $80,000.

The Marvel of the Musical World.
$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner,

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

NO CHANGE IN MONEY MARKET—GENERAL TRADE FEATURES SATISFACTORY—LOCAL RAILWAY EXTENSION—WEST SIDE STOCK IN GOOD DEMAND—INDUSTRIALS IN DISFAVOR.

There is no particular change to be noticed in the money market, although if anything, the financial condition of the country shows signs of improvement. A call from the Comptroller is expected at any time and it is said that this has had some effect on the National banks. They are holding money in order to make a satisfactory report. These reports are the basis of the annual report which is submitted to Congress. Country deposits are being drawn down rapidly, one bank having lost $2,500,000 in three weeks. Money is in good demand and rates well maintained, but the supply appears to be ample for all requirements. The condition of the market is better than it was a week ago, when there was ground for expecting some stringency. The discount rate in London has gone back to ⅔ of 1 percent.

The general trade situation through the country is excellent. In all departments of merchandise market the demand is steady with a moderate volume of business. Dry goods in the form of fall fabrics are in steady demand on a firm market. The lumber market is quiet with liberal offering. The trade is only buying as supplies are needed, although the aggregate of sales is respectable. The hard coal market is not materially changed. The demand is moderate but sufficiently large to absorb the supply allotted, and there is little if any accumulation. In grain the market is steady with prices well maintained. The unexpected failure of Henry Poor & Son, dealers in sole leather was the feature of the leather market. This house is one of the oldest in the Eastern trade and the direct cause of the failure is said to be the burning of its tannery some time ago.

Considering the fact that railway construction is not being pushed forward, the large consumption of steel and iron is a favorable sign as indicating the growth which the country has experienced. There is a fair demand with no depression in prices. The copper market is weak, as a natural effect of the waiting condition between producers and consumers.

There is little new in railroad circles nor in the movement in railroad securities. Almost every Chicago road has begun preparations for the World's Fair traffic. by enlarging its terminals. The first step is to divorce freight and passenger traffic as much as possible. This is done by utilizing the best line to a constantly increasing extent for through freight, much of it now not coming into the local yards at all. Even this does not give enough track age for the present number of trains run to the terminal. Where freight yards cannot be extended, they must be abandoned for new ones, before the opening of the World's Fair, as almost all the present trackage will be needed for passenger trains. The Rock Island and St. Paul roads have already begun the construction of new freight yards away from their terminals, an example which will be generally followed. The aggregate expense of moving the freight yards of roads terminating at Chicago will be fully $10.000,000. In some cases this additional expense would not be incurred for ten years, were it not for the World's Fair traffic. For the first time in Chicago's history railroads will be building ahead of present requirements.

†Not included in totals.

The total shows an increase of nearly $80 millions over last week, yet the decrease as compared with last year is greater this week than last. This is due to the heavier decrease in New York clearings—a falling-off of 19 8 percent this week, as compared with 11.8 percent last week. The adverse influence of New York is shown by the increase of 5.7 percent in the totals excluding New York this week, while the same cities returned a decrease of 11.2 per cent last week. In spite of this fact the grand total this week returns a loss of 10.8 percent. The influence of the great bulk of New York clearings is thus strikingly illustrated. A heavy loss at New York means a loss throughout the entire country. The misfortune of the greatest financial centre in the country is a misfortune to the entire nation as well.

Chicago as usual is at the front with an increase of 17.7 percent over last year and a lead over Boston of more than $11,500,000 for the week. Wholesale trade is now thought to be at its height in Chicago. Various influences have combined to swell the volume of trade here, but the abundant crops have been the principal stimulant. Other causes have tended to keep trade inland to a much greater extent than usual But the fact is that Chicago is rapidly taking its proper place as the great jobbing centre of the continent. We already have the two largest dry goods houses in the country. The furniture trade naturally finds its centre in Chicago. Great manufacturing interests are tending here by the law of attraction to a common centre. Buyers are thus naturally attracted, knowing that they can find variety and bargains here impossible in a smaller city. As the city grows these advantages augment themselves. The greater the manufacturing centre the more desirable it is as a location for new manufactures. The difficulty in securing help and materials and transportation in a small town is much decreased in a large city. Every kind and quality of employe is to be had on short notice in the city. Transportation to and from every part of the globe is obtainable at our very doors. Materials and machinery are cheap and abundant and can be obtained at a moment's notice. Buyers, too, are plentiful—the most important item of all. In fact the ideal spot for the manufacturer is the great natural centre. This it is that will always continue to attract to Chicago a great number of industries and will make the city more and more a nucleus of trade. In this respect competent judges are of the opinion that Chicago's growth has only fairly begun.

The table shows continued prosperity for the interior cities. Among the leading cities only New York and Boston show decreases, while Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh show handsome increases. Following along this line we find that the cities which have shared in the increase are the western rather than the northwestern cities. We have formerly heard so much about the wonderful growth of our neighbors in the northwest that we can hardly reconcile the figures of the table of late in the returns from Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul. This week is no exception to the rule, yet it shows a slight loss for Minneapolis and a decrease of 26.2 per cent for Duluth. St. Paul shows an increase but on the whole the returns from the northwest are disappointing, as indeed they have been for some time past.

The returns from the Canadian group, with the exception of Montreal, are not encouraging. Montreal has profited by the same influx of trade to interior points that has been noticed in the United States. It appears that Halifax has correspondingly suffered, as have the other seaport cities of the Dominion. The conditions in Canada as indicated by the table are essentially the same as those in the United States.

The analysis by groups of States for the same weeks is as follows:

	WEEK ENDING SEPT. 22, 1892.	WEEK ENDING SEPT. 24, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$107,129,174	$110,872,636	Dec 3.0
Middle "	797,004,398	963,315,848	" 17.2
Southern "	36,991,995	43,697,312	" 15.3
Western "	44,757,883	36,298,716	Inc 23.4
Northwestern "	139,280,428	120,015,799	" 15.8
Southwestern "	39,433,407	36,138,505	" 9.1
Far Western "	26,791,897	25,466,374	" 5.1
Totals,	$1,191,389,182	$1,335,805,196

The States return practically the same result as last week, with one exception. The New England, Middle and Southern groups show decreases and the remaining groups, increases. The exception is the Far Western, which this week shows an increase. The Far Western has been for so many months a laggard in the race that it is a notable occasion when it returns an increase as compared with last year. We have previously expressed the opinion that this section was gradually improving and the figures this week would seem to confirm that opinion.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The local stock market, although generally interesting, was unmarked by any remarkable changes in the scale of quotations. The movement in the railway stocks together with that in straw board divided the attention of the investors and operators. There has been really very little change in the quotations for West Side Street Railway stock during the week, and this is the more remarkable inasmuch as the market has seen all shades of manipulation. The market opened with the West Side stock in good demand and showed a tendency to an advance. The buying was principally done by the brokers who have been steadily taking stock throughout the advance, presumably in the interest of Philadelphia capitalists. In marked contrast to the Monday market where the demand was good and a two point advance was made came the market of Tuesday with a light demand and a sag in prices. West side stock went down squarely to 200 for the account. On Wednesday this was followed by a break to 197½, but later reacted and closed at 203 for a second account. The feature of the week, however, was unloading of stock on Thursday. A prominent broker, who is supposed to represent the Board of Trade contingent, began offering stock with a freedom that denoted almost unlimited selling orders. The sale of 3,900 shares of stock on the morning call alone did not result in any depression of prices, and if the sales were made in the interests of short holders they failed of their purpose. The range in prices was exceedingly narrow, being limited to fractions. The theory that the large offerings of stock were made by the insiders in an attempt to unload, does not seem to be warranted, as the recognized broker of what is termed the clique was a buyer instead of a seller and probably took more than half of the stock sold at both sessions of the Exchange. The strength that the market exhibited under the pressure to sell was considered somewhat phenomenal by brokers and indicates to some extent, the popularity of the street railway securities.

The market in North Side stock was exceedingly narrow, notwithstanding the rumors which seemed to be warranted regarding an increased dividend rate. It is claimed that the directors of the company will to-day increase the rate to 10 percent. The sharpest gains were in the trading in North Side stock. On Wednesday it declined in sympathy with the rest of the market from 250½ to 248 and in the afternoon reacted to 255½. On Thursday it sold as high as 259 for the account, but scarcely maintained its place at that figure. Of the Industrial stocks Straw Board is now attracting most attention. It is clear that the company is experiencing some of the difficulties attendant on the management and operation of a trust. The straw board market is undoubtedly becoming demoralized. There is a prospect that the combination of outside manufacturers will go to pieces and the agreement regarding the price of straw board will be ignored.

The production of the straw board mills in the country is far in advance of the demand, and it is claimed that the independent companies have been working to the disadvantage of the American Straw Board company. The American company is now demanding a reduction of the output of the independent mills. Another difficulty is met with in the attitude of two or three of the principal box makers of the east who declare that they will build a straw board mill of their own unless prices are kept down to what they consider a reasonable limit. The dissensions among the straw board people are reflected to some extent in the stock market, and quotations for straw board have been dull and heavy. On Tuesday the market closed at 77½, while on the opening Wednesday there was a rush to sell at 74½ and stock sold as low as 73. New York Biscuit is another of the industrial stocks which is conspicuous by its weakness. On Wednesday the settlement price established for account trading was fifty, the lowest settlement price so far reached. The Brewery stocks were dull, but fairly firm. There is little pressure of stock on the market and holders seem satisfied to wait the result of the beer war settlement. If the advance of $2.00 a barrel can be maintained without difficulty, the earnings of the brewery properties must be vastly increased. Calumet Dock and Streets' Stable Car stocks, the two weak sisters on the list, continue dull and in poor demand. The stock of the land company is going at about 70, while Street stock is selling at a fraction better than 31.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The real estate market of this week has been absolutely without features of more than ordinary interest. There have been no large transfers recorded and there are no reports of large sales in negotiation. The daily transcript of the records indicates that the general market is the same as that experienced during the entire year. The prospects for any great activity during the remainder of this season become less bright, if they really have ever been entertained by the more conservative dealers. It is altogether probable that the year's operations will appear dull and unimportant, as compared with the more active preceding year. The city, however has been steadily growing up to the activity of 1890 and 1891 and the danger of any sharp reaction after the World's Fair is lessened by just so much. The character of the business done this year has been fair, and sales such as have been made, were to people able to take care of their purchases As one dealer expressed it, a man with $10,000 to invest, either buys a $10,000 piece of property, or at the outside pays half cash and takes a $20,000 property. The same man two years ago, with the same amount of capital, would have felt strong enough to buy $60,000 or $70,000 worth of property, and would have trusted to good fortune to sell off at a profit before his second payment fell due. The transactions this year even though commonplace in themselves, are safer than those of two years ago, when the lack of actual cash was offset by the abundance of enthusiasm. From a strictly commission point of view there is no market like the active speculative one. The ideal dealer's market is one in which acres and lots are turned over two, three and four times in a single week. This is exactly the market which would have induced a crash at the close of the Fair. As it is the prospects are good for the market of 1893 and 1894 and it seems probable that there will be more activity in either of those seasons than during the present year.

An important acre sale is reported by Andrew Dunning. The property lies in Section 19, Town 40, Range 13 and is just inside the city limits. It comprises fifty two acres and the price paid was $41,600. The seller was Mr. Dunphy and the purchaser C. A. Gaskell. The tract has an elevation of sixty feet above the lake and will be subdivided and put on the market at once. This property has a frontage on Irving Park Boulevard, and from the fact that it is inside the city limits and so near to the centre it will command a ready sale.

SOME RECENT SALES OF WEST SIDE PROPERTY.

The sale of 49 by 118 feet on West Twelfth street, fifty feet west of Oakley avenue, for $25,000 establishes a front foot valuation of $500. The purchasers are the Meyer Brothers, dry goods merchants on Ogden avenue, and they will probably erect a fine business block on the lot for their own use. The corner of Oakley and Ogden avenues and Twelfth street has been improved in first-class style within the past year. At the southwest corner of Ogden and Twelfth a four-story store and flat building is nearing completion that cost $50,000. At the northwest corner a stone-front is being erected that will cost as much, and two other four-story buildings have been erected in the same block within six months. One reason for this activity is the prospect of rapid transit for this and territory farther west. The West Side Rapid Transit company has secured a majority of frontage from the corner of Ogden avenue and Twelfth street south and west to the city limits and the extension of the Ogden avenue street car line to Crawford avenue will make a larger amount of territory tributary to this corner.

A NEW MANUFACTURING TOWN TO BE ESTABLISHED.

Another new manufacturing town is to be established near Aurora. A Chicago syndicate has purchased 900 acres of land at the junction of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railways, paying $100,000 for it. The plans of the syndicate are to establish a manufacturing village, including Eola, the first station west of Aurora. The syndicate will erect an electric power plant, and is negotiating with several important manufacturing concerns.

The block at the northwest corner of Stony Island avenue and Seventy-third street was bought a year ago by a syndicate which began to lease hotel sites about six months ago. Within that time five different hotel enterprises have been located on this block. They are the Veterans' Hotel Company, which has 125 feet on Stony Island by 306 feet on Seventy-third; the Wisconsin-Michigan Company, 150 feet; the Northwestern Hotel Company, 150 feet; the Sarah A. Moore Hotel Company, fifty feet, and the school teachers' hotel, fifty feet. This hotel company, which is to erect a World's Fair hotel for the accommodation of school teachers during the Fair, has selected C. R. Long, editor of the School Board Journal, as manager. The company is composed of educators in various parts of the country and they have leased, through Frank S. Betz, fifty feet on Seventy-third street, 260 feet west of Stony Island avenue, on which they will erect a three-story building containing about two hundred rooms.

Dr. G. M. Chamberlin's apartment building on Thirty-first street, east of Indiana avenue, is to be converted into a hotel during the Fair, and negotiations are now under way for a lease for this purpose. The structure is seven stories high and has ground dimensions of 65 by 100 feet. It will contain about one hundred and fifty rooms, besides offices, parlors, etc. The building is nearing completion now. The Mecca Hotel is to be opened to the public on Oct. 1. This was one of the first apartment houses to be changed into hotels and is now the first to open for business. It is not strictly a World's Fair hotel, however, as the lease runs for ten years. The Mecca company at first intended to conduct the house on the European plan, but has since added a large dining room to the hotel and will run it on the American plan.

LITIGATION OVER A LUNATIC'S ESTATE.

The Chicago Title and Trust company have filed a petition in the Probate court as conservator for Wm. B. Rogers to recover his property, which is said to have been taken from him by fraud. May 6 last Rogers executed a warranty deed to his nephew, Buell S. Rogers, of premises 415 W. Madison and W. Monroe streets and a few days later gave him a bill of sale of the furniture. The real estate is valued at $38,000 and the personal effects at $1,000. It is claimed that the old man was insane when he conveyed the property. Judge Kohlsaat issued a citation against Buell S. and Charles Rogers to have them show cause next Monday why they should not turn over the property.

OVER 1700 ACRES SOLD.

A SYNDICATE IN WHICH GOVERNOR ROSWELL P. FLOWER IS SAID TO BE INTERESTED PURCHASES COOK COUNTY LANDS.

Invitations have been issued to members of the press to attend an excursion to the site of a new land enterprise which it is claimed is about to be inaugurated on a scale surpassing in magnitude anything recently projected in Chicago. Particulars are withheld at present but will be given out for publication later. It is thought, however, that the entire scheme is merely a clever ruse for advertising purposes, on about the same plan as the recent Tolleston boom, the outcome of which was summed up yesterday in the Herald as follows:

"Tolleston is as dead as a door nail," Albert H. Veeder, attorney for the "big" packers, said yesterday, when he was asked about alleged new plans of the "big three" for the Indiana property. "This talk about a new belt line with Tolleston as southern terminal, or about a branch of the Chicago and Western Michigan, is all rot. Some people who have an interest in booming that locality for reasons of their own build a new railroad there every day—on paper. No sir Tolleston is dead. There are not even any more ducks. They have been frightened away by the speculators."

The attempt is now being made to divert this scheme to the so-called East Chicago scheme of Torrence, Aldis & Northcote. So much has been said about these wonderful "schemes" which never amount to anything that the public has become heartily tired.

REACTION IN THE MARKET.

CHEAP BUILDINGS IN THE WORLD'S FAIR DISTRICT DRIVE BUYERS TO THE NORTH SHORE.

Our criticism last week of the present plan of building up the district south of the World's Fair grounds with cheap frame structures was freely commented on and copied by numerous other papers. Incidentally some additional facts were brought out which are still more unfavorable to the district criticised. One feature quite as important as any is the fact that a portion of the property is what is known as the wet or saloon district, that is, it is outside the prohibition district of Hyde Park. This fact will not add to the value of the property. The entire district between Parkside and Jackson Park and Jeffrey avenue and Oakwoods cemetery is saloon-property. The result will be that numerous frame structures for saloon purposes will be erected in this district to the detriment not only of the saloon property itself but also to the prohibition property adjoining. It goes without saying that no one will want to erect a fine dwelling on property which at any time is likely to be surrounded by story-and-a-half frame saloons, and the consequences inevitably will be that the best residence districts will be found elsewhere after a few years. Experience proves that the character of a subdivision is determined very largely by the class of residences first erected. If cheap frame houses are to be allowed in the district south of Sixty-seventh street it will be almost impossible ever afterward to change the general character of the improvements. No builder can afford to erect an expensive brick structure in such a district. Unfortunately, this seems to be the present tendency in the section immediately south of Jackson Park.

But another serious objection to this property has been raised and deserves to be noted. It is the fact that the ground is almost invariably low and swampy. The owner of an acre tract south of Jackson Park recently gave as an excuse for contesting the assessment placed upon his property the fact that it was so low as to be practically useless. That this is the case with a large portion of the property immediately south of the park can not be doubted. During extreme wet weather water to the depth of several inches stands over a large portion of it, and at no time of year is it possible to excavate for cellars. Dry basements can be obtained only by building on top of the ground. In fact, in many places the ground is said to be but little better than a swamp.

The result of these discouraging features is seen in the attention of late being turned to the north shore suburbs. While real estate has been unprecedentedly dull in other sections of the city, homeseekers have been turning their attention to the north lake shore and making steady purchases of its beautiful property for residence purposes. Beginning at Evanston the ground rises high above the lake, and affords an excellent view, besides being most healthful and beautiful. Winnetka is a good illustration of property in this part of the suburbs. Here the bluffs rise to a height of eighty feet above the lake. The village of Winnetka is an old, established town, having all the advantages of village organization, churches, schools, etc. A model subdivision is that of Winnetka Park Bluffs by W. H. Cairnduff & Co This property lies between the Northwestern railroad and the lake and is as its name implies, a series of beautiful wooded bluffs rising high above the lake and commanding a view for miles around. Messrs. Cairnduff & Co. have already sold over $100,000 worth of lots in this subdivision, and have thirteen houses costing from $3,500 to $7,000, wholly or partially completed. They have let the largest contract for cement sidewalks ever let north of the business portion of the city. Without any flourish of trumpets or unusual claims for this property, they have been quietly selling residence lots to some of Chicago's representative business men. A reasonable building restriction has been established, which will ensure creditable improvements for the entire subdivision. The transportation facilities are the best and will be increased soon by the new belt-railroad which will intersect the Northwestern at Winnetka. As an indication of the real worth of this property, as of the north shore in general, it is said that a prominent capitalist, traveling in his private car, recently visited Winnetka and purchased a tract fronting on the lake as the site for a palatial residence.

NATIONAL REAL ESTATE CONGRESS.

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR THE COMING ASSEMBLY AT BUFFALO—HUNDREDS OF DELEGATES WILL ATTEND FROM CHICAGO.

The National Real Estate Association will hold its congress for the year 1892 at Buffalo, N. Y., on October 4, 5, 6 and 7. Arrangements have been made for the patrons of the excursion to spend a day at Niagara Falls and examine the great tunnel now about completed, which is described as one of the greatest engineering triumphs of the age. Special vestibule trains will leave Chicago on the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad on Monday, October 3 at 1 p. m. and arrive in Buffalo at 8 a. m., October 4. Excursion tickets will be on sale for this excursion at rate of $7.30 for the round trip and will be accepted for return passage on regular trains to and including October 25, 1892. This is said to be the lowest rate for an excursion of this kind ever secured on any railroad. Credit in this particular is due especially to Mr. Malcom McNeill and the Committee on Transportation of the Real Estate Board, of which he is chairman, for their efficient work in this direction. It is said that a sufficient number of vestibule sleeping cars have been engaged for this excursion to accommodate all excursionists, but persons intending to go should secure their sleeping-car berths from Mr. McNeill in advance. As stated last week, the Directory of the World's Fair will establish temporary headquarters at Buffalo, and will have on exhibition many articles that will be of particular interest.

In stating the objects of the National Real Estate Association the officers say that everywhere organization is the watchword and invariably has resulted in greatly promoting the welfare of every civic, business and social interest whose adherents have resorted to this as a means for furthering their common good. In view of these facts, is it not remarkable, to say the least, that the real estate dealers of the country have until recently failed to avail themselves of the great benefits to be derived from a general organization? Not only have the real estate fraternity of the country been behind the times in the matter of national organization, but they have also had fewer and less strong local associations than men of equal intelligence and business ability in almost every other calling. No other class can exercise so powerful and wholesome an influence in promoting the permanent welfare of any community as can the real estate dealers and owners, if they will only unite their forces through organizations. There is no room for doubt that a national organization of real estate men will not only prove of inealculable benefit to the agents themselves, but will also become a great power in developing the unmeasured resources and promoting the prosperity of our common country.

The real estate interest is fundamental to all others, and in fact is the basis of all permanent wealth. Ownership of no other class of property contributes so largely to good citizenship and the welfare of the state as does that of real property. It follows, therefore, that a wisely managed organization of the country's reputable and reliable real estate dealers, whose purpose is to improve the conditions environing such ownership, can not fail to prove itself a truly beneficent and patriotic institution. By reason of the very vastness of the interests which the real estate brokers of this country represent, the more are they able, and the more are they under obligation, to exert a controlling influence in making legislation—municipal, state and federal—such as to inure to the enduring advantage of the large and growing clientage which they have the honor to represent. As individuals, the real estate men of the land can do but little in this great and important work. Organized, they will be absolutely invincible in improving, simplifying and making more uniform the laws affecting the ownership and transference of real estate. Through organization, also, they may do much to raise the standard of business ethics among real estate men, to discountenance all dishonest and disreputable methods, and thereby elevate, dignify and make more worthy of public confidence the truly honorable profession to which they belong. All these results, so greatly to be desired, can best be accomplished through the means of a National Association, supplemented by wide-awake, well-conducted Real Estate Boards and Exchanges in the different cities of the country. Through the National Association, general lines of policy as to matters of legislation and the better management of the real estate business may be outlined and recommended to the favorable consideration and action of the various local boards. They, in turn, can use the great influence at their command to successfully carry into effect in their different States the betterments suggested by the National Association. Thus will the national and local organization be closely affiliated, and the success of each be essential to and dependent upon the other.

In an interview President Benjamin M. Weil of the National Real Estate Association, recently made the following valuable observations as to what may be accomplished through this organization securing better and more uniform laws, which are well worth reproducing in this connection. "It is almost impossible," he said with much earnestness, "for any of us to over-estimate the great work that can be accomplished for the legitimate and honorable real estate agents of the country by our National Association through the various local boards and exchanges already in existence and to be organized before the next gathering. To begin with, one of the most important matters that will come before the Buffalo meeting will be that of asking from the Legislatures of the various States a uniform law, to be in force and effect throughout the United States, governing the execution and acknowledgement of transfers of realty. As the real estate agents of the country well know, every one engaged in the business has been greatly inconvenienced, if there have been no more serious results, as an effect of having about as many different laws upon the subject as there are different States. For instance in Wisconsin two witnesses are required before the title to property is perfect, while in Illinois none are required. In some of the other States the wife has to acknowledge independently of the husband or by a separate instrument. The same difficulty exists in regard to the law covering foreclosures. In some States a mortgage can be legally foreclosed in six months, while in others it requires from fifteen months to two years. It is also true that in some States the law requires notice of the foreclosure sale to be published for a different length of time than is required in others. I have no doubt whatever but all honorable attorneys will give the indorsement to any effort our Association may make to bring about these legal reforms which are so much needed.

"Then with reference to the settlement of estates disposed of by will: Attorneys can not give, with absolute certainty, any advice in the manner of settling estates that may be inherited by non-residents, while if a uniform law could be framed administrators, testators, legatees, attorneys, real estate dealers and all concerned could know just what to do, and how to proceed, no matter where they might happen to reside.

"Much trouble has come to the holders of real estate mortgages through their not being intelligently informed that the owner of the property on which they have security has become delinquent in the payment of his taxes, and oftentimes the property has been sold and tax deeds issued without his knowledge. The subject of a perfect deed often becomes a very perplexing question in the sale of real estate. It has been suggested that notice should be served on the holder of any incumbranee that the property will be sold for taxes, in the same manner as the serving of notices of any action begun against him in the courts. But this whole matter can be made a subject for interesting and instructive discussion at Buffalo, when no doubt a practical and legal plan can be agreed upon.

"I might also speak," continued President Weil, "of the many conflicting laws in force throughout the country controlling the transfer of real estate and trusteeship of reality. We will not ask for the passage of any law that will redound to the interests of real estate men to the detriment of any other person or class. We will simply ask for the passage of laws governing the varied real estate interests of the nation, in the uniformity of which all are equally interested."

In view of the reasons herein set forth, and the many others which will readily suggest themselves to the mind of every intelligent realty dealer, the National Real Estate Association earnestly solicits their active co-operation in furthering the worthy objects for which it has been organized. The first regular meeting of this organization was held at Nashville, Tenn., February 17 to 19, 1892, and was attended by fully six hundred delegates, representing nearly every section of the Union. A permanent organization was effected, and Buffalo was designated as the place for holding the next meeting, which will convene October 4, 1892 and continues in session three days. The enterprising citizens of Buffalo propose to expend from ten to fifteen thousand dollars in properly entertaining the convention, and no pains or money will be spared to make the October meeting a pre-eminent success from every point of view.

BUFFALO AND THE REAL ESTATE CONGRESS.

Three elements enter into every successful public enterprise: a good cause, good men and enough money. These exist and are at hand in the National Real Estate Association. An enterprising and wealthy real estate man of Milwaukee, Mr. B. M. Weil, is president, and a millionaire real estate man of Buffalo, Mr. W. B Cutter, is treasurer. The latter, who is a prominent business man of Buffalo and one of the promoters of the Niagara tunnel, accumulated much of his wealth in the real estate business. He is using every effort to make the forthcoming convention a grand success. Chicago is not far behind in the good work. Banker Dreyer, president of the Chicago Real Estate Board, Col. Henry S. Turner, Malcom McNeill and others are pushing all needed preparations to secure a large attendance from Chicago. Mr. Turner will respond to the address of welcome to be delivered by Governor Flower of New York.

It is expected that at least 1000 delegates and visitors will leave this city on the 3rd of October, as the Milwaukee and Decatur delegations will join the Chicago delegation here so as to arrive at the same time. Mr. O. W. Crawford, who made his mark as the only delegate from the Lone Star State at Nashville, will be on hand to enliven the association by his wit and eloquence. The meeting promises to be one of the most important and interesting conventions of business men ever held in the United States.

LOCAL REAL ESTATE EXCHANGES.

In view of the widespread interest in the subject of the formation of local associations, practical suggestions as to the necessities for the success thereof are in order, and it would seem desirable to make known my conclusions based upon experience gained as secretary of the Chicago Real Estate Exchange.

1st. An Exchange cannot truly represent the brokers and owners in its home city, and cannot wield the proper quality and extent of influence, unless it include a majority or more of the brokers and a number of persons in other business as associate members.

To possess these numbers the way should be open to desirable people by making the admission free, and the dues only sufficient to pay running expenses, and this policy should be adopted as a permanent feature.

Brokers of integrity and good standing who cannot afford to pay any more than moderate dues are not the less desirable for membership, and their being members will be a mutual benefit instead of a hindrance. Every good broker kept out by the seeming exclusiveness produced by large fees and dues is very much more of a standing reproach and menace to prosperity than are men of no business integrity within the fold.

2d. In order to make the Exchange a permanent success, and the members content and glad to pay their dues, and subscribe money in addition if necessary, a membership should confer positive and direct benefits.

In order to benefit its members, the Exchange should procure new business for them save them money and time, and provide such facilities for the prosecution of the business as no one can possess singly.

3rd. The benefits can be secured as follows:

New business can be provided by listing from owners and exclusive agents, property for sale, and from brokers and owners generally, wants to purchase, exchange or rent, and to lend or borrow money. These can be classified for ready reference at the Exchange and lists can be sent to members.

Time and money can be saved by providing a set of listing books, each double page of which, properly ruled to admit of detailed description, shall contain a sufficient number of lines for all the pieces of property in any one block of the city, counting both sides of street. On that page should be entered and described the property listed by owners and exclusive agents. Opposite each piece of property in the block can be entered owner's name and address. Another column can give valuation of insiders and owners, made by a Valuation Committee or members qualified to do so. Sales of property should be noted at once by changing name of owner and recording consideration, date, etc.

An index of streets, giving volume and page, would give ready reference. An additional index for classifying the listed property into acres, vacant lots, dwellings, flats and business property, etc., according to section of city and price, would be a very great convenience.

An index of renters' names, furnished by members and others, can be kept for the sake of ratings.

The Exchange should possess a more or less complete collection of plats, maps and atlases of subdivisions, cities, counties and states; also a library of geological reports of states and other books convenient for reference. Other features could be introduced when thought proper.

4th. The cost would not be beyond the reach of any, if all Exchanges in the National Association would combine to purchase together. The cost could probably be readily raised in each case by selling shares of stock, if a corporation, or bonds of small denomination, or by subscription, either as a gift or loan.

The Chicago Real Estate Exchange wants all other Exchanges to join it in the effort to purchase the plant described above at as small a cost as possible, and invites correspondence. T. C. RIVERA.

FIRES IN HIGH BUILDINGS.

CHIEF SWENIE GIVES SOME PRACTICAL HINTS ON HIGH BUILDINGS BEFORE THE FIRE UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION.

Fire Marshall D. J. Swenie read a paper before the Underwriters' Association in session in Chicago this week on "High Buildings, Their Internal and External Hazard from Fire." We are unable to reproduce the entire paper, but give extracts from it including Chief Swenie's practical suggestions on fireproofing, which will be found valuable. Mr. Swenie said:

When we realize that we have buildings in this city that tower from 150 to 300 feet, and that a fire is liable to occur in the topmost stories of such buildings, we are free to admit that we must depend to a great extent upon the skill and practical experience of the architect to assist the firemen in protecting them from destruction by fires, by designing and causing to be erected what we can reasonably regard as fireproof structures. Not alone fire-proof within their four walls, but capable of withstanding the intense heat to which they might be subjected if a fire were raging in adjoining buildings

Taking up first the internal hazard, this will be governed to a great extent by the use to which the building is to be put, whether for offices exclusively, for office and mercantile purposes combined, or exclusively for merchandise. The two last named classes may be disposed of once for all with the statement that no style of construction and no building material have ever come under my observation which will render fire-proof a building filled with inflammable goods. In a building of the class under discussion a fire in a room or floor filled with goods might in a very short time gain such a headway as to seriously imperil the entire structure by the expansion, warping or twisting of the iron or steel frame-work, and with such a state of facts existing 150 or 300 feet above the ground it would be next to impossible to do effective work. No building to be used in whole or in part for the storage or sale of merchandise should exceed in any event 125 feet in height, and might with advantage be much less.

High office buildings, the Chief says, are to a reasonable degree fire-proof, provided that in the material used and the method of construction every precaution has been taken to prevent a fire gaining headway. Precautions are especially necessary against the careless smoker, the friction match and electric wires. Electric wire shafts must never be lined with wood. All sweepings and waste paper must at once be burned under the boiler or carried out of the building. Iron columns and other metal framework of the building should be covered at all points with a sufficient thickness of non-combustible material to protect from bending.

No tall building should be erected that does not make use of its own individual side walls, these walls being so constructed and tied to the beams that no falling beam can break them or cause them to fall. These dividing walls should be an absolute barrier against fire and should not be made thin and weak. Architects should remember that this class of buildings is only assailed by a conflagration, and nothing can withstand a conflagration so well as a standing brick wall. Many architects do not think it necessary to tie the beams to the wall, believing that the weight and friction are enough to hold the walls. This may be all right in ordinary cases, but in extraordinary cases, such as the occurrence of a fire, the walls should be held in position as long as possible.

Chief Swenie is further of the opinion that a wall overlooking a lower building should not be left full of openings for windows. Pumps and standpipes should be provided in the buildings, the standpipe to run to the roof with hose attached on each floor. Chemical extinguishers should be provided, and each floor should communicate with the engine-room by an electric call. On exposed exteriors there should be lateral perforated pipes, connected with a standpipe, by means of which a curtain of water could be spread over the sides of the building. At all hours, day and night, at least one elevator in a building should be in service ready for instant use, with some one at hand to run it.

To sum up the whole matter, the modern high building composed of steel or iron frame incased in brick of terra cotta, is as yet an untried experiment so far as its fire-resisting qualities are concerned. There is good ground for the belief that a covering of considerably more than four inches would be necessary to protect the frame from a severe blaze continued for any great length of time; but with substantial, solid brick side walls capable of standing alone, and front and rear covering of sufficient thickness and properly anchored to resist the heat to which they are liable to be exposed, where precautions such as I have noted are taken for the protection of the interior, I think the modern high office building may be regarded as practically fire-proof.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

The Harvey Land Association report that two new and permanent manufacturing industries have just located at Harvey. The Albert D. Major Manufacturing Company for the manufacture of hooks and eyes, and the American Improvement Company of San Francisco, Cal., with a capital of $250,000, that will manufacture improved street sweepers. The president of the company is J. W. Morshead, S. S. Burge, secretary and M. J. Donahoo, treasurer. Both of these industries will locate east of the Illinois Central and south of the Grand Trunk Railway. This last industry makes the fifteenth now located in Harvey, eleven being in active operation.

W. A. Merigold & Co., report that the demand for lots still continues to be good, for actual use; one thing that is noticeable is that the demand is not confined to any particular locality as the following recent sales by them will indicate. For John Scanlan, 50 feet on West Madison street, 100 feet east of 44th street, south front for $3,750; for Dr. A. W Harlan 50 feet on St. Lawrence avenue, 100 feet south of 63th street, east front for $3,250; for W. S. Henry 25 feet on Drexel avenue, 173 feet south of 65th street, west front for $1,600. Northeast corner Flourney and west 44th streets, 75x125 feet, $2,925; southeast corner Flourney and west 44th streets, 75x125 feet, $2,775; north east corner Owasco and west 44th streets, 50x125 feet, $2,250; southeast corner Owasco and west 44th streets 75x125 feet, $2,975; northeast corner Congress and west 44th streets, 50x125 feet, $2,100; northeast corner Lexington and west 44th streets, 75x125 feet, $2,925; 50 feet on west 43d street 325 feet south of 14th street W. F. $1,100; northwest corner Flourney and west 43d streets, 50x120 feet, $2,100; 50 feet on west 41st street just south of 26th street, W. F. $1,000. Residence with 50 feet, lot on west 40th place, south of 30th street, facing east for $2,975; residence with 50 feet, lot on west 41st street south of 30th street facing east for $2,550, northwest corner 31st and west 41st streets 50x115 feet for $1,400; 296 feet on west 36th street just south of Harrison street facing Belt road for $2,500; 25 feet on west 45th place south of Harrison street, E. F., $650; 125 feet on west 40th place, south of 30th street east front, $2,000 75 feet on west 42d place south of 30th street east front, $1053; 50 feet on west 41st street south of 30th street west front, $1,700.

The firm of McAuley & Elliott was dissolved by mutual consent Sept. 22. Mr. Elliott has associated with him as partner, Mr. W. B. Conklin, under the firm name of T. P. Elliott & Co., and the new firm will conduct a general real estate and loan business at Room 1,209 Title and Trust Building. Mr. Conklin was until recently, cashier of the First National Bank of North Platte, Neb.

The Michigan land commissioner Thursday disposed at auction sale of 50,000 acres of agricultural college lands, which have been withheld from the market for the two last years. The price paid runs from $4.50 to $12.50 per acre, $8 being the average. The largest lot, comprising 2,760 acres, went to L. J. Law of Cadillac. Alger, Smith & Co. of Detroit, were the next largest purchasers, taking 1,240 acres. Hardwood lands were not in much demand. Four-fifths of the sales were of Wexford county pine lands.

It is reported that Evanston is to have a $300,000 apartment building. E. P. Read & Co. have incorporated an Apartment House company. The structure will be erected on the lake shore.

The Board of Education has asked the Council for a number of new school buildings, and the school committee of the Council has decided to recommend for confirmation three of the buildings at once. The buildings are an eighteen room school at Cornelia and Hoyne avenues, one of sixteen rooms at West Forty-first and Fourteenth streets, and a four-room building at McAuley avenue and Hirsch street.

BOULEVARD ASSESSMENTS.

A conflict of opinion has arisen over the assessment attempted to be levied by the West Side Park Commissioners for the maintenance, repairs and cleaning of the West Side boulevards. The contest has centered especially on Ashland and Jackson boulevards, and about one hundred property-owners representing those boulevards appeared before the Park Commissioners Tuesday afternoon. Jackson boulevard has only recently been completed, and the property-owners along that street are outraged at the idea of having to pay extra assessments for the maintenance of the boulevard. The assessment levied amounts to fifty cents a front foot, and the excuse given for the assessment is that the treasury of the Board is empty and that no money is available for the cleaning and repairing of the boulevards and mowing the lawns. To the objection that the residents on Washington boulevard have not paid any assessments for improvements for thirteen years the Commissioners say that this is the result of a mistake in the plans for the establishment of Washington boulevard and that the residents of that boulevard would be assessed just as the others would be as soon as it is put in first-class condition.

As to the legal aspect of the case Attorney Francis A. Riddle said that by an act of Legislature of 1879, the board was empowered to establish the boulevards but that the property-owners were not liable beyond the first assessment. By an amendment to this act, passed in 1885, the board was given the power to levy additional assessments. In 1887 more legislation was enacted by which the power for assessment vested in the board by the act of 1885 was repealed. "Many lawyers are of the opinion that this amendment is invalid because of its faulty construction and its reference to the original bill by the wrong title." On this technicality Mr. Riddle gave it as his opinion that the board had the authority to make the levy.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Another decision in favor of the city as against the railroads has been rendered in the Illinois courts. Judge Brentano has decided that the city has a right to open Homan avenue across the right of way of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad by condemnation proceedings. The Railroad company sought to have the petition dismissed on the ground that the price of the land could not be agreed upon. A further objection was made that the petition described the company's land as a "right of way" when they claimed a fee simple title in the property. Both these points were very properly overruled by the judge, who evidently has no sympathy with the attempts of railroad attorneys to obstruct public improvements by purely dilatory tactics.

The statistics of industrial insurance in this country are wonderful. By industrial insurance is known that form of life insurance which appeals most strongly to the poorer classes because its premiums are small and payments required weekly. The senior industrial insurance company in this country has been in existence only sixteen years, yet it has 1,366,000 policy holders insured for a total of $157,560,348 with an annual premium income of $6,413,283. The Metropolitan Life has been still more prosperous, though younger than the Prudential. It has 2,281,- 641 policy holders, insured for $258,707,763, with an annual premium income of $10,8 0,373 It is estimated that the entire number of industrial policies now in force are equal to more than one-fourteenth of the entire population of the United States. The average policy is only about $110, the premium on which costs only about four percent a year, or a little over one cent a day. The only wonder is how the system of collections necessary to the successful operation of such a plan can be maintained. But the secret lies in the lapses, which are so numerous as to be the chief source of income to the industrial companies.
